FAIL TO RECAST GERMAN CABINET; MINISTERS QUIT

Mueller, Called Upon to Become Chancellor, Doubts He Can Succeed.

EBERT ALSO SEES LEGIEN

RUHR PEACE PARLEYS OFF

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, March 26.—Both the German Federal and the Prussian Cabinets have resigned after trying vainly for two days to replace a number of compromised members by new men.

About noon, after Chancellor Bauer had presented the resignation, President Ebert commissioned Herrmann Müller, the Foreign Secretary, to form a new Cabinet, but the latter asked to be excused, fearing his appointment as Chancellor would not suit either the Centrists or the Democrats.

Ebert then conferred with the trades union leader, Legien, who may now form a Cabinet with or without Centrists and Democrats, or either. He also hopes to induce Independent Socialists to become members of the Cabinet.

Most popular, perhaps, would be a Cabinet by new and energetic men of the three parties which have been heretofore responsible for the Government, but there seems a lack of men willing to take the responsibility.

Reconstruction of the old Cabinet became impossible on account of the Socialists' fierce objection to Director Cuno of the Hamburg-American Line as Minister of Finance and the retention of Shiffer because of his alleged willingness to negotiate with Kapp's Government.

Late this afternoon it was stated at the Chancellery that if all other efforts failed President Ebert would ask Scheidemann to form a new Cabinet.

Franz Krüger, until recently chief clerk in President Ebert's offices, was asked by Herr Leinert, President of the Prussian National Convention, to form a new Prussian Cabinet. Though only 33 years old, Krüger is a very able man. He resigned only a few days ago because Ebert refused to drop Noske, even after Krüger represented that the Socialist Party unanimously desired a new man as War Minister.

Labor Cabinet Rejected.

March 25.—There have been long deliberations on reforming the Cabinet between the Independent Socialists and Majority Socialists on the one side and Democrats and Centrists on the other. The Independent Socialists held out persistently for a purely labor Cabinet, while the Centrists and Democrats just as persistently refused to entertain any such proposal, because neither had labor men to fill all the important positions, nor would such a Government, it was argued, be able to gain the confidence of America and the Entente. The two parties named declared, however, their readiness to make room in the Cabinet for a few Independent Socialists. This proposal was refused.

BERLIN, March 26 (Associated Press).—Vorwärts announces that in deference to the unanimous wish of the entire Social Democrat Party Herr Müller has consented to form a new Ministry.

The resignation of the Bauer Cabinet, it is said, was due to pressure from the Labor Federation, which has been extremely discontented with the Government's attitude since its return from Stuttgart. It is stated that Labor will have a strong voice in the new Cabinet.

RUHR SITUATION, GRAVE, SAYS SEECKT

Red Army There as in Russia, He Declares—Peace Negotiation Have Failed.

BERLIN, March 26 (Associated Press).—Major Gen. von Seeckt, commander of the Government forces, declared the situation in the Ruhr region to be very serious in the course of an interview with the correspondent of the Tageblatt today.

Negotiations at Bielefeld between Government emissaries and workers had been to no purpose, he said, and there had been no negotiations whatever with the Communists.

"There exists in the Ruhr region a Red army as in Russia," General von Seeckt continued, "and these well-equipped and well-led men will make use of all the experience gained during the war."

With reference to the German army in general, the commander said:

"We must not forget that a professional army, or, as one might call it, a pretorian army, has been imposed on us by the Peace Treaty. Such an army is devoid of danger only when it forms an integral part of the community. Officers and men must be educated to understand that for Germany the only possible course is peaceable, democratic development."

This statement is held to represent views that have become common in lib-

America Expresses Sympathy for Ebert's Anti-Anarchy Fight

LONDON, March 26.—The representative of the United States in Berlin presented to the German Foreign Minister yesterday a statement expressing the sympathy of the American Government with the efforts of the German Government in its fight against military reaction and anarchy, according to a Reuter dispatch from Berlin.

The statement is quoted as saying that the American Government hoped for a resumption of work and trade in Germany and that the United States would deeply regret destruction of industrial order which would hinder measures of assistance planned by the Allies.

SOLOMON ARRESTED AS POLICE NIP RIOT

MASS MEETING DISPERSED

Three Other New York Labor Leaders Who Spoke Taken Into Custody.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—Four New York labor leaders were arrested on charges of inciting to riot and 1,500 members of labor organizations were dispersed by the police with clubs when they descended on a mass meeting held in the Labor Lyceum Hall tonight to protest against the action of the New York Assembly in trying to unseat the five Socialist Assemblymen.

Among those arrested was one of these Socialist Assemblymen, Charles Solomon. The others were Joseph P. Cannon, a member of the Executive Board, Mining Department, American Federation of Labor, who is accused of making seditious utterances against the government; Royal W. France, a New York attorney, and G. August Gerber, of 154 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City.

They will be arraigned for a hearing before Magistrate McCleary tomorrow morning on charges preferred against them by Detectives Cella, Smith and Sheaffer of the Anti-bomb Squad.

According to the story told by Detective Cella, the three detectives were assigned to the meeting to see that no seditious utterances were made and that order was preserved. A detail of police was also at the meeting hall to preserve order.

"Cannon's bitter denunciation and vile epithets hurled against the President of the United States caused us to interfere," said Cella. "I stepped up on the platform and told him to stop making such utterances. Solomon, the New York Assemblyman, jumped to his feet and cried to the audience:

"'They won't let us continue the meeting. Will you permit them to stop us?'

"Cries of 'No, No' shook the hall and then I went over to the switchboard to put out the lights. Solomon seized me and I shook him off. I put out the big lights, leaving only the small lights on the stage and along the walls burning. By that time a number of men in the audience started to climb up on the stage and I called to the police to defend themselves against those who were rushing toward them. They drew their clubs and cleared the hall."

"The crowds piled down the streets and the police kept after them. We then dispersed the crowds in the streets, but they didn't wait for us to chase them. Most of them needed no invitation to run. We then brought our prisoners to City Hall."

Detective Lieut. Andrew J. Emmanuel said tonight that Philadelphia cannot be used as a "good thing" by labor agitators and radicals who are not permitted to disturb the peace.

"We will go the limit to prosecute such cases as these," he said. "Only those persons will be permitted to speak whose names appear on the permit granted by Superintendent of Police Mills, and then they can only speak so long as they abide by the laws."

BANDITS ROB STANDARD OIL.

Three roughly dressed youths at noon yesterday entered the one-story frame building at 610 West Forty-sixth Street, occupied as a gasoline pumping station by the Standard Oil Company, and, while two of them pointed pistols at Adolph Prisner, the cashier, and three other employes, the third bandit grabbed up $500 from a cash box.

Then the youths backed to the street, and, after warning the employes not to attempt an outcry, they jumped into an automobile, and escaped.

BORAH SEES PLOT TO BUY NOMINATION FOR PRESIDENCY

Charges That War Profiteers Are Giving Heavily to Control Both Conventions.

NAMES WOOD AND LOWDEN

MOSES DENOUNCES CHARGES

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Charges that war profiteers had combined to control the national conventions of both the Republican and Democratic Parties this year through the use of money were made by Senator Borah in a speech in the Senate today. "A saturnalia of corruption" was in prospect as a result, declared Mr. Borah. "A national peril" was impending and "a public scandal" of the gravest sort was in the making.

Senator Borah paid particular attention to the pre-convention campaigns of General Wood and Governor Lowden, but promised that later he would become specific regarding his general charge that Democratic candidates and their supporters had used money as "unconscionably" as he charged the Republicans had.

Immediate remedy was demanded, Mr. Borah said in introducing a bill to limit the expenditures of aspirants to the Presidential nomination in any party to $10,000 for any one State, and providing for publicity as to contributions. He expressed the hope that his bill might be passed in time to be effective thirty days before the Chicago convention, which will meet on June 8.

Senator Borah's declaration that at least two of the Democrats who would like the Presidential nomination have been using large sums caused Senator Ashurst of Arizona to demand that Mr. Borah name them. The Senator promised to do so later, and suggested that Mr. Ashurst co-operate with him in exposing candidates in whose behalf large sums were used.

"If I knew of any such in the Democratic Party I would name them," said Senator Ashurst. "Indeed, if I knew of any Democrat who wanted a third term I would name him and would say I was opposed to the idea."

"Does the Senator not know of any such Democrat?" asked Senator Borah.

"No, do you?" was the answer.

Tells of a Letter.

"If the Senator from Arizona had seen a letter I saw this morning he would know, and, anyway, I did not know the Senator was blessed with such innocence. I didn't think any one from Arizona was," said Mr. Borah.

The letter referred to was that sent to members of Congress and others by Charles C. Hughes, of the Tariff Reform League, advocating another term for Wilson and Marshall and soliciting subscriptions for a publication to advance their candidacy.

After introducing his bill, which was read and referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, Senator Borah said his intention in drawing it was primarily to obtain publicity as to campaign contributions to be used in the pre-convention campaigns.

"I aim at publicity rather than criminal action, though the bill provides for both," he said. "Recent developments in the campaign have been such that Congress must take some note of them.

"For the last ten years the use of money in campaigns has been increasing, but this year it has grown so astoundingly that it promises to make 1920 a perfect saturnalia of corruption."

"Congress takes a long time to pass bills. Would not a resolution of investigation accomplish the purpose more quickly?" asked Senator Kenyon.

Wants Quick Action.

"I recognize that it takes time to get legislation," replied Mr. Borah. "I would favor such a resolution. But I believe it is entirely possible to get a bill passed that would be effective thirty days before the Republican National Convention at Chicago in June. Congress cannot afford to delay this matter. Neither can those persons at whose door has been laid charges of huge expenditures afford to remain silent. If they do, the result will be public condemnation, no matter what party they belong to.

"My observation is that investigations usually die out for lack of interest and the circumstances are forgotten."

Senator Nelson inquired whether the expenditures to which Senator Borah referred had anything to do with the high cost of living, and Mr. Borah replied that by studying recent events in Minnesota, where a primary election was held this month, Mr. Nelson might discover some relationship.

Austrian Avalanche Kills Movie Actress; Others Hurt Enacting a Mimic Tragedy

GENEVA, March 26.—Hermione Koller, a well-known German moving picture actress of Dresden, was killed, and several other actors and actresses were injured yesterday near Innsbruck in the upper slopes of the Wildgratz Mountain, when an imitation avalanche which was to envelop the group developed into a real one, according to a report received here.

Mountain scenes were being taken by a German film company at an altitude of 9,700 feet. One was to depict a party of eleven persons being buried by an avalanche. Just as the picture was about to be taken a real avalanche came down the mountain side and buried the company, killing Fräulein Koller and seriously injuring several others.

Report Secret Offer of Throne to Charles by Hungary's Regent

GENEVA, March 26 (Associated Press).—Admiral Horthy, the Regent of Hungary, has secretly but officially offered the Hungarian throne to former Emperor Charles, with the assurance that everything has been arranged for the return of the Hapsburg monarchy, with the consent of the majority of the population, according to information from Prangins, where the ex-Emperor lives.

Admiral Horthy, it is declared, has invited the former ruler to come to Budapest as soon as possible, adding that the question with the Allies in connection with the move could be best arranged from the Hungarian capital.

The ex-Emperor is said to be apparently hesitating as to his course, and has not left Prangins.

REPUBLICANS LIMIT PEACE RESOLUTION

FEAR CONSTITUTIONAL BARS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—In an informal conference of members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and Republican leaders in Congress it was decided today to report a simple resolution to the House early next week declaring the war with Germany at an end.

Before he left for a brief vacation Senator Lodge agreed to the form of the resolution which he thinks would meet the approval of the Senate. It does not carry any of the provisions of Senator Knox's resolution regarding peace terms. As the President has full authority under the Constitution to negotiate peace, the resolution will not call upon Germany to be bound by the terms of the Versailles treaty.

In the opinion of constitutional authorities, Congress, which declares war by a joint resolution, can declare it at an end, provided this action does not trespass upon the province of the Chief Executive regarding peace negotiations.

Some members of the Foreign Affairs Committee desired to have the resolution carry a proviso that all wartime regulations should came automatically to an end with its passage by Congress and its approval by the President. But it has been decided to avoid any reference to wartime regulations in this resolution. They will be abolished by separate bills if the President signs the peace resolution.

Unless the President should exert his influence against the adoption of such a resolution it is predicted that it would be accepted by the House by a large majority. The same sentiment exists in the Senate, and the plan of the Republican leaders is to force through the resolution by April 15. In the House not much trouble is expected, even against possible opposition by the President, but with the President opposed to such a procedure it is doubtful whether it can be passed as speedily in the Senate, and it would be impossible to pass it over the President's veto.

The President will be asked as to his views by Democratic House leaders. One report is that he will not express any opinion on the resolution in advance of action by Congress.

DENY RHINE GUARANTEE WAS GIVEN TO FRANCE

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—An intimation was given today in an authoritative quarter that the statement made by André Tardieu that President Wilson agreed that France should have the right of indefinite occupation of German territory if the Senate failed to ratify the Franco-American defensive treaty was incorrect. No definite denial was issued, but the inference from what was said was that nothing was known here of any such arrangement.

M. Tardieu, the former French High Commissioner to the United States, was one of the French Peace Commissioners. In an article published in Paris he said that in April, 1919, President Wilson agreed with Premier Clemenceau that in the event of the non-ratification of the Franco-American pact France should be entitled to indefinite occupation of the Rhine.

According to the narrative given today it was held originally by Premier Lloyd George and President Wilson that France should receive no further protection than that to which she was entitled under the treaty of peace, but it was later decided that, in view of the peculiar situation of France, further protective measures were advisable. To meet this need the tripartite defensive agreement was decided upon whereby the assistance of Great Britain and the United States was to be guaranteed to France against Germany for a five-year period. So far as is known here, it is said, there exists no agreement which would entitle France to indefinite occupation of the Rhine in the event that the protection thus provided should fail of ratification.

DRAG MAGISTRATE FROM DUBLIN CAR; SHOOT HIM DOWN

ASSASSINS THEN ESCAPE

REPORT OTHER SHOOTINGS

LONDON, March 26.—Alan Bell, 70 years of age, resident Magistrate who presided over the inquiry into dealings of the Sinn Fein with Irish banks, was dragged from a tram car in Dublin at 10 o'clock this morning by a gang of armed men, variously reported as numbering four to twelve, some of whom were masked, and was shot four times in cold blood before the eyes of the passengers.

A dispatch from Dublin later said that thirty-five prominent Sinn Feiners were arrested today. Five unknown men with passports for America were arrested on the point of embarkation for the United States this afternoon.

Magistrate Bell was on the way from his residence, in Monkstown, to Dublin Castle when the tram car in which he was riding was held up at Ball's Bridge, and masked men pulled him from the car and killed him at the roadside. The body was taken to a hospital, where it was found the murdered man had been shot through the head.

The passengers on the tram car from which the Magistrate was taken were paralyzed with horror at the suddenness of the tragedy, the shooting occurring only a few yards from the car.

The assassins were traveling on the same tramway as the Magistrate before the murder.

After the shooting occurred some of the passengers rushed to the scene. They called a fire brigade ambulance, which was soon on the spot and removed the body.

It is recalled that in 1882, while he was a Police Inspector in Athenry, Galway, Magistrate Bell arrested Henry George, the American writer, who was traveling in Ireland with J. L. Joynes, an Eton Master.

Victim Had Not Time to Shoot.

Magistrate Bell usually was accompanied by a detective, but so far as is known the detective was not present this morning. The Magistrate was armed but had no opportunity to shoot.

Aside from his investigation of the Irish banks under the Crimes act, Magistrate Bell investigated the recent attempt on the life of the Lord Lieutenant, Viscount French, and other matters.

Early in March the authorities summoned the bankers as witnesses before Magistrate Bell, ordering them to produce such documents as might relate to dealings between their banks and the Sinn Fein organizations and also with the Dail Eireann, or "Irish republican parliament." The inquiry, which was strictly private, opened at Dublin on March 3. The bankers refused to reveal their accounts and the investigation was dropped.

Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has written to the widow of Magistrate Bell: "Your gallant and distinguished husband has crowned a life of devoted and valuable services to Ireland by his noble death in fighting the cause of his country."

The body of a young, well-dressed man was found today in a field at Banoge Bridge, near Newcastle, West Dublin. The man had been shot to death. His identity has not been established.

There have been three attacks on policemen in different parts of Ireland during the last three days, two of the policemen being dangerously wounded. One of them was a young man returning home after enlisting in the constabulary.

Two constables of a patrol at Kilfenora, County Clare, in Munster province, were fired on last night, according to advices received today. One of the constables was badly wounded. No arrests were made.

An inquest at Dublin today on the unknown man killed Wednesday evening, revealed that he was a clerk at army headquarters. Dublin gossip says he was engaged in secret service work.

Despite placards all over Ireland, offering £10,000 reward and Government protection for information, no one has been convicted for any of the assassinations, many of which have occurred in daylight in the presence of numerous witnesses.

Feeling still runs high in Cork over the murder of Lord Mayor MacCurtain. Several witnesses at the inquest attempted to connect the police with the murder, and the Sinn Feiners profess to believe the killing was in revenge for the slaying of a policeman in Cork a few hours before the Lord Mayor was murdered.

Parliament Debates Situation.

The House of Commons today discussed the case of Alderman William O'Brien, leader of the transport workers, who is in jail. He is said to be conducting a hunger strike and in dan-

TWO NEW YORK GRAND JURIES TO SIFT VICE GRAFT COUNTER CHARGES MADE BY SMITH AND INSPECTOR HENRY

300 Disorderly Houses in 30-Block Area In Inspector Henry's District, Smith Charges

Assistant District Attorney Smith, asserting that Inspector Henry's charges were inspired by fear of indictment, said:

"In Henry's district, in ten blocks north and south and three blocks east and west, there are more than 300 disorderly houses. In 1919 300 arrests were made in his district by the men of Inspector McDonald's squad and 250 were made by Chief Inspector Daly's men over his head. The whole trouble with them is that we have got them against the wall—with the goods."

Inspector Henry's affidavits involved a charge against his superior officer, Chief Inspector John Daly. Inspector Henry asserted that when he succeeded, on Jan. 23, 1918, to the command of the Fourth Inspection District, he found it overrun with criminals and vice. The records of the Police Department showed that Daly was in charge of this district until Henry took command there.

Efforts were made to obtain a reply from Chief Inspector Daly at Police Headquarters, but he was reported ill at home. At his home at 217 East 202d Street he was said to be out.

33,000 DWELLINGS WAIT CITY TENANTS

Most of Them Could Be Altered to Suit Those Not Too Proud to Move In.

MANY ARE ON EAST SIDE

While a minute search of the city is being made at the instigation of Mayor Hylan for all vacant lofts where the furniture of homeless citizens may be stored, there are 18,000 vacant tenements and 15,000 vacant single family houses in New York City that might give shelter to thousands of victims of profiteering landlords, according to Edward P. Doyle, representing the Real Estate Board. Mr. Doyle gave these figures to a reporter for THE TIMES yesterday afternoon following his appearance before the Board of Estimate, whose attention was called to these thousands of vacant tenements and dwellings. The board was asked to start a move for the amendment of the tenement house laws which would give private contractors wider latitude in undertaking to remodel them.

These vacant tenements are available in practically all parts of the city, but the greatest number is on the east side, according to Mr. Doyle. There are many of them on the lower west side, in the Greenwich Village section, and likewise they are to be found in Harlem and the Bronx.

Tenements Need Remodelling.

The reason that 18,000 tenements are now vacant, said Mr. Doyle, was because, as they stand, they are uninhabitable. Practically all are without water systems, except for standpipes in the ground floor, and their former tenants were put to the necessity of going from upper floors to the ground floor to get their water for cooking purposes, as well as for family washing and bathing purposes.

Very few of these tenements are provided with means of sanitation. In most cases the toilets are entirely outside the buildings, though in a few the toilets are in the hallways. Mr. Doyle cited the case of one landlord who had five tenement houses which were vacant because prospective tenants would not consider living in places where the toilets were in the hallways. Mr. Doyle contends however, that they could be reconstructed at least to furnish a temporary shelter for homeless people during the present stringency, and that it is far better to have such people housed than thrown on the streets.

Figures gathered by the Real Estate Board show that there are now in the City of New York 60,000 apartments in which more than one family is living. As a usual thing these double families consist of six adults and six children. With no improvement in the building situation in sight, conditions are expected to be far worse next Winter, because the city's population is growing at the rate of 125,000 yearly.

Factory Boom in Queens.

That the housing situation will be more acute next Winter is indicated by conditions in Queens, Mr. Doyle said. In the last two years $21,000,000 has been spent in the construction of new factories. These factories will draw thousands of new workers into that section of the city, and they must be housed. It is estimated that for every dollar spent in the erection of new factories four dollars must be spent for housing facilities. This would mean that $84,000,000 would have to be spent for houses solely for the new factory workers who are swarming into Queens.

The people who have deserted the tenements, according to Mr. Doyle, are the unskilled workers of the lowest paid class of former times. They lived in wretched conditions simply because they were forced to. Now they are making good wages, and the longshoremen, for instance, who are earning much more than they formerly did, are demanding more modern places in which to live.

SEEK TRACE OF VENDETTA

Elder Campisi Once Got Threatening Letter, Detectives' Inquiry Reveals.

High police officials and detectives trying to solve the murder of Dr. Vincent J. Campisi and an unidentified Italian in Williamsburg Thursday reached the point last night where they believed they knew the motive of the crime, though they still lacked definite knowledge as to the name of the murderer or that of the second victim.

The police theory, evolved from a more minute dissection of the sparse evidence, is that Dr. Campisi, a moderately well-to-do and a well liked young physician, and the other dead man found in a bare little room in a lodging house at 496 Lorimer Street, were killed by the third mysterious figure in the case, who fled and still is uncaptured.

The two Italians—one now dead and one a fugitive from justice—moved into the Lorimer Street room in furtherance of a deliberate plot to slay Dr. Campisi. Perhaps they hoped to find upon his person a large sum of money, though the few dollars and the gold watch in his possession were undisturbed after the murders. Perhaps they sought him as the logical working out of some ancient Sicilian vendetta, though for a time the physician's long residence in this country was accepted as evidence that he would be free of entanglements of this sort.

Doctor's Father Once Threatened.

From Dr. Campisi's brother, Samuel, it was learned yesterday that nine years ago their father, Joseph Campisi, now dead, received a typical threatening blackhand letter. The elder Campisi was a prosperous shoemaker at 288 Stagg Street. He took precautions for awhile, but, though he never paid the sum demanded, he was not molested to the day of his death.

The assumption that the two men moved near Dr. Campisi for the deliberate purpose of murdering him was strengthened by several facts elicited in examinations led by Inspector John J. Cray, head of the Detective Bureau; Capt. Arthur Carey, head of the Homicide Squad; Capt. John Coughlin, leader of Brooklyn detectives, and members of the Italian squad. These men learned that the unidentified dead man on the bed in the ugly little cubicle where the murders occurred was not strangled, as was believed at first. When the body was turned over several stab wounds were found in the back. An autopsy showed he died from them. There is no plausible reason for believing that Dr. Campisi had or used a weapon, and thus the postulate that Dr. Campisi killed the other man and, in turn, was slain by his companion seemed to be disposed of.

Next the detectives learned that Dr. Campisi met death not on his first, but on his second visit to the men's room. He went there on the night of March 24, prescribed for one of the men supposed to be suffering from indigestion and a prescription for this man under the name of John Valli actually was filled at a drug store conducted by Morroco Brothers at 191 Montrose Avenue, Brooklyn. The bottle was found in the room. The Morroco Brothers looked at the dead man and were sure it was not he who brought the prescription to be compounded. Thus it would seem that the third man took it to the drug store.

The room itself, furnished with a single bed and with the rickety bureau in it empty of clothing, was accepted as evidence that the two men did not engage it with the intention of occupying it long, that they picked it out rather because they liked its location and its seclusion, which fitted their purpose.

The one big question that confronted the police in building up this theory was "Why was the second man killed,

MANY SUBPOENAS ISSUED

INQUIRY OPENS NEXT WEEK

SMITH IS NOT ALARMED

The Extraordinary Grand Jury, which has persevered against obstacles for more than eight months in its pursuit of the "overshadowing crime" alleged to have been committed by certain public officials in this city, will begin early next week an investigation of the charges of Inspector Dominick Henry against Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith. At the same time the regular Grand Jury will take up the charges made by Smith, who predicted the indictment of high police officials and asserted the Police Department was more corrupt today than ever before in history.

The Extraordinary Grand Jury has been provided with special counsel by Governor Smith and Attorney General Newton for the specific purpose of investigating charges against Assistant District Attorneys James E. Smith, John T. Dooling and E. P. Kilroe. It was planned to begin next week by investigating the report that a prominent gambler had paid $40,000 to escape justice after he had shot a policeman raiding his gambling house, but the Henry affidavits, charging that Assistant District Attorney Smith had plotted to sell protection to gambling houses, took precedence over everything else yesterday.

Several Subpoenas Issued.

Several subpoenas have been sent out for witnesses to appear before the Extraordinary Grand Jury. Colonel William Rand, Jr., partner of former District Attorney William Travers Jerome, is preparing the case against Mr. Smith and the other accused Assistant District Attorneys. Foreman Raymond F. Almirall of the Extraordinary Grand Jury said:

"The Extraordinary Grand Jury will most certainly take up the charges made by Inspector Henry, and it is ready to proceed when Colonel Rand is ready."

While Assistant District Attorney Smith is being investigated in one group of rooms in the Criminal Courts Building, he will be placing before the other Grand Jury in another part of the building the evidence on which he asserts that one or more of the high officials of the Police Department will be indicted. Mr. Smith yesterday exhibited a new book, bound in red, containing 350 pages, which he said contained reports and records concerning Inspector Henry and other police officials, with a directory of gambling and disorderly houses said to be enjoying immunity. Mr. Smith said the book contained references to Police Commissioner Enright and Second Deputy Police Commissioner William J. Lahey.

Sure of Another Indictment.

"Are you sure there will be an indictment of another high police official?" he was asked.

"Just as sure as you are sitting here," he said.

Dennis Quinn, brother-in-law of Mr. Smith, who was accused in the Henry affidavits of acting as an intermediary for Smith and taking to Inspector Henry a proposal to allow a few gambling and disorderly resorts to run upon payment of money to be divided by Smith and Henry, appeared at the Criminal Courts Building yesterday morning and made a vehement denial of the charges against him.

"I never met Inspector Dominick Henry in my life," he said. "His charges are absolute lies. I have consulted a lawyer and will bring proceedings for criminal libel."

Because of the fact that Quinn is an employe of the Controller's Department of the City of New York Commissioner of Accounts David Hirshfield took cognizance yesterday of the charges involving him and called Quinn to his office, where the latter repeated his denial that he ever had approached Henry with a proposal to pool the influence of the District Attorney's office and Police Department, bribe the press and collect graft on a large scale from illegal resorts.

Quotes Attack on Smith.

Commissioner Hirshfield at the same time made public a statement quoting Harry S. Goldwater as having made charges at an investigation in 1918 that Smith twelve years ago had acted in concert with him in running the Civitas Club as a gambling resort. This charge was made in the Henry affidavit and denied by Smith.

District Attorney Swann and Assistant District Attorney Smith were disappointed yesterday by their failure to obtain the release for publication of the testimony of Inspector Dominick Henry before the Extraordinary Grand Jury last January in the course of that body's investigation of Mr. Smith. Inspector Henry was repprted to have stated under oath that he knew of no official wrongdoing on the part of the Assistant District Attorney.

Without directly asserting the Grand Jury minutes would prove that Henry had spoken in the highest terms of Smith and had given him a certificate of good character with that body, Mr. Swann said he was extremely anxious to have Henry's testimony made public, for the light it would cast on the charges in the Inspector's affidavits.

Says Mayor Knew of Charges.

Mr. Swann said Inspector Henry had been in his office forty times in the last two years and had never breathed a word against Mr. Smith. He said also that correspondence which had passed between Mayor Hylan and Commissioner Enright showed that those two officials were familiar with the Henry charges.

"Did Police Commissioner Enright ever notify you of these charges against Mr. Smith?" he was asked.

"Never."

"Did Mayor Hylan?"

"No, he never did."

"Have you discussed the matter with the Mayor at all?"

Mr. Swann at first refused to discuss the Henry charges, saying:

"Do you think that it is at all needed for the intelligent reader?"

After parrying one or two questions, however, he changed his mind, invited reporters into his office and said:

"You will remember that my stipulation was for all the minutes of the Grand Jury to be filed, or none. You will observe the necessity for this, because Inspector Henry was one of the witnesses, and it was because the Grand Jury had in its possession the original affidavits, of which those printed today were copies."

When this statement was questioned, Mr. Swann said:

"Well, at any rate, they had the letters from the Mayor's files that contained the same identical things. The same stuff, exactly."

The correspondence between the Mayor and Commissioner Enright is reported to be one of the causes of estrangement between District Attorney Swann and Mayor Hylan. Mayor Hylan and Commissioner Enright are said to have discussed by letter Mr. Swann's reported ambition to be elected Governor and to have considered this alleged ambition as the inspiration of the sensational raids conducted by the District Attorney's office.

"I asked Colonel Rand," said Mr. Swann, "if he would give me a copy of just two pages of the testimony taken before the Extraordinary Grand Jury when Henry was under examination in reference to what he knew, if anything, about James E. Smith. Colonel Rand said he would have to confer with Justice Weeks first."

After hearing that newspaper men had asked Justice Weeks if these minutes could be released and that Justice Weeks had declined, Mr. Swann said:

"Wait a minute, I will send Jim Smith down now to talk to Justice Weeks and see if he won't let us have the two pages."

Sends Smith to Justice.

The District Attorney hurried to the office of his assistant and told Smith to hurry and see Justice Weeks before the latter left the building. Judge Swann returned to his office at once, where he was asked if the Henry affidavits afforded any basis for criminal charges against anybody. The District Attorney picked up copies of the affidavits, which were sent to him yesterday by Inspector Henry and by Mayor Hylan.

"Well, let us see," he said. "Let us take the affidavit concerning the Boyle woman. I am not quite sure of the name, but I believe this is the case I have in mind. Henry charges that Jim Smith asked to have her protected. The facts are that Mr. Smith came to me and said that this woman, who certainly had a bad record, had nevertheless been of great benefit to the State by her testimony in some important cases and that she was trying to lead a clean life. He said that the police were hounding the life out of her, going into her restaurant, making a scene, warning her customers away and destroying her business.

"I said that it sounded to me like a very meritorious case, and told him to take it up with the police and explain the circumstances. I did not know that he had taken it up with Henry, however. I thought that he had gone to the Commissioner. There is nothing in this, as far as I can see, which presents any grounds for a charge."

"Did you ever hear, as Inspector Henry charges, that the rooms over her restaurant were being used for illegal purposes?"

"No; I never heard of that. That is news to me."

Reading on a little further in the affidavits, Mr. Swann came to the quotation of the statement reflecting on Captain Daniel Costigan.

"This is simply absurd," said Judge Swann. "It isn't worthy of notice, this statement that Costigan could be controlled by any one. Such a statement refutes itself, as do most of the other statements."

Reading the affidavit charging that Dennis Quinn, the brother-in-law of Smith, had approached Henry with the proposal of Smith to sell protection to a few gaming and disorderly resorts, Mr. Swann said:

"That is alleged to have occurred a year ago. I never heard anything of it until I read it in the paper today. I have seen Henry during that period forty times, and he has never suggested to me at any time any of the things he mentioned in these affidavits. He never mentioned Quinn. I never knew that Smith had a brother-in-law of that name.

"As for the charges involving the Civitas Club," said Mr. Swann, "I believe that all the questions regarding it were asked and answered before the Grand Jury.

Would Remove Henry.

"From my standpoint it (Henry's attack) is all so intrinsically false and weak, and so plainly made for an ulterior purpose, that the proper treatment of the matter, to my mind, is disciplinary action by the Commissioner of Police. It shows that Henry is disqualified for holding the office of Inspector, or any other office in the Police Department. I think it is a case for the removal of a man who would pretend that for two years he knew these things and kept them secret.

"If these statements are true, it was the duty of Henry to have immediately informed the District Attorney or to have gone himself to the City Magistrate's Court and asked for the arrest of the persons who approached him."

"Are you going to urge Commissioner Enright to take action?"

"No, that is for the Mayor to do. The Mayor has got all of these things in his possession."

After consultation with one of his subordinates, District Attorney Swann said that the statements recited in the affidavit regarding the conversation of Quinn with Henry might constitute attempted bribery. Turning again to the affidavits, he noted the statement attributed to Assistant District Attorney Smith that "Swann was flirting with the Rockefeller interests," and said:

"Well, many things might be said about what the Rockefeller people are doing but you could hardly connect them up with the gambling interests and vice."

Likens Charges to Wind.

Mr. Swann was asked if Henry's failure to take action against Quinn and Smith when they are alleged to have proposed to sell protection to gamblers and divide the profits constituted neglect of duty, the charge on which former Second Deputy Commissioner Porter was indicted.

"I had not considered that," he replied. "The whole thing is this: I am so convinced and impressed with the complete honesty of purpose and personal integrity of Mr. Smith that these matters are as the idle wind, which I regard not."

"You don't consider that these charges constitute the basis for a criminal charge against Mr. Smith?"

"I do not."

In the meantime Assistant District Attorney Smith was conferring with Supreme Court Justice Weeks, who denied the request for the publication of the testimony of Inspector Henry, which is said to have exculpated Smith. Justice Weeks said that as he had ruled two months ago that no minutes regarding uncompleted investigations should be made public, he could not make an exception to that ruling because of the present controversy without being extremely inconsistent.

Mr. Swann, Assistant District Attorney Alfred J. Talley and other members of his staff looked up the law on perjury to find out if a proceeding could be started against Inspector Henry because of his alleged statement that he knew of nothing against Smith, which statement was subsequent to his series of affidavits during the last two years making grave charges against Smith. Mr. Swann said that no progress could be made in this inquiry until he could see the text of Inspector Henry's character testimony in favor of Smith.

Inspector Henry, it was reported, will probably be one of the early witnesses called before the Extraordinary Grand Jury in its investigation of Smith and probably will be called on to explain the conflict between the black picture of Smith in his affidavits and the idealized conception of Smith said to be sketched in his testimony.

The delay of Inspector Henry in making use of his affidavits against the Asssistant District Attornev was emphasized both by Mr. Smith and Judge Swann as a circumstance tending to discredit the Henry charges. "Why did he wait until he thought he was about to be indicted before springing them?" asked Mr. Smith.

Henry Declines to Comment.

Inspector Henry refused yesterday to contribute further to the discussion. Although the District Attorney's office and the Police Department had been on bad terms for several months, it was reported that efforts had been made to prevent an outbreak between them, because of its probable damaging political effect, the District Attorney and Mayor both having been elected by Tammany. Another report was that the story had been spread far and wide in the Tenderloin that there was no real squabble between the District Attorney and the Police Commissioner; that Inspector Henry and "Jim" Smith were really the best of friends under the surface, and that informers who took their stories against the police to the District Attorney's office were being classified as "squealers" and blacklisted both by the police and the District Attorney's vice investigators.

Animus against himself and Captain Daniel Costigan was traced by Mr. Smith to the fact that in April, 1918, Costigan, who was in charge of his "vice squad" and was co-operating with the District Attorney's office, made one of the most sensational raids in years in the district of Captain Henry, capturing the notorious Thomas L. Reynolds, who posed as "Senator Reynolds" in a fine brownstone house in West Sixty-eighth Street, where a fashionable roulette game was conducted.

Mr. Smith asserted that this place had received police protection up to the time that Costigan raided it and sent Reynolds to jail. Soon afterward Commissioner Enright deprived Costigan of his squad and then reduced him from the rank of Inspector.

Regarding Henry's statement that there were no disorderly or gambling houses in his district, Mr. Smith said:

"In Henry's district, in ten blocks north and south and three blocks east and west, there are more than 300 disorderly houses. In 1919 300 arrests were made in his district by the men of Inspector McDonald's squad, and 250 were made by Chief Inspector Daly's men over his head.

"When we captured Reynolds we would not let Henry in on the raid. We raided it over his head. The whole trouble with them is that I have got them against the wall—with the goods.

"Night before last I was conferring at Riverside Drive and Ninety-fourth Street with two men in the Police Department, who were giving me information, when Inspector Henry's men saw me. That is what started this whole thing." Mr. Smith refused to identify the two men or say what they were telling him about.

Fail to Find Inspector Daly.

It was pointed out yesterday that one of Henry's affidavits involved a serious charge against his superior, Chief Inspector John Daly. Inspector Henry asserted that when he succeeded, on Jan. 23, 1918, to the command of the Fourth Inspection District he found it overrun with vice and criminals. The records of the Police Department showed that Daly was in charge of this district until Henry took command there.

When reporters called at Police Headquarters to ask for a reply from Inspector Daly to the charge of Inspector Henry regarding the condition in which Daly had left his district, Daly was said to be sick at his home, 217 East 202d Street. At that address it was said he was not at home. When Inspector Henry was questioned at the West Sixty-eighth Street Station on this and other points, he said:

"I have nothing further to say at this time. When the right times comes I will have something more to say."

Police Commissioner Enright sent out word from his office yesterday that he had nothing to say. The following written questions were sent to him:

"Did Inspector Henry inform you immediately after each meeting he had with the Assistant District Attorney or his emissaries, at which it is alleged that they wanted the Inspector to stand for traffic in vice?

"Did you notify District Attorney Swann of these meetings immediately after each occurrence?

"Will you give us a list of the gambling and disorderly houses suppressed by Inspector Henry in the Fourth Inspection District?"

Commissioner Enright kept the questions, but did not make any reply.

Commissioner of Accounts Hirshfield prefaced a lengthy statement yesterday with the remark that he entered the controversy reluctantly, but under a sense of public duty. He said he investigated Mr. Smith and the Civitas Club in a course of an official inquiry in January, 1918. He said that one witness was a Harry Goldwater, who said that he had hired Smith as his lawyer ten or twelve years ago, telling Smith then that his profession was that of gambling.

Quotes Proposal by Smith.

"I told him I was in the poker business," Goldwater's testimony runs, "and that it was the best graft of any. They could all have their other games, but there was more money in this than anybody had any idea."

Smith then informed him, he said, that he was about to be appointed an Assistant District Attorney by Mr. Whitman and that he would be in a position to help him. Some time after getting the appointment Mr. Smith sent for him, according to his testimony, and said:

"I told you, when I saw you before, that I was going to be made, and I am made. I am going to open up a club on the west side, and I am going to give you a chance to get in."

"No," Goldwater said he replied, "I have been out of this business so long I don't want to get back into the graft."

"If you feel that way about it," Smith is quoted as replying, "don't go in on my account. I can get a thousand others, John Considine, Rachel and others, who would be tickled to death to get into a proposition like this."

"I don't say I want to turn it down," said Goldwater, according to his account," but I want to know the details."

Goldwater said that he finally agreed and opened the Civitas Club, at 256 West 105th Street, which he said was in reality a gambling house. He said he paid rent of $100 a month to Smith, which Smith repaid to the landlord, and that also on two or three occasions he paid extra sums of $100 to Smith in the guise of rent, but that in reality it was profit from the poker table.

Smith, he said, finally ordered him to stop the poker games, saying that he knew what was best. Goldwater said that he stopped for a time but resumed them.

"But the first night I resumed," he said, "two policemen came in and stood over the table from the time we began at 8 o'clock until 2 o'clock in the morning.

"I do not know the names of the two policemen, but they were on Inspector Daly's staff. We did not play any poker while they were there, and they scared the people from playing."

Finally, he said, the members decided to protest to Inspector Daly, in the hope of making him believe it was a legitimate club. The night this conference was to take place, however, he said, Quinn, Smith's brother-in-law, came in and told them that everything had been arranged and that there would be no further trouble from the police. A few minutes later, he said, the telephone rang, the two plain-clothes men were called to the telephone and ordered away, and never appeared there again. Smith, he said, resigned later, stating that he could not afford to continue his connection with the establishment any longer.

Jack Sullivan Case Cited.

One of the questions asked the witness was:

"What was the matter between Smith and Jack Sullivan?" Sullivan was the ex-newsboy who was kept in the Tombs for months on the charge that his statements in favor of Becker were false, but who stayed by his statements and was a witness for Becker at both of his trials for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. In reply to this question the witness said:

"There was talk that Sullivan was going to squeal on Smith. Sullivan now has a club on Grand Street. Sullivan said:

"'Don't you ever worry about Jim Smith tackling you and me. He isn't going after anybody he knows. I know people who have been down to the District Attorney's office in John Doe proceedings.'"

Replying to Commissioner Hirshfield's statement, Mr. Smith said:

"The story told by Goldwater is absolutely false. Goldwater never gave a cent to me or any one else in the Civitas Club. When I was in the club I paid the expenses of running it. I left the club in 1916. I never had anything to do with the club from that day on.

Denies Law Was Violated.

"While I was there everything was conducted according to law. No police officers came there, because there was never any violation of the law. If Goldwater was a gambler, I never knew it. He represented himself to me as a resident buyer for a California house. This simply shows that this man from Brooklyn, whom I would not soil my mouth by mentioning, is now trying to curry favor with the disreputable element in the Police Department."

Regarding the pending investigation of himself by the Extraordinary Grand Jury, Mr. Smith said:

"I dislike to speak about a matter which is before the Grand Jury, but I would be guilty of false modesty if I failed to say that the sooner the charges are sifted the better I will like it. I have nothing to fear.

"Personally, nothing could suit me better than to have this whole situation break open the way it has done. I know the conditions in this city are very bad. This will prove it to everybody."

HOOVER FOR LIMIT ON CONTROL OF FOOD

Thinks Government Should Regulate Concerns Selling More Than a Certain Proportion.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Proportions of a commodity handled by a corporation rather than the concern's size or capital should determine government regulation, Herbert Hoover said in a letter to Representative Anderson, of Minnesota, read today before the House Agriculture Committee in connection with hearings on legislation for the control of the meat packing industry.

"I have long entertained the idea," said Mr. Hoover's letter, "that the real basis for regulation of big business revolves around the proportions of the commodity products involved in such a business rather than any question of capital employed or size of business.

"When businesses grow to an extent that they can control the handling of more than a certain percentage of a given commodity, they then become dangerous to the public interest, and if upon growth beyond that point they were placed under stiff regulation as to profits and other features of their business, the natural tendency of such businesses would be to hold themselves below the official limit. Such a plan of licensing would leave free play of all competitors of moderate size."

"The experience of the Food Administration," the letter added, "showed the very great difficulty of licensing all members of a given trade, big and little, because the degree of regulation imposed of any character upon the big members of a trade may work great hardship upon the little ones, and under some conditions may stimulate the growth of monopoly.

"For instance, we found in the packing trade that if we regulated the big packers down to a point of profits that would seem entirely reasonable we would probably crush out many of the smaller packers and get just the reverse social result that we had hoped to obtain.

"On the plan above suggested, the secondary concerns in a given industry would have entirely free action and could themselves probably compete better by this very freedom. It is a thorny subject and I wish you well with it."

GERMAN ROYALISTS DO AS THEY PLEASE

KAPPISTS ARE ALL FREE

Officers Act as if in Belgium—Bauer Cabinet Denounced for Failure to Punish Rebels.

By GEORGE RENWICK.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, March 25.—A week ago Kapp disappeared and Von Lüttwitz retired cooly to his suburban dwelling. For a week the old Government has been back in its uneasy saddle, but it has not mustered up sufficient courage to take a single effective step against the rebels and upstarts. Herr Bauer declared at Stuttgart on March 18 that Ludendorff was "one of the chief ringleaders" in the militarist coup, but now excuses are being made and ponderous arguments are being produced why it is inadvisable to arrest the General. Von Lüttwitz and Von Trotha are still outside prison.

The only thing the Government has done is to confirm a sentence of a month's imprisonment on Lieutenant Marloh for the part he played in the execution of twenty-nine sailors more than a year ago. The sentence was pronounced last December.

The Kappist officers still do very much what they like everywhere, even in Wilhelmstrasse. Members of the Monarchist Officers' Corps are very much their own government. Soldiers who remained true to the Bauer Government and who now wish to return to their units are shown the door, in some cases arrested and thrown into prison. The same applies to the military police force members in Berlin.

In Nowawes monarchist officers from Potsdam today indulged in a most provocative coup. Nowawes is an outlying suburb of Berlin, near Potsdam. During the fateful week it remained perfectly peaceful. Captain von Dehardt, a notorious monarchist officer who commands at Potsdam, moved a strong force on Nowawes with armored cars, artillery, and machine guns. He behaved as though he believed Nowawes was a Belgium. Hostages were carried off and placards were posted up declaring martial law and instituting courts martial.

Another royalist officer, equally notorious, Captain von Peluck-Hartung, marched out against the suburbs of Grünau and Eichwalde. Their independent Socialist leader was seized and sentenced to death. The officers thought it a fine joke to lead this man into the courtyard, place him up against a wall, bring out a firing squad and then say the whole thing was "merely a warning."

The Kappists at Döberitz, the plotters' headquarters, still raid around about and carry off hostages. Wilhelmstrasse is inactive. The Government, after having loudly proclaimed how it has beaten the Junkers, takes no action.

These are not the only things which are thoroughly rousing the workers. Workers are being arrested on the flimsiest evidence that they are Bolshevists. The cry of Bolshevism is being used by the Royalists and officers still in power to indulge in all sorts of outrages. This cry is the veriest humbug. Last March Bolshevist agents were certainly active in the disturbances which took place, but there is little or no evidence that they are active at this time, which I think may be regarded as some sort of proof that Moscow wishes a settlement with Germany and does not believe it would be to Soviet advantage to make any disturbing move in Germany.

"The Government has had junker forces up against it," said a well-known politician to me today, "but it looks as though it soon would have workers up in arms." Both Vorwärts and Die Freiheit are highly indigantn at the weak way in which the Government during the past week has dealt with the situation and they express deep pessimism as to the future.

eral and radical circles since the Kapp regime, and in favor of which a growing agitation is expected.

Workmen Lose Heavily.

WESEL, Rhenish Prussia, March 26 (Associated Press).—The workmen's headquarters today admitted that heavy losses had been sustained in the fighting.

Majjor Gen. Kabitsch of the Reichswehr, in a communiqué today said the Reichswehr forces which routed the workmen from the vicinity of Lippe Schloss yesterday found 150 dead there.

A feeling exists, particularly among the military on both sides of the Rhine, that the workmen, who are generally described as Spartacides, have not really been defeated, but are playing a game—perhaps only harassing the Reichswehr here to keep them in a state of siege while a similar attack is being planned elsewhere. Or it is considered likely their forces are being organized for a military campaign on a wider scale to support the political power of the workmen which is already effective in most cities of the Ruhr district.

Fifteen shells fell in the civilian part of Wessel today, considerably damaging a number of dwellings in the business quarters and resulting in the killing of a nurse and two children.

AIX LA CHAPELLE, March 26.—Several shells fell today near Fort Blucher, on the left bank of the river held by the Belgians, the commander of whom sent a messenger to remonstrate with the Communist leader. The latter replied to the Belgian officer that the shells had been fired through an error and that he regretted the incident.

The firing near Fort Blucher coincided with an attack by the Reichswehr some distance from the Rhine, which drove the Communists back two miles.

Negotiator Returns to Berlin.

LONDON, March 26.—Minister of Posts Giesberts has returned to Berlin from the Ruhr region. He confirms reports that Wesel is still holding out, despite a bombardment this morning by the revolutionary workmen, according to a wireless message from the German capital.

Herr Giesberts, who visited the Ruhr district to negotiate with the leaders of the workingmen, reported to the Cabinet the result of his labors, which will be made public tomorrow.

Coal delivery in the Ruhr district has reached the February standard and Berlin has secured a supply sufficient for its vitally important needs, the message asserts.

BUDERICH, Rhenish Prussia, March 26 (Associated Press).—Belgian reinforcements arrived early today to guard the bridgehead here, and more than a score of guns in position to open fire across the Rhine if necessary, are at present available.

Thursday night was quiet, only a few shots being fired. The revolutionary workmen apparently have not moved from the position to which they were driven yesterday.

Yesterday's battle opened during the forenoon, when Government troops attacked workers' forces which had advanced to within a few hundred yards of the Wesel bridgehead. Moving rapidly to the onslaught, the regulars drove the Reds south across the Lippe River and southeast out of Lippe Schloss. In the meantime, Government artillery opened fire upon the workers' headquarters at Lipperdorf and partly destroyed them. Working southward from Lippe Schloss and eastward from Lipperdorf, the regulars began a double flank attack which swept the Reds back, they being forced to retreat under heavy artillery and machine gun fire. An armored train pushed along toward the bridge across the Lippe River, about three and one-half miles from Wesel, and kept up a steady fire on the workers.

Many shells fired by the workers' artillery flew wild during this struggle. One of them struck at the gate of Fort Bluecher, on the Belgian bank of the Rhine, and then ricocheted, bursting harmlessly.

COBLENZ, March 25 (Associated Press).—The German Government, officials declare, has definitely decided not to negotiate with the revolutionaries in the Ruhr region because of their violation of the armistice agreement on Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Taunts Cabinet for Weakness.

BERLIN, March 25 (Associated Press).—The Freiheit this evening asserts that the real power lies, as before, in the hands of the military element and that the governmental General von Seeckt is just as much in favor of monarchism and as warm for revenge as General von Lüttwitz, who headed the military forces of the Kapp dictatorship.

The newspaper, which is the organ of the Independents, taunts the Government with inability to enforce respect for its own decrees. It declares the Government is doing nothing to remedy a state of affairs which is so critical that a purely labor government alone will be able to save the situation, failing which the Independents are determined to refuse their help in pulling the country out of its difficulties.

The Prussian Minister of Public Welfare, Adam Stegerwald, has announced that he will withdraw from office unless relations between Prussia and the Empire, which, he declares, are now in a chaotic condition, are again placed on a proper working basis so that armed incursions, such as that of General von Lüttwitz, will not occur again.

Vorwärts charges that Pomerania and the Northern Uckermark, northwest of Stettin, are under the domination of the Iron Division (Baltic troops) and the League of Pomeranian Landowners, who have mobilised the Citizens' Guard and used it for their own purposes. In Prenzlau, southwest of Stettin, they procured the murder of the local executive of the Independent Socialists, the newspaper declares.

According to statements made by its officers, Vorwärts asserts, the Iron Division intends to march on Berlin.

Dutch Mobilize Volunteers.

AMSTERDAM, March 25.—Coal trains to Holland from the Ruhr district were operating normally today, although the crews were sometimes threatened by Spartacides.

The Dutch Government, which relies on volunteer detachments, especially recruited, will not call on conscripts. In the event of any trouble with the Soviet adherents this country will combat the movement with local detachments. These volunteers have been mobilized on the frontier at Rosheerenberg.

Government forces at Wesel are strongly entrenched north of the Lippe River, and are being constantly reinforced by armed farmers and bourgeoisie from towns nearby, the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf says. The Red army's trenches are but little over half a mile distant from those occupied by the defenders of Wesel, and are manned by about 3,000 men. The Red forces also are increasing, it is said. Casualties in the ranks of the Communists in the fighting up till last night have been quite light, being only about 60 dead and 100 wounded.

ROTTERDAM, March 25 (Associated Press).—The object of the attack by revolutionary workingmen on Wesel yesterday, in which they were repulsed, was to gain control of the railway into Holland in order to get food, says the Münster correspondent of the Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant. The workingmen yesterday occupied Wulfen, Haltern, Olfen and Berken, to the east and northeast of Wesel, according to the correspondent.

A mass of the usual war-time rumors was included in dispatches received here this afternoon, one of which, from Münster, says that women acting as Red Cross nurses with the workers have participated in the fighting and urged on the workers to the wiping out of a foot battery at Wetter, southeast of Essen, where a Captain and a number of soldiers are said to have been slain.

NO OCCUPATION OF RUHR REGION NOW

RESERVE FREEDOM TO ACT

Meanwhile They Will Await Result of Ebert's Negotiations with the Red Leaders.

By EDWIN L. JAMES.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 26.—For the present neither German nor Allied troops will occupy the Ruhr Valley. The Allied Governments have decided that the situation does not now demand the sending of large Reichswehr forces against the armed workers there and will therefore refuse to give their consent to President Ebert's request, made eleven days ago, for permission to take that step. If the situation changes the Allies will again take the matter under consideration.

England from the first opposed the French plan of an Allied occupation. When it was supposed that the Spartacides were trying to establish a Soviet Republic which should embrace all Germany and when they were, according to Berlin, threatening to destroy mines and factories, England took the ground that Ebert should be allowed to send troops into the neutral zone. The French demanded as a guarantee that the Ebert troops would get out when order was restored and that Allied troops should occupy Frankfort. The British believed this to be unwise, and while negotiations were going on word came of an agreement between Berlin and the Ruhr leaders, as well as the report that Ebert had agreed not to send troops, even if the Allied permission were given.

The British Government is said to have notified Paris last night that on account of the change in the situation it did not regard the matter in the same light as before; and so for the present the Allies will wait to see if Ebert can resume control of the Ruhr by diplomatic and political methods.

Today's dispatches from Germany record only political fighting, but they do not give a consistent idea of the course of the battle. On top of a series of telegrams telling of the difficulties of reforming the Cabinet comes a message from Berlin by way of Brussels that the whole Cabinet resigned this morning. Earlier dispatches said that the syndicates had refused to agree to the appointment of Gessel as Minister of Defense and that Captain Cuno had refused to accept the post offered him as Minister of Finance, and that it had been offered to Herr Luedmann, a Majority Socialist.

Herr Giesberts has made public in Berlin the basis of accord with the Ruhr leaders. It contains the following points:

1—Amnesty to all those who took up arms against von Kapp.

2—The Government Administration shall resume power in co-operation with the workers' leaders.

3—The workers' troops shall be disbanded in ten days.

4—The workers' councils shall be replaced by committees of safety, composed of workers' delegates, functionaries and politicians living in the region and belonging to the majority parties.

5—These committees, in accord with the administrative authority, shall reorganize the Red Republic on a constitutional basis.

If these conditions are fulfilled the Government agrees not to send troops into the Ruhr region.

Allies Agreed on German Guarantees.

PARIS, March 26 (Associated Press).—The Allies have not as yet given or refused permission for German regular troops to enter either the allied zone of occupation or the neutral zone to the east established by the Treaty of Versailles, according to semi-official information today.

What has been done by the Allies, it is semi-officially stated, is to reach an agreement as to the guarantees to be demanded from Germany in case she desires to engage in military operations in the zones in question. Eventual permission for her to do so will depend upon her previous acceptance of the conditions.

According to the same source, there is no further question of interallied intervention in the Ruhr district, and the impression prevails in official circles that there will be hesitation on the part of the Germans themselves to engage in operations there under the conditions the Allies will impose.

Berlin Heard Allies Assented.

BERLIN, March 26 (Associated Press).—Cologne advices to the Lokal-Anzeiger say that it is announced from American and British sources that the Allies have decided to permit Germany to send 100,000 troops to the Ruhr region, and that if these are insufficient to maintain law and order, they will be reinforced by 80,000 British, French and Belgian soldiers.

SAYS BRITISH LABOR SEEKS COMMUNISM

REPLIES TO ASQUITH'S GIBE

Says the Latter's Epithet of "Demagogue" Has Been Applied to the World's Greatest.

LONDON, March 26.—Premier Lloyd George and Herbert H. Asquith, former Premier and member of the House of Commons for Paisley, are conducting an informal debate over the right to claim the leadership of the Liberal Party. Incidentally the question who will be the predominant figure in the National Liberal Club, the party's headquarters, is involved. Mr. Asquith's supporters arranged a luncheon in his honor at the club last Wednesday, and the Premier's Liberal followers organized a luncheon in honor of Mr. Lloyd George today.

In his speech at today's luncheon, Mr. Lloyd George defended his attack of last week on the Labor Party, for which he has been condemned by both the Labor Party and the followers of Mr. Asquith.

"The program of the Labor Party is to put an end to the capitalistic system and create a co-operative commonwealth," he declared. "I have read carefully everything said by Mr. Clynes (John Robert Clynes, Laborite) and Mr. Henderson (Arthur Henderson, Laborite) and all the apologies of the Labor Party. Not one of them denies that the doctrine of the Labor Party is a doctrine of Communism.

"It is said by some that the doctrine is not sincere; that common ownership is only put into the Labor program in order to conciliate a section of the party. That is a very dangerous thing in these days. These are tropical days, when seed put into the ground spreads, sprouts and brings forth fruit with startling rapidity. You must not put doctrines of that kind in the forefront of the program of a powerful party and then say they mean nothing.

"Suppose the Labor Party won a general election and formed a Government. You may say Mr. Clynes and Mr. Henderson are moderate men who would not do these things, but they would have to do them or break faith with the people who put them in power. We cannot take any chances in these revolutionary days. The nation must realize what the Labor program means, then make its choice with its eyes open.

"The Labor program is not a movement started among the working classes. It comes from a group of men who have received a lap-sided education, who have had no experience of affairs or of work in factory, shop or office and who call themselves intellectuals. A vast majority of the working classes have repudiated that program and the common sense of the working classes will save them right to the end."

Replying to Mr. Asquith's reference to him as a "demagogue," Mr. Lloyd George said the term had been applied to some of the greatest men in history.

"It is an epithet which has always been hurled by the dull and pompous against any man who has a greater power of appealing to the masses than they have," he declared.

The next event at the National Liberal Club will be a dinner in honor of Mr. Asquith, commemorating his election to the House of Commons, at which the President of the club, Lord Lincolnshire, will preside. This function was arranged before the split between Mr. Asquith and Premier Lloyd George became acute and some of the Premier's followers are now removing their names from the list of subscribers to the dinner..

WELSH LOCAL OPTION NEAR.

Bill Supported by Lady Astor Passes Second Reading.

LONDON, March 26.—A bill which will give local option to Wales passed its second reading in the House of Commons today, 86 to 84.

Lady Astor was active in the debate on the measure, explaining that she considered local option a principle of democracy. When asked to reconcile her activity for the bill with her campaign statement, "I am not a prohibitionist," Lady Astor replied that the whole of the speech in which she made the statement should be quoted to convey just what she had meant.

Herbert H. Asquith, former Premier, also supported the measure. The bill is much the same as the one which has been effective in Scotland for the past six years.

Allies Let Danes Occupy Slesvig.

COPENHAGEN, March 26.—It is reported that the Allied International Commission has agreed upon the occupation of the northern plebiscite zone of Slesvig by Danish troops as soon as possible. The voting in this zone showed the inhabitants overwhelmingly in favor of Danish sovereignty.

33,000 DWELLINGS AWAIT CITY TENANTS

under the direction of the State Reconstruction Commission, and the real estate operators, according to Mr. Doyle, are ready to go ahead in the same direction as soon as they are permitted to do so under a change in the tenement house laws. As soon as Mayor Hylan can bring about an agreement between the building contractors and the labor unions, Mr. Doyle suggested, that the first move to meet the housing situation should take into consideration the utilization of the 18,000 tenements, and the conversion of the 15,000 single family dwellings into apartment houses.

When he appeared before the Board of Estimate, Mr. Doyle said that the Real Estate Board had been instrumental in preparing a bill for presentation to the Legislature next week, which was designed to give relief to landlords who will suffer from falling markets in event of the passage of the present rent bills pending in the Legislature. Suitable rents, conforming to the cost of property maintenance, will be provided in the drafted bill.

Robert E. Dowling, Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Real Estate Board, warned the Board of Estimate that the bills before the Legislature would not solve the housing problem, which must be met by the construction of more buildings. He urged the necessity of bringing capital, labor, architects and building material interests together as soon as possible.

To List City's Vacant Plots.

A report of the Committee on General Welfare of the Board of Aldermen, approving proposals to have prepared lists of city-owned property available for building purposes, the securing of plans for dwellings and the authorization for renting such buildings to citizens, was referred by the Board of Estimate to the Committee of the Whole. The resolution of President Curran, requesting the Corporation Counsel to give an opinion as to whether the city had the power to appropriate $10,000,000 to construct houses which might be rented to citizens was received, and the Corporation Counsel was instructed to furnish an opinion on the question to the Committee on Finance and Budget at its meeting in the Controller's office next Monday. The board refused to open the proposed building scheme.

David Hirshfield, Commissioner of Accounts, said that a study of the rent bill introduced by State Senator Gibbs had disclosed that the measure would legalize a charge of 9 per cent. interest on mortgages, and that it would have a grave effect upon the building situation. He will ask Mayor Hylan, the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering and tenants' organizations to oppose the adoption of the measure.

Solomon A. Lewinsohn, Assistant Chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering, suggested that the rent relief program should provide city bank balances to be used in making loans to builders, that landlords be compelled to give tenants three months' notice of a proposed raise in rent, that there should be a standard form of lease, that the courts should be empowered to fix what is a reasonable rental, and that valuations on new buildings should be made for the purpose of taxation with as much consideration for the builder as for the tenant.

Two Landlords Fined.

Harry S. Proctor, President of the Acme Realty Improvement Company, owners of an apartment house at 434 Central Park West, was fined $250 on a charge of forcible entry by Justices Moses Herrman, Arthur C. Salmon and Frederic Kernochan, in the Court of Special Sessions. He was convicted on this charge before the same Justices last December, on the complaint of Mrs. Anna Reed. Proctor paid the fine and gave notice of an appeal.

A similar fine was imposed in Special Sessions on the West 190th Street Realty Company of which Harry Gillman is Secretary, charged with violating the Sanitary Code in failing to furnish the required heat in an apartment house at 335 Wadsworth Avenue. The complainant was John F. Barry, a sanitary inspector of the Health Department, who charges failure to provide sufficient heat for 30 families in the building.

Justice Harry Robitzek, in the Second District Municipal Court, the Bronx, summoned Julius Tobias, an attorney, 1,926 Crotona Avenue, and Mrs. Alice Cavanaugh, interested in the defense of Bronx tenants, to appear before him this morning at 10 o'clock, to show cause why they should not be prosecuted for criminal contempt of court growing out of an exchange of blows at a session of the court last Wednesday. The Justice will sit as a committing Magistrate.

"Just Enough Turkish"

Fatima's leadership here, where expensive straight Turkish cigarettes were once in vogue, is rather conclusive. It indicates that many smokers no longer judge cigarettes by package or price, but by tobaccos. And as a result, more and more of them, the country over, are turning to Fatima's exclusive blend. ger of death. T. P. O'Connor, Nationalist member from Liverpool, called attention to the fact that O'Brien was serving on the Government's Coal Commission when arrested and asked, "Has the Government considered the effect on Irish opinion of the possible death of Alderman O'Brien resulting from his incarceration without trial?"

Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman, replied: "It is obvious this is a great responsibility. The Government would deplore that any one should commit suicide under such circumstances. The first duty of any Government is to protect the lives of its citizens and the Irish Government has taken the responsibility of deciding that this arrest was necessary for that object."

While the discussion was going on Mr. Bonar Law was handed a telegram which he read to the House. It announced the murder in Dublin of Magistrate Bell. Mr. Bonar Law then said that Mr. O'Brien would be taken to a hospital if he consented to take food.

The Weekly Nation, in its issue of tonight, says the police and soldiers raid about one thousand Irish homes weekly, that General Hackett-Payne, who commanded the Carsonite army in Ireland, has been called in by Field Marshal Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to assist in the rule of Nationalist Ireland, and that Inspector Smith, who was chief of the Belfast police when cargoes of rifles for Sir Edward Carson's force were being landed, is now head of the Royal Constabulary.

With a super-heated atmosphere on both sides of the Channel the Irish Home Rule bill will be debated in the House of Commons next Monday. James Ian MacPherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland, will introduce the bill and John R. Clynes, former Food Controller, and former Premier Asquith will lead the opposition for the Laborites and the Liberals. The debate is not expected to last more than two or three days. Premier Lloyd George will make the final summing-up.

DUBLIN, March 26.—A passenger on the car from which Magistrate Bell was dragged, states that a few minutes after Mr. Bell boarded it two men took seats behind him and two others jumped on to occupied seats to the right. When the tramcar stopped at Balls Bridge two men leaped on to the conductor's platform and, producing revolvers, commanded the passengers not to move. One of them then pulled the trolley arm off the wire, while the others gripped their victim and hustled him toward the door. He resisted, but was overpowered and pulled into the roadway. All of the four fired their revolvers at him and he dropped to the ground. They placed a newspaper over his face and rapidly walked away.

Early this morning an extensive rounding up of Sinn Feiners by the military and police, accompanied by tanks and armed motor cars, took place. It is supposed that information with respect to the intentions of the authorities became known, since a number of those wanted were not found. Nearly forty arrests were made. Sounds of revolver and rifle fire were heard in different parts of the city, but so far no casualties are reported.

LONDON, March 26.—Cries of "Shame" greeted Bonar Law's announcement in the House of Commons this afternoon of the murder of Alan Bell, Dublin Resident Magistrate.

This last outrage has carried public indignation to the boiling point and in many quarters it is being urged that the Government must take the severest steps to suppress the campaign of murder by extremists who are terrorizing the whole community. Among the measures which are being specially urged upon the Government is the arrest of a number of well-known persons who, according to information in the hands of the authorities, are the ringleaders and organizers of the system of terrorism. Chief among these is stated to be a woman who was prominent in Dublin at the Easter rebellion. This woman found her principal assistants among the Sinn Feiners who were arrested after the insurrection and who were later released on promises of good behavior made on their behalf by Sir Horace Plunkett. Plunkett has failed to "deliver the goods" and it is argued that the attitude of continued tolerance toward the gang whose aim is to destroy all possibility of an Irish settlement can only be a grievous mistake.

LONDON, March 26.—Alan Bell, the Dublin Magistrate who was murdered this morning, has been the object of the most bitter attacks for a long time by the Sinn Fein press bureau in statements regularly mailed to American correspondents.

The Sinn Feiners attacked his private character, accusing him of unnatural crimes and alleged that he was a spy and agent provocateur. The Sinn Feiners allege that he was a secret agent of The London Times in the Pigot forgeries case.

Saves million dollars at Hopewell

Manufacturer hampered in production by labor shortage, municipal restrictions and high power-cost finds big advantages at Hopewell

A manufacturer came to us last Spring and bought certain used equipment at Hopewell. He planned to have this equipment dismantled and moved to a city in New Jersey for re-erection. His search for a suitable location, however, was fruitless. In some places municipal ordinances were too restrictive; in others sufficient housing facilities were lacking; still in others insufficient labor and an inadequate supply of water interfered. We suggested during a conference that he consider the possibility of locating a plant at Hopewell and allowing the equipment to remain.

Upon investigation, this manufacturer discovered that for the same amount of money expended in moving the equipment from Hopewell and installing it elsewhere, he could buy a plant at Hopewell four times as large. But what was of far more importance to him, he found that he could get his plant in operation six months earlier than by moving it.

This manufacturer found at Hopewell, that there were no municipal restrictions, that housing conditions were ideal and sufficient, that labor in any desired quantity could be secured and that pure water, of which he required a million gallons per day, is readily available.

This man told us he will save literally more than a million dollars on his plant alone, while the profits due to production six months earlier than he anticipated, will about pay for the investment.

You, too, can benefit by the advantages Hopewell offers. We may have just the factory you need—ready to turn on power. This is the best opportunity you'll ever hear anything about, to get that bigger factory you need for little cost.

Skolny Clothes

FOR YOUNG MEN AND BOYS

COMPARE

Our comments upon Skolny Clothes for young men and boys are not so numerous that you can afford to overlook them.

Unlike many manufacturers, we don't set up the plea that the public should give Skolny Clothes preference simply because they are advertised.

The real reason why you should buy Skolny Clothes is found in the Clothes themselves — not in their advertising, which is as modest in statements as it is limited in volume. Skolny Clothes are their own best advocates.

Our great difficulty is to do justice to the models and the tailoring — particularly the tailoring, which is the fine feature of all Skolny Clothes.

This is because all manufacturers have access to the same dictionary.

We secure no monopoly of certain words, simply because we apply more care, skill and patience than others to the production of Ready-for-Service Clothes.

We have to use the same language that is made to do duty in descriptions of Clothes that are frankly inferior.

Then, how are you to discriminate — how are you to determine whether or not Skolny Clothes sustain the claims made for them?

There is but ONE way — COMPARE. Make intelligent comparisons — detail by detail — patterns, colors, style, fit, sewing.

Study the workmanship — the needle stitches. Even, smooth, firm.

Whenever this is done without bias, but in a sincere spirit to ascertain the truth, Skolny Clothes win the verdict.

If words of ours influence you to ask your merchant for Skolny Clothes, the money and thought we put into this column will not be in vain.

SEES PLOT TO BUY PARTY NOMINATIONS

ocratic Party advertised or stated in THE NEW YORK TIMES, under date of Aug. 24, 1919, that it was proposed to raise $10,000,000 for this campaign. There seems to be equally strong evidence that it was proposed to raise a like sum upon the Republican side."

Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a Democrat, asked whether Senator Borah had not read the published denial of the $10,000,000 campaign fund story and said no such statement had been made.

"The statement that I have, I guess, was made," said Mr. Borah. "I do not remember the denial, but if there was a denial I am very glad to have it stated.

"On both sides of the fence the amount of money being used to control the convention is simply shocking. Within ten days it will become known that at least two of the Democratic candidates have been expending money or that it is being expended in their behalf, quite as freely as for General Wood and Governor Lowden."

"General talk and charges made along the periphery are useless," said Senator Ashurst. "Let the Senator name the man or men."

Then followed the colloquy in which Senator Ashurst mentioned the third term and Senator Borah remarked that President Wilson was entitled to it as there was no one else to carry his issue, the League of Nations, to the country.

"You mean a third nomination, don't you?" asked Senator Moses of New Hampshire, Southern manager for General Wood.

"If your candidate does not soon change his tactics it may be a third term," replied Mr. Borah. "There are difficulties in presenting this matter, because whoever does it will be accused of a personal interest. I have none. I ask no more than statements from the candidates telling who has contributed to their campaign funds, and how much and the use that has been made of the money.

Calls for Facts.

"Some candidates for the Republican nomination, it has been said, are dominated by a coterie of financiers and there is every indication that these men want to dominate the Republican convention. The candidates must tell the facts so that the public can judge.

"We have seen one Senator expelled from this body, another tried, and now we have the humiliating spectacle of another convicted by a jury. This is not the time to discuss that case, but it has put upon us the obligation to stop that sort of thing."

Mr. Borah read from a newspaper a statement that in Indiana workers for General Wood were paying $2.50 each for testimonials from citizens attesting the General's fitness and general ability to be President.

"If they pay $2.50 for testimonials, in heaven's name what would they not pay for votes?" Mr. Borah exclaimed.

"But all this is not confined to the Republican party. Within ten days we will find that the expenditures of Republican aspirants are being equalled by at least two Democratic candidates. Such a performance at a time when the people are distressed to find the means to live can only be construed as testifying that the war profiteers have combined to control the conventions of both parties."

Mr. Borah took up a recent article in which the names of several men were set down as underwriters of the Wood campaign to the extent of $600,000 or more. Reading from that article, he said he found the men named were all of great wealth and connected with powerful financial and business interests.

"Edward L. Doheny is one of them," said Senator Borah. "I don't know whether he has contributed this time to the Democratic campaign fund or not, but he did the last time. He is listed here as one of the big contributors to General Wood's fund. He is also a candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention from California.

"Dan R. Hanna, of Cleveland, is another. A perfectly responsible person told me that Mr. Hanna said he would spend $100,000 to carry the city of Cleveland alone for General Wood.

Not as Benefactors.

"Candidates for the Presidency who receive such stupendous favors from the interests must recompense those interests. The men contributing those sums are not doing it as beneficent benefactors. It is the public duty of General Wood and Governor Lowden to give the names of their contributors.

"I might read the telegrams I have received from South Dakota, which state that for every vote cast there in the Presidential primary $10 was expended by each of the two candidates mentioned. General Wood received 29,000 votes and Governor Lowden 23,000. Now is the time to clean the Augean stables."

Senator Sterling, of South Dakota, said he could not let pass the inference that the voters of South Dakota had been corrupted. Such was not the case, he said.

"I did not say that the individual voters personally had been corrupted," said Mr. Borah. "What I did intend to say was that such lavish use of money tends to corrupt the electorate."

Says Expenses Were Legitimate.

Senator Moses, in behalf of General Wood, declared he was ignorant concerning the "alleged facts" furnished by Mr. Borah, and added:

"But I do know that every dollar expended in behalf of General Wood has been expended legitimately and necessarily. Does the Senator charge General Wood with conspiring to corrupt the American electorate?"

"I do not," replied Senator Borah, "but I do say—and I waive my Senatorial privilege in saying it—that General Wood's managers have determined to control the Chicago convention by the use of money. Now let them go to bat on that if they like."

In presenting this bill today, Senator Borah added to it a section which did not appear in the earlier drafts. It provides for notice by contributors of their contributions and penalizes failure to give such notice with a fine of $25,000 or imprisonment for three years, or both. The section reads:

"Any person, partnership, corporation, or organization that makes any contribution for the purpose of securing the nomination of any person for President in excess of $100 shall within one day after making such a contribution notify the Attorney General of the United States at Washington, D. C., of the making of such contribution, giving the full name and the Post Office address of the person, partnership, corporation or organization to whom or to which such contribution is made. The Attorney General shall keep a list of such contributions, by whom made, and said lists shall be open to public inspection at all times.

"Any person, partnership, corporation or organization making such contribution and failing to comply in full with the terms of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $25,000 or by imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not more than three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

The statement of a purpose to raise $10,000,000 for the Democratic national campaign, as quoted from THE TIMES by Senator Borah, was made on Aug. 23 last, by W. D. Jamieson of Iowa, Director of Finance of the Democratic National Committee. He said in an interview in New York that he had come here to outline plans to obtain 1,000,000 contributors to the fund.

VOTE ON SUFFRAGE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Delaware Factions Agree on Program Delaying Action Until Next Week.

HOPE TO GAIN CONVERTS

Amendment to be Presented First in House, Where the Opposition Is Strongest.

DOVER, Del., March 26.—Disposal by the Delaware Legislature of the suffrage amendment not later than next Wednesday was in prospect when both Houses adjourned today until next Monday. Ratification continued doubtful, rival camps holding steadfast to respective predictions of ratification and defeat.

Arrangements for voting next week were completed today by Republican leaders working for ratification. They dropped plans to have the Senate vote today and arranged to take the first vote in the House. There the ratification resolution is to be reported from committee next Tuesday, probably without recommendation. An immediate roll call on adoption may ensue, but leaders believe the vote would not come until Wednesday.

Plans now call for the House vote prior to the Senate's with the latter prepared to act immediately after the House decision.

The program of delay, leaders of suffragists and the opposition said, was obtained by mutual concessions. The anti-suffragists were prepared to force the ratification resolution before the House today, with their opponents admittedly having a present House majority. The suffragist leaders said they agreed to report out the resolution next Tuesday under agreement by the opposition to drop the hostile movement proposed until Wednesday. Republican Leader Lyons said action might be taken Tuesday by unanimous consent or suspension of the rules, but that probabilities were for the vote on Wednesday.

The week-end respite was hailed with relief by the suffragists. An immediate vote by the House, they conceded, would defeat ratification. Strenuous work for votes was planned during the recess, and by the time for the roll call next week the ratification workers expressed confidence that a majority could be brought into camp. Representative McNabb, Democratic floor-leader, in charge of the opposition fight in the lower house, expressed confidence of defeating ratification.

In the Senate the gulf between the warring factions was smaller according to admissions from prominent workers in both. The suffragists today claimed a sure majority of the Senators, especially should the House first adopt the ratification measure. The anti-suffragists, however, pointed to abandonment of the plans for a Senate vote today as indicating suffragist weakness.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 26.—Senator Spencer of Missouri is coming to Connecticut Monday to address a luncheon meeting of prominent Republicans who favor suffrage ratification by Connecticut for party expediency. A sub-committee will visit the Governor's office on Tuesday to bring final pressure on the Governor. If he should leave the State the Lieutenant Governor would act quickly, regardless of threats of confusion and lawsuits.

particularly if his companion and not the doctor killed him?" This they answered in their supposititious case thus:

This man pretended to be ill. The other went for the doctor and brought him back. Perhaps at an agreed moment he gave the signal which was to have precipitated both of them in a murderous attack upon the physician. But the "sick" man got "cold feet" and the elaborately laid plot failed. The doctor was allowed to go in peace. Then the other man argued with his companion, perhaps for hours and hours, trying to nerve him to carry out the murder. At last, his argument failing and his patience exhausted, he turned upon his companion and slew him. Maybe he killed him without intending thereby to further his original purpose. If he did he no sooner surveyed the dead body than the thought flashed to him, "Now I can get the doctor here by telling him my friend is worse and once he is here I can kill him single-handed."

That this man did go for the doctor and that the doctor was stabbed again and again the moment he stepped inside the room is known. Further, a more careful examination of Frank Ambrose, a lodger in the house who discovered the double murder, strengthened this hypothetical version.

Ambrose, it turned out, was in the backyard of the place at 6:15 Thursday evening when his attention was attracted to the second-story rear window by the groan of a man in pain. Some heavy object crashed against the glass and for a moment Ambrose, rooted by excitement, watched in the dim, unlighted room a furious, if shadowed, struggle which he is sure was between two men, and only two men. Recovering his presence of mind, Ambrose went through the back door, rushed into the hall and reached the front stairway just as a man, wearing an overcoat open and disclosing a blood-stained shirt, but no coat, got to the bottom. Ambrose asked the obvious question. The man in broken English said something about "hurt" or "sick" and "the doctor," opened the front door and had disappeared by the time Ambrose had reached the room and discovered the two dead men.

His description of this man—really a boy—fits that of the man who rented the room last Monday night with the companion afterward killed, that of the man who went for the doctor on Thursday night, that of the man who had the prescription for indigestion filled.

So, late in the afternoon, the police sent a general alarm for a man of medium dark complexion, about 22 years old, probably an Italian, wearing a blood-stained shirt, a dark overcoat and a black fedora hat, weighing about 150 pounds, about 5 feet 6 inches tall and walking with a decided limp of the left foot.

Every patrolman and detective in the city was told to watch for this man and particularly to be on the lookout for him in all hospitals and physicians' offices, as it was believed the blood on his shirt meant that he had been injured, probably by his companion and not by the physician.

The physician's only weapon, it seemed, was a chair which he threw at the window, probably in the hope of rousing aid after he had been stabbed. It was learned that a year ago Dr. Campisi got a permit to carry a pistol. Members of his family were firm in their assurances to the police that he did this merely as a precaution because of night calls in a not altogether orderly neighborhood. They insisted he had no pistol and never had carried one.

For a time the swarm of men trying to arrest the murderer thought they had an important clue in a coat of dark material left in the room and probably belonging to the man who fled. This bore the name of the Harris Tailoring Company in Elizabeth, N. J., and proved to have been made for a man named John or Jack Falcone. A representative of this firm was brought to Brooklyn. He identified the coat, but described its wearer as a heavy-set man whose appearance did not tally either with that of the dead man, upon whom he looked, nor with that of the man who escaped. Though the murderer's name may eventually prove to be Falcone, the police were not attaching too great importance to the coat.

Just after the garment was found they seized at Fourth Avenue and President Street a man with a similar name. He had a good alibi, and none of those who had seen the missing man thought this "suspect" even remotely resembled him, so he was released.

Ambrose, Mrs. Dorothy Parker, who conducts the lodging house, and Dr. Campisi's brother all looked over the Rogues' Gallery pictures at headquarters without finding a man who resembled the murderer. Nor did finger prints of the other dead man correspond with any at headquarters.

While the detectives were sufficiently well satisfied with the foregoing theory to be acting upon it, they stood ready to discard it at any moment in favor of one more plausible. One possibility which they debated was that the man now dead had been ill, that his companion summoned the doctor in good faith and that once he saw Dr. Campisi the thought came to him that the physician might carry large sums of money and that it would be simple to lure him back to the room and murder him.

Maybe he tried to persuade his companion to fall in with the scheme and killed him, the latter stubbornly refusing. But always the detectives came back to this link in the puzzle: If there was any sort of robbery plot involved, why did the man flee leaving the watch and the $10? The only answer they could find was that he was alarmed when the window glass crashed and dared not wait to search his victim. The bareness of the other dead man's pockets suggested that his companion had rifled them, though there was nothing in the man's dress or appearance to indicate he could have had much money.

Just one more of the many theories seems worthy of chronicling, though the detectives themselves gave it no more than passing thought. This is that the doctor and the man who summoned him to the room quarreled, or that this man, perhaps even both men, sprang upon the doctor as soon as he entered, either to rob him or in pursuance of some vendetta. The doctor may have grabbed one of his assailants and thrust him as a shield in front of his own body and the other, already wildly excited, thrusting and thrusting again, killing his companion before he realized that his blows were not taking effect in the doctor's body.

A long, slender dirk, rather like a paper cutter, was found in the room. It was bloodstained. A nicked razor lay under the bed, but the stains on this are thought to have been rust, not blood, and the two dead men were stabbed, not slashed.

One remarkable effect of the crime was an almost literal uprising of Americanized Italians last night. Soon after the physician's body had been taken to the parlor of his home, hundreds of them descended upon his brother and his wife and young baby, vowing vengeance. The doctor was a member of several societies and fraternal organizations, and had been active in philanthropic work.

PUTS AIR TO WORK

Correct Ventilation for Every Industry

STURTEVANT has always been foremost in designing ventilating equipment. Large public buildings, plants, offices and churches all over the nation enjoy the better air conditions Sturtevant apparatus makes possible. Architects and engineers have for years known that the longer life and more reliable operation of Sturtevant Ventilating Equipment are what make a Sturtevant installation the better investment. Sixty years' experience in putting air to work is built into every Sturtevant product and is behind every Sturtevant recommendation. No matter what type of building is to be ventilated, Sturtevant machinery can supply it with clean air in the most economical and efficient manner.

The Multivane Fan was developed by Sturtevant especially for ventilating work. Each blade has cup-shaped depressions which grip the air and prevent it from slipping along the blade to the side of the wheel opposite the inlet. This insures evenly proportioned pressure along the entire blade and makes a higher efficiency possible.

Let a Sturtevant representative tell you how good ventilation has increased production in others' plants. Write, phone, or wire for him.

THE General Cigar Co., Inc., would go out of business in preference to compromising the quality of the Robt. Burns cigar.

Robt. Burns' filler is still entirely Havana. And it is Havana of particularly mild selection.

THE PLAY

By Alexander Woollcott

Medium Melodrama.

Limpy Jim	Charles Halton
Deagon	William Sampson
Margaret Lyons	Muriel Tindal
Danny MacKeaver	Vernon Steele
Gordon Grant	John Halliday
Jean Oliver	Martha Hedman
Nichols	Robert Stevens
Police Inspector	Leighton Stark
Mrs. Ramsay	Cornelia MacDonald
Donald Ramsay	Walter Lewis
Cora Thompson	Doris Moore

The war plays are no more, but the tide of ouija board drama is at flood. The rat-a-tat-tat-tat of machine guns is no longer heard in the wings, but the tap-tap-tap of spirits (real or spurious) is audible in every other play along Broadway. We had, in seasons past, an occasional use of the spiritualistic séance for the purposes of melodrama, as with "Vera, the Medium," a half-forgotten Eleanor Robson venture, and more recently there was "The Thirteenth Chair," with all lights out and the wall of the controls heard in the shivery theatre. Then came "One Night in Rome"—came and went. On Monday night at the Bijou it will be "The Ouija Board." Last night at the Punch and Judy it was "The Hole in the Wall."

This is a séance play by Fred Jackson, the man who wrote a fair-to-middling farce called "A Full House," which you may have seen at the Longacre before the war. This time he has turned out a rather surprisingly naïve and unsophisticated melodrama which manages somehow to hold the interest throughout and which achieves as the climax of its second act a scene of genuine and mounting excitement. In its language rather than in its scheme "The Hole in the Wall" is sometimes quite as unintentionally comic as "The Blue Flame," but a little wise cutting would turn it into the sort of thriller that our town enjoys hugely.

The heroine of the new Jackson opus is a beautiful girl named Jean Oliver, who like that sweet Mary Turner is convicted of a crime she did not commit. She is "up the river" for two years and, curiously enough, serves her term not at Auburn but at Sing Sing, where, as a distinct novelty, she must have made quite a hit. She emerges breathing revenge on society and particularly on the purseproud woman who had invented the evidence against her.

To carry out her vendetta she becomes "the mother of the underworld" and is established, with the aid of the rest of the underworld, as the bogus Madame Mystera, who, with some electrically connected banjos and a good deal of incense (and our old friend William Sampson all blacked up as a Rajah or a Hindoo slave or something) plays on the credulity of the idle rich. She is tracked to her lair by the hero-reporter, who exposes the fraud, but recognizes the wronged Jean as the sweetheart of his Boston school days, marries her and sets her up in business as a happy medium.

The climax and the real kick of the play come when, in the midst of the séance, a young actress is sent in by the detectives in the guise of an old woman. The wires are cut, the usual signals interrupted, the fraud frustrated—when suddenly, out of the limitless ether, true messages begin to come, messages not to the old woman, but to the little actress hidden behind the long veil and the grease paint. Thus does "The Hole in the Wall" reach for the pennies of scoffers and believers alike.

The detective-reporter has become an essential of modern melodrama. Consider "The Acquittal" and many another. The need is for some one to unravel these three-act mysteries, and a certain snobbishness on the part of our dramatists forbids their use of the police. They must have a detective who is a man of the world, a university graduate, a fellow of keen mind and great personal charm. So they turn naturally enough to the ranks of the newspaper business. This reporter is always young and insouciant. He usually takes notes and is very chivalrous to some little girl in trouble. Apparently he always works on a paper called "The Chronicle," and he makes the police seem like a bunch of blockheads, which, of course, is quite an achievement.

All these elements appear in "The Hole in the Wall," together with a good deal of talk about "the underworld" and some killing lines, as when the baffled society woman cries out:

"I had to fix this crime on her. My son would have married the girl. And who was she? My companion. Think of it. A nobody. Well, I disposed of her, and I did well, for now he has married the daughter of Senator Scott of Nevada."

The play is carefully mounted and well played, particularly by Martha Hedman (who is in very good form), John Halliday, William Sampson, Leighton Stark, Doris Moore and Vernon Steele who has apparently stolen quietly out of the cast of "Déclassée" without, we imagine absolutely wrecking that production.

$50,000 Contributed to Hospital.

One of the first gifts to the Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital's $50,000 from James C. Brady, a member nounced yesterday is a subscription of $50,000 from James A. Brady, a member of the committee and a Director in several large cororaptions. The campaign does not open until March 30, but many preliminary gifts have been received.

LIBERTY CHORUS SINGS.

New Symphony Orchestra and Mme. Gall Assist in Second Concert.

The People's Liberty Chorus, organized and led for four years by Lorenzo Camilieri, gave a second concert in Carnegie Hall last evening, assisted by sixty players from Bodanzky's New Symphony Orchestra and by Yvonne Gall, the French soprano heard here for two seasons with the Chicago Opera.

Mme. Gall, who volunteered to appear, was made an honorary member of the Liberty Chorus, and among her songs she gave in English "My Old Kentucky Home." The chorus sang works of Bortnyansky, Haydn, Cornelius and Sullivan, and the orchestra added others of Rossini, Massenet, Saint-Saëns and Wagner.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

John J. Gleason, Abbot of the Friars, and Fred Block have formed a producing corporation under the name of Gleason-Block, Inc. Their first ventures will be "Reaping the Whirlwind," a comedy by Frank McGlynn; James J. Corbett in a musical piece, and the presentation of "The Rainbow Girl," on tour.

The opening of "The Bonehead" at the Fulton will take place on April 12 instead of the 5th.

Roszika and Yancsi Dolly will close their tour in "Oh, Look!" in Wilkes-Barre tonight and will sail for London, where they will be seen in a revue next month. They will return to New York in the Fall.

The cast of "Dorothy Dixie Lee," which William Morris will produce, will include Edith Taliaferro, George Marion, Arthur Elliott, Edith Shayne, Lucille La Verne, Burke Clarke and others. Edward Locke is the author.

Richard Walton Tully, who is now abroad, has engaged David Miller, a well-known English comedian, for a comedy to be produced in this country in May.

There Was a Man in Our Town

He could afford it, but it irked him, and that evening he said to the manager of the theatre:

"You've got a good play, but is it sixty dollars' worth?" The manager answered: "No, and as long as you think you'll do better by yourself by paying more, you'll probably pay more. You could have bought the same seats at McBride's for their standard fee of fifty cents over the box-office price. You really don't deserve my sympathy."

The manager was right. That's how we came to have a new customer.

Teachers, Money and the State

The teachers of New York are being shamefully underpaid. At their present salaries many of them have to stint not only on clothes and luxuries but on their very food. A teacher who has to worry about a bare existence is not fit to teach children. That is why so many teachers are leaving the profession for higher paid positions. That is why so many who remain are nervous, discontented, and, therefore, inferior.

Pay Now or Pay More Later

The State has two alternatives. Either it can immediately increase the salaries of teachers to a decent wage, or it can refuse this increase—and pay more heavily later on.

It's Up to You

The State will act upon your wishes in the matter. You pay taxes. Determine for yourself whether those taxes are to be used to increase the pay of teachers—or whether the authorities are to wait until conditions are so bad that you will have to pay much higher taxes later on.

In New York there are over 700 teacher vacancies

THE THIRD TERM.

Any one can see that Mr. WILSON shows a deplorable want of feeling and consideration for the Southern Democrats. Until he frees their minds of the apprehension that he may seek a third nomination for the Presidency how can they make any progress with their plans to nominate Mr. BRYAN, Mr. BURLESON, Mr. KITCHIN, Senator HOKE SMITH or some other Democrat whose candidacy would unite the party North and South into a solid, unconquerable army to sweep the country next November? But it will strike the impartial observer that it is not from the mouths of Southern Democrats that complaints of the President's silence and railings against him for not announcing his purposes should come. In the Executive appointments of the last seven years the Democrats of the Southern States have not been altogether overlooked; in the organization of committees in the House and in the Senate they have not overlooked themselves. Under this Democratic Administration they have had their first real chance in sixty years for place and preferment. Gratitude and patience might have been expected where there has been criticism like that of Mr. HUMPHREYS of Mississippi and many other manifestations of the unthankful spirit, notably in the struggle over the Treaty in the Senate.

It is quite superfluous for Mr. HUMPHREYS to recite the classic and standard objections to a third term. The country was made familiar with them all in 1880, again in 1908. They are as sound as ever, the tradition against three terms of the Presidency for any man are of continuing validity. Outside the circle of calculating and precipitate politicians we do not suppose there is any one in the country who imagines Mr. WILSON has any thought of the third nomination this year. It would be a mistake for him and for his party, a mistake so grave and serious that the suggestion of it is at once relegated to the realm of the unthinkable.

But Mr. WILSON may have his own idea of the time that would be appropriate for announcing his intentions, and we cannot imagine that he will be moved to earlier utterance by the importunities of Representative HUMPHREYS. It may be that his silence will have a salutary effect upon the Democratic Party. As the leader of the party he will naturally expect to be consulted as to the business of the convention, as to the nomination and the platform. The aspirants for the Democratic nomination can afford to bide their time; perhaps Mr. WILSON himself feels that it would be well to proceed with deliberation in so important a matter and give the country time to weigh well the qualifications of the men whose names are mentioned. Prompted by ambition and lured by what they evidently felt to be the certainty of victory in the election, a large number of Republicans came early into the field. Already they are fighting each other like Apaches. Cudgels usually reserved for use against political opponents are wielded by Republicans against other Republicans, and it is doubtful how many of these supposedly noble reputations will survive the preliminary canvass in a condition to meet the always severe challenges of an actual campaign.

The Democratic Party will suffer no harm as the result of any delay in the President's decision, or rather in the announcement of a decision he must have reached long ago. The outlook for the party is by no means so gloomy and devoid of hope as a few months ago it seemed to be to all Republicans and probably most Democrats. The Democrats have still an uphill fight to make, the chances are against their success. But whatever chance they may have of winning the election may easily be thrown away by blunders, of which the party is proverbially capable. It will have no chance at all unless it shows great wisdom in the choice of its candidate and the highest attainable foresight and understanding in the drafting of its platform.

MORE TEACHERS AND BETTER.

Those diversions of fancy with which Mayor HYLAN amuses his hours of ease are always welcome, even in the thick of metropolitan life; but parents whose children are ill-taught in the public schools, or are debarred from them altogether by the shortage of teachers, are not likely to find exhilaration in his persiflage about the educational predicament. It is not the lack of a living wage, says his Honor, that is driving away our teachers, but the surplusage of "self-styled school saviors." He points the jest by naming among these "plagues" a former Justice of the Supreme Court and the inspiring genius of the Pratt Institute.

It is not merely an adequate salary that will insure more and better teachers—that must be freely granted. Ultimately we shall need to honor the instructors of youth at their true worth and value to us. But the question of pay is fundamental, as it is immediate. To be a worthy teacher one needs first to be a worthy human being; and no man or woman can be really worthy who permits himself or herself to be deprived of the means of living. Before a man can take much thought about any of the rarer qualities he has to see to it that his body is properly fed and clothed, that his mind is nourished, and that his responsibilities as a citizen are freely met and discharged.

Under the present scale of teachers' salaries this has long been impossible. That, and that only, is why the teaching staff is upward of one thousand short, why the resignations have come from the abler and more courageous sort, and why, while thousands of children are turned away, those who find a desk are less effectively prepared than they might and should be for their future as human beings and as citizens.

The bills now in hand at Albany are said to have encountered serious opposition on the score of economy. There can be no blinking the need of retrenchment. A dollar of the taxpayer's resources counts toward his happiness and well-being as seldom or never before. Yet economy can still be false as well as true. The primary wealth of any nation lies in the minds and hearts of its citizens. No prosperity can be of advantage if the level of our Americanism sinks. We of the present have many hardships to bear; but they will have been borne in vain if the coming generation is ill-equipped to bear the burden of democracy.

BUILDING UP GERMAN FOREIGN TRADE.

Before the war the Hamburg-American Steamship Company was the greatest steamship line in the world, which its routes practically covered. Everywhere its ships went it was a strong and skillful agency, not merely for increasing German foreign trade, but for advancing German influence and power. It had a political and a propagandist as well as a commercial purpose. It is now seeking to rehabilitate itself and German foreign trade and influence. It would be strange if the United States Shipping Board, established for entirely different objects, should now help it and work, unconsciously but none the less certainly, against American shipping and export interests.

If the Shipping Board should enter into an agreement with the Hamburg-American Company to allocate American steamships to the trade routes of that line, at the end of the arrangement would not Germany have largely restored its foreign trade, and by the gradual building of German steamships, a work in which it is now busily engaged, have retired and displaced the American steamships so obligingly and innocently given to its service? The ingenuity and unscrupulousness of method, the absolute devotion to purely German interests, of the Hamburg-American steamship agencies are notorious.

An article in this week's ANNALIST indicates the ingenuousness, not to say simplicity, of the Shipping Board's plan:

> It is reliably understood that the American interests are to be given the exclusive rights to the various Hamburg docks and terminals in German and other ports. But the Hamburg-American Line will have no control over the ships. Furthermore, it is reported that the Directors of the German steamship company are willing to tie themselves up to such a deal for a period of twenty years, whereas the United States interest can withdraw at a moment's notice.

An agreement with Germans can hardly be regarded as binding them unless they are satisfied with it. In a good deal less than twenty years there will be a new German mercantile fleet. American ships will have been discarded. The time to withdraw from the agreement, if it has been made, is now. If American steamships are to ply to Hamburg, they should have their own docks and their own agents. We are informed that American steamship interests have already leased their own docks at Hamburg. The United States needs a rapid service on the Pacific to both coasts of South America, to Scandinavia and Australia. The banner ship of the one Shipping Board passenger line under the American flag has a dizzying speed of twelve knots. American steamers of sufficient speed and frequency of service ought to be allocated to such routes.

The Shipping Board should not allow itself to be a catspaw for the Germans. It should not build up Hamburg and German foreign trade at the expense of American ports, American shipping interests, American foreign trade. The talk about British lines calling at Hamburg is merely dust thrown in the eye of the public. The British lines are almost on the spot, as it were, as are the Dutch and Scandinavian lines. To a large extent the American steamships following the old Hamburg routes would have to desert American ports altogether. German psychology seems still to be imperfectly understood at Washington.

THE FIGHT FOR DELEGATES.

While the other candidates keep on making a great noise in one State and another General WOOD goes right on picking up the delegates. He got yesterday the Maine vote, which consists of eight district delegates and four delegates at large. In the meanwhile his vote in South Dakota has risen so high that the only question now remaining is how far Governor LOWDEN has beaten JOHNSON for second place. It looks as if LOWDEN will be lucky if he beats JOHNSON at all when the final returns come in. POINDEXTER, also industrious, does not seem to have left the post.

Michigan and Ohio come next. Ohio happens to have a Presidential candidate of its own, Senator HARDING, and it has been assumed heretofore that local pride would make the delegation unanimous.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, which may be assumed to know something about its own State, says that HARDING will not only have to fight like a pugilist for the delegation, but will also have a fight on his hands for re-election to the Senate. Apparently there is no quarrel with Mr. HARDING's record as a Senator; the only thing that imperils his re-election is the fact that he has WOOD as a rival. To put it in The Plain Dealer's way:

> Mr. HARDING is fighting not only for the Presidency, but for the consolation prize of retaining his seat in the Senate. Other popular Ohio Republicans are ready to enter the August primary for the Senatorship if the way is cleared. It would be difficult to interpret an anti-Harding-for-President decision as the expression of a pro-Harding-for-Senator sentiment. If Ohio Republicans prefer WOOD to HARDING for President, it will not be because they think HARDING too valuable a man to lose from the Senate.

This is somewhat of a surprise, and yet Illinois, which is Governor LOWDEN's State, was originally supposed to be about to send a solid delegation for him up to Chicago. Then there came rumors that WOOD would take a few delegates away from him in the southern part of the State. Now WOOD is going to make a campaign of eight days in Illinois, and The Chicago Tribune, which certainly can't be suspected of having lost its great political influence in both the northern and southern parts of the State, comes to his defense and support in an almost eulogistic way, even though it does not actually declare for him.

In Michigan the Wood people say that the fight is for second place between JOHNSON and LOWDEN. It would not be surprising. That was the way it turned out in South Dakota, which in every true sense of the word is just as Middle Western as Michigan. Some people think that Michigan consists of Wayne County. It is a great State, and there is more to it than automobiles. Most New Yorkers never heard of the Upper Peninsula, and there is a wide stretch of territory in the Southern before you get to Detroit.

Of course, WOOD cannot hope to carry Illinois, but it would be an unpleasant thing for Governor LOWDEN to go into the convention with a divided delegation from his home State. If The Plain Dealer's statements are to be credited, HARDING has worse than that to fear in Ohio.

SPECIMEN GOVERNMENT PROFITS

Testifying before the Senate Agricultural Committee, Secretary BAKER said that the War Department's calculations showed a profit annually of $2,900,000 by the operation of a $12,500,000 corporation, to be set up in business by the Government for the manufacture of commercial fertilizer at the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant. Cyanamid could be produced for $27 a ton and sold for $37.50, and sulphate of ammonia could be produced for $48.22 a ton and sold for $65. The profits on those sales are inviting, and need to be, for the plant cost $72,000,000, and there is no hope of profit on it. Even as the Secretary was testifying there was passing to the record the sale by the Secretary's department of the picric acid plant at Picron, Ark., which cost $6,200,000, and was sold as junk to the highest bidder at $770,000, without having produced a ton of anything.

These Government profits are fitly paralleled by the Shipping Board's report through Chairman PAYNE of $166,493,994 cash in hand as the result of its operations, not including $150,000,000 owed to the Board by Secretary BAKER's department, and $15,000,000 due from the Food Administration for services rendered. Those less mistrustful of Government profits than ourselves found here profits of $331,000,000 on operations, but said nothing about the several billions which the Government has at risk on its construction or capital account.

Not for a moment are these losses condemned, or even regretted. They are cheap in comparison with submission to Germany, and it is futile to urge that the benefits might have been had more cheaply still. It is human to err, but it is foolish to persist in error, and unworthy of human intelligence to repeat errors unnecessarily. Secretary BAKER's suggestion that commercial fertilizers should be produced by the Government, if at all, through the formation of a corporation, is mentioned for approval of the method, even if with reserve for the object itself. If Governments are to trade they should adopt the methods of traders, which Governments conspicuously fail to do. Traders perish if their plans are bad or are worked badly. Their solvency is tested with every balance sheet. Not so with Government undertakings, which throw good money after bad endlessly, not from malice toward the taxpayers, but because the use of more funds enables them to dodge a present accounting, and to go on in hope of something different turning up.

AN OREGON REFORM.

Like Hesperus, Oregon brings all things. Its people are cordial to innovations. They freely adopt changes. The latest Oregonian idea will be submitted to the voters at the next general election. The State Taxpayers' League wants the session of the Legislature divided into two parts. In the first period, not to last more than forty days, legislation is to be introduced, but none save some appropriation bills can be passed. Sixty days after the end of this first session there is to be a closing session of not more than ten days. In this a four-fifths vote of all the members of both houses is necessary to pass an amendment. The theory is that in the sixty days between sessions every bill will have been carefully considered and that the people will decide and say what bills should be killed and what bills should become law.

Certainly, the chances of "jokers," of huggermugger schemes, seem to be reduced by such a plan; yet doesn't it often happen that seemingly innocent measures are put upon the statute book only to be used years afterward for a purpose not visible or disclosed till then? Still, almost any Oregon notion is interesting.

A NATIONAL REPROACH.

The Republican leaders are plainly responsible for the withholding of justice from the army and navy, the Public Health Service, and the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which are grouped in the Wadsworth or Senate pay bill. Mr. MONDELL, the floor leader in the House, showed his hand when he said the other day:

> We all realize that if the pay of the officers of the army and navy was not excessive before the war, it is possibly not adequate at this time. But the country is full of people who are not now receiving pay much in excess of what they received before the war.

Mr. MONDELL suggested that "they "[the officers of the army and navy] "economize also with the great majority of their fellow-countrymen "until we know where we stand in "the matter of revenue." This seems almost plausible until Mr. MONDELL's comparison is analyzed. The pay of officers in the army and navy is just what it was about fourteen years ago, and it cannot be honestly set off against the wages and salaries of civilians in 1914, which had advanced with increases in the cost of living. It is cruel to urge economy upon army and navy men, who at present, and for some time past, have fallen far behind the civilians in rate of compensation for their services, while the cost of all things worn, used and eaten has appreciated from 75 to 100 per cent.

It isn't a question of economy with the army and navy, but a question of keeping out of debt, even of not getting deeper into debt, and of not being forced out of the service to pay obligations by other work, and to support families actually feeling the pinch of hardship. There is no use mincing words. The neglect of the officers of the army and navy by Congress is a national reproach, if not a scandal. Billions for bonuses for ex-service men, but not a cent for the regulars, seems to reflect the disposition of politicians in Congress.

REPEAL THE DOE LAW.

Valiantly but vainly honest sportsmen and lovers of wild life fought to prevent the passage of the bill at Albany a year ago providing that does could be killed and generally amending the deer law in favor of the hunter to please those who care neither for sport nor for the survival of game animals. It was predicted by opponents of the bill that there would be a wanton slaughter of deer if it became a law, that the killing of does would not only make for bad sportsmanship, but would soon lead to the extermination of the deer, and that there would be more fatal "accidents" in the woods.

Already it is seen that the law was a blunder, that legislators were misled by bad logic and downright misrepresentation. Twenty thousand deer were killed by probably a greater number of hunters who took advantage of a law that required no discrimination between the antlered buck and the doe. The woods swarmed with pothunters who did not know how to use their weapons and who shot recklessly at anything that was moving in their vicinity. Nine hunters were killed and seven wounded. Some of the preserves, it is said, were almost exhausted. So many does were killed that reproduction is going to be slow for some years to come. Three more years of such a law and deer would be threatened with extinction. Dr. AUGUSTUS S. DOWNING does not speak extravagantly when he says that "the "present law is a crime against the "deer."

The Game Commissioners are now demanding that the doe amendment be repealed, that the season be shortened, that no more than one buck shall be killed by a hunter. Opposition to these recommendations is hardly likely to be organized and serious. Certainly the amendments of last year cannot be defended in the light of what happened. The Legislature must choose between intelligent protection of the deer, which makes for good sportsmanship, and their extermination, which would be a reproach to the State of New York.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

New York's Time Controlling.

With most of the railways entering New York already in line as co-operators in daylight saving, and the few others evidently preparing to imitate the example of their more agile-minded competitors, fears of any serious inconveniences to follow the city's determination to set ahead its clocks in Summer, no matter what was done elsewhere, can be dismissed.

Of course, the change from Winter to Summer time will not be as simple and easy as in the previous years since the beneficent innovation was started, and it will be something of a bother to not a few people to have railway station clocks an hour behind those of everybody else, with the consequent necessity to do a little figuring when occasion arises to consult a railway time table. Even this slight task, however, will be imposed only on travelers, and although most of us do more or less traveling, either habitually as commuters or annually as vacationists, there should be no regret that our City Fathers were wise enough to resist the influences and arguments that have been so effective in Congress and in most of the State Legislatures.

For New York's working millions to have lost the extra hour of daylight that can be so cheaply gained would have been nothing less than criminal stupidity, but none the less it took some courage as well as a good deal of sound sense to venture on the experiment of what looked like isolated action. The danger, as can now be seen, was not real. What New York does in such a matter as this her neighbors, and all who do business with her, are obliged to do, or at least to take seriously into account.

Their Caution Was Quite Unnecessary.

It is to be regretted that the railways, or at least all those in this part of the country, did not simplify the situation in regard to Summer time by bringing their schedules promptly into full accord with the system. They could have done so had they chosen, for all the laws in regard to time keeping are permissive rather than mandatory, and there are no penalties for breaking them. The roads all acquiesced in the division of the country into one-hour time zones, not because they had to do so, but because their managers, like everybody else, saw the practical advantages of the plan. For some mysterious reason the queer folks who now oppose daylight saving because it ignores what they call "GOD'S noon" raised no objections then, though they might have done so just as logically and sanely as now.

There is not a like unanimity of approval concerning Summer time. An articulate fraction of the country's inhabitants oppose it for what seem to them practical reasons, but this group does not include even all the farmers, and its members, having shown for several years their ability to survive and prosper under the daylight-saving régime, have poor excuse for demanding that their preference be heeded and not that of the far more numerous workers in other industries.

Anaesthetics Used on Plants.

Several recent dispatches from London have told of an interesting piece of mechanism, the invention of an East Indian scientist, by the use of which the growth and movements of plants were so magnified as to become easily visible as shadowed on a screen. These exhibitions gave the observers of them a clearer realization than they had before of the fact that plants not only are alive, but that their lives are active and purposeful in much the same way as are the lives of animals.

Now the same scientist—who has the fine name of Sir JAGADISH CHANDRA BOSE—has made, he says, the interesting discovery that if plants are to be subjected to a severe shock, such as is involved when they are removed from one place in the ground to another, they are much more likely to survive it if they are anaesthetized before the "operation" is performed. This seems a fanciful assertion, but its accuracy is a matter of fact, not of opinion, and the propounder of the theory says that he has tested it repeatedly in transplanting experiments, and that his success has been remarkable.

It has been known for years that the vital activities of plants, exactly like those of animals, can be slowed down or suspended by the use of anaesthetics, and by this means some florists have prevented blossoming before a desired date like Easter or Christmas. That transplantation is a great shock to all vegetable growth from seedlings to mature trees—that it is often fatal and always delays their progress—is known to every gardener, professional or amateur. It is not at all incredible, therefore, that the removal would be better borne if the plant were in a state describable as one of unconsciousness.

These investigations deserve heeding by people who let what might be called domesticated plants go hungry, and especially thirsty—subject them, that is, to cruelty which they would not dream of inflicting on any animal. That the plants thus neglected "suffer," in the ordinary sense of that word, may not be demonstrable, but they present all the familiar signs of pain, including that of death when the maltreatment is too prolonged or severe, and the possessors of hearts really kind and consciences really sensitive should feel compunction when they forget to water the geraniums on the window ledge.

SAYS CONSPIRACY DEFEATED TREATY

Senator Williams Believes Some Perhaps Hope for the President's Death.

LODGE 'POISON SQUAD HEAD'

Senate Debate Most Confused "Gabfest" in History, He Tells Mississippi Legislature.

JACKSON, Miss, March 26.—The Peace Treaty was rejected by the Senate as a result of a "great conspiracy" against President Wilson, Senator John Sharp Williams declared today in an address to the Mississippi Legislature.

Some of the Republicans, one Senator said, "have prayed as much as they know how to pray, that Woodrow Wilson may have another attack of the disease that has made him an invalid for several months, or even that he may die before his term is ended."

The physicians attending the President, he said, had issued a warning against undue excitement and his Republican enemies tried to give him every cause for excitement.

He reviewed the history of the debate on the League of Nations and characterized it as "the longest, most desultory, most inconclusive, and most incoherent gabfest in human history." The result, he said, was almost enough to make a man doubt both the wisdom of democracy and the providence of God.

The Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, he said, was organized for the fight against the treaty with a bludgeon squad and a poison squad, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge heading the latter.

"I do not see how any man who loves his country can look with unconcern on what has just occurred," he said. "There was a chance for the United States to stand at the head of a council of nations of the world to lead the universe in the pathways of peace. The opportunity was rejected and future historians will refer to the last two years as the 'time of the great conspiracy.' We preached to our boys at home and in France that this war was being fought that wars might be no more. We looked on the sufferings of Belgium and Serbia and resolved what we would do when it was over. Then it finally was over and we have done nothing. So far as we are concerned it appears we are willing to go back to 1914, before it all began.

"The long winded arguments in the Senate were like fiddling as Rome burned, talking with a world in chaos. Do you blame me for saying that I would rather be a dog and bay the moon than to spend one minute in the Senate after the expiration of my term of office?

"The great conspiracy commenced when the President went to Versailles, and every time news came from Versailles that the President advocated or opposed something the conspirators opposed his plans. They are two by four politicians.

"Has any other great institution founded by our forefathers fallen down at the times of stress and travail like the Senate has fallen down?

"When McKinley was shot down, when Garfield was shot, was there a Democrat but expressed sorrow? Has any one seen words of sympathy for the President in any Republican paper? A great man is sick, a great mind and a great character, and they have whispered 'We've got him now.'

"Men sometimes disparage idealists, but they are coarse grained jackasses who do so and do it because they are coarse grained. But the idealists point the way and cheer men's souls."

DRYS SEE OHIO VICTORY.

Wet Majority in the Referendum Vote Is Cut to 159.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 26.—Dry leaders late today predicted victory in the recount of votes cast in the State prohibition referendum.

With the original wet majority of 479 cut to 159, and with further reductions predicted by the drys through alleged errors, prohibition forces expressed the belief that a majority of a few votes for the drys finally would be recorded.

Dry leaders said they expected anti-prohibition forces next week would demand recount of ballots in precincts where the wets claim errors in their favor.

Expected changes in the wet vote include 74 votes in Lucas County, where a mistake in precinct returns is said to have occurred, and 27 votes in a Cleveland precinct, where the dry votes are said to have been lost. It also is possible, according to dry leaders, that the vote in a Lima precinct will be thrown out, where the votes are said to be missing. The latter cut would take 90 votes from the wets. Loss of an additional 14 votes is conceded by the anti-prohibitionists.

The anti-prohibitionists have on file with the Recount Commission a cross-petition in which they allege fraud in thirty precincts throughout the State. Recounting of these and also of all the remaining precincts of the State is asked.

Held for Offering Passover Wine.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., March 26.—A sign in a tailor shop window advertising Passover wine led to the arraignment before a Federal commissioner today of Jacob Kravatz and Jacob Lipshitz, who were held for a hearing on charges of violating the Volstead act. Prohibition officers seized nearly 400 gallons of grape wine, besides a quart and a half of whisky said to have been hidden.

COLONY CLUB ART EXHIBIT.

Modern French and American Paintings on View.

The beautiful exhibition of modern French and American pictures at the Colony Club is a fine Spring tonic for spirits fagged by the symptoms of the Winter. Just at first glance one may wonder at the unconscious lilt of one's mood, for everything in the room is quiet and suggests repose rather than any quickening of nervous sensibilities. That, of course, is the reason. This sound art, full of health and energy and serenity, has nothing at all of neurotic sensationalism. It weeps on no one's shoulder. It appeals to the emotions that have their course in normal life and it calls out all the mental activity you may have to spare.

The magnificent Manet, lent by Mrs. H. P. Whitney, a half length figure of a man smoking a pipe, is a thing to make the truculent Courbet seem ever so little lacking in force. The hands alone tell the whole story of the type. The sense of their strength is communicated so convincingly that your own hand shrinks involuntarily from such a clasp as it might expect if delivered to the mercy of those untamed muscles. The power of the painter affirms itself as unmistakably throughout the work, the simple dignity of which is a rebuke to the hysteria of those moderns who try, no doubt, to make up for their weakness by the violence of its expression.

A small head by Gauguin belonging to Miss Bliss is more simple and rewarding than the large decoration which, splendid as it is, has the look of having been made up of small things. He is picturesque in the decoration, in the head he is profound.

Seurat's "La Jatte" is here, lent by Adolph Lewisohn, and through the flecked and stippled surfaces the artist shows the feeling for line that was strengthened by his classical training. The tail of the monkey in the foreground is in itself a lesson in arabesque. You get the force of a mighty muscle in its curve.

Other French pictures in the exhibition are a still life by Paul Cezanne, a "Reclining Figure" by Degas, a still life by Matisse, "The Artist's Garden" by Monet, two figure subjects by Renoir, two landscapes by Sisley, and an easel picture, "The Inspiration of Christianity," of rare quality, by Puvis de Chavannes.

The Americans are at home in this company. Arthur Davies is almost at his best in his "Freshness of Wounded." "The Stairway," by Charles Sheeler, is in the region of higher mathematics, an abstraction that is stimulating by its vigorous impersonality; the "Still Life," by Henry McFee, on the other hand, is compact of personal feeling, and carries into the extreme left of modernism the sensitiveness and sweetness that characterized Weir and Twachtman in the earlier days. They also are represented with Theodore Robinson, who was of their select company. The others are Mary Cassatt, Paul Burlin, Alfred Collins, Guy Pene Du Bois, Thomas Eakins, Kenneth Frazier, William J. Glackens, Rockwell Kent, George B. Luks, Albert Ryder, Eugene Speicher, Maurice Sterne, Allen Tucker and Max Weber, many men of many minds, held together only by the intrinsic merit and expression of definite personality to be found in their work. For these qualities and not because of the part any of them is playing in one movement or another they were represented in the present exhibition. A number of the pictures are lent by artists and dealers, the others by private collectors.

RESENT OUR NOTE TO CHILE.

American Chamber Records Disapproval of Its Terms.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The State Department today gave out a summary of the notes sent by the American Government to Chile regarding recent disturbances at La Paz, Bolivia. This was made public simultaneously with the receipt through press channels of word that the American Chamber of Commerce at Valparaiso had "unanimously registered its disapproval" of the American note.

The statement authorized by Secretary Colby reads in part:

"On March 17 the American Ambassador in Chile was instructed by the Department of State to inform the Chilean Minister for Foreign Affairs that the Government of the United States had informed the Bolivian Government that it viewed with the gravest apprehension the attack by a mob on the Peruvian Legation and Consulate and on the houses and stores of Peruvians in La Paz. The Bolivian Government was also informed that in the opinion of the Department of State any agitation tending to endanger peace on the American Continent would be a calamity which would place the gravest responsibility upon those who countenanced it.

"The Ambassador was further instructed to inform the Chilean Minister for Foreign Affairs that this department would deplore mobilization in Chile, and that similar representation had been made to the governments of Peru and Bolivia regarding mobilization in those countries."

VALPARAISO, March 25.—The American Chamber of Commerce today unanimously registered its disapproval of the terms of the note recently sent to Chile by the United States Government. The chamber sent this message to Joseph H. Shea, American Ambassador.

HOOVER LAUDS BOY SCOUTS.

W. G. McAdoo Made Honorary Officer at Tenth Anniversary Dinner.

High tributes were paid to the Boy Scouts by Herbert C. Hoover, William G. McAdoo, and other noted men who spoke last night at the tenth anniversary dinner of the Boy Scouts of America at the Hotel Pennsylvania, which closed the two days' meeting of the National Council and National Executive Committee of the organization. Many men who have helped to make the Boy Scout movement a success were present, and Mr. Hoover told them that some of the biggest problems he had faced as Food Administrator had been made easier by the splendid co-operation of the Boy Scouts in the production and handling of food supplies.

In presenting Mr. McAdoo Mortimer L. Schiff read resolutions adopted by the National Executive Board yesterday making the ex-Secretary of the Treasury an honorary Vice President of the organization. He is the fourth to be accorded such an honor, the other three being ex-President Taft, President Wilson and Dan Beard.

"The Boy Scout movement is of the greatest significance and importance in the development of the citizenship on which the future of this country is to rest," said Mr. McAdoo in accepting the framed resolutions.

PROTEST BY BEROLZHEIMER.

City Chamberlain Warns Against Danger of Abolishing Office.

City Chamberlain Philip Berolzheimer made public yesterday his reply to former Assistant Corporation Counsel Edward J. McGoldrick, now a Supreme Court Justice, opposing the Downing-Simpson bill to abolish the office of City Chamberlain. Mr. Berolzheimer said that abolition of the office was a matter of little concern to him personally, but declared that enactment of the bill into law would remove the only check upon the City Controller, so that no one but the latter would know whether the Finance Department of the city was being honestly conducted.

5,000 for Teachers' Pay Bill.

The General Organization of the Stuyvesant High School, representing 5,000 pupils, has pledged itself to do all it can to secure the passage of the Lockwood-Donohue teachers' salary bill, and has asked the city authorities, the Governor and the Legislature to support it.

JERSEY SUBURBS ADOPTING NEW TIME

TWO MORE RAILROADS JOIN

Erie and Long Island Will Save an Hour—Commuters Have Breakfast Problem.

With New York City lined up solidly in favor of daylight saving, which goes into effect throughout the State tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock, the indications yesterday were that New Jersey, and particularly that part of it included in the metropolitan district, would go on a daylight saving basis also, regardless of the action of the New Jersey Legislature in refusing to adopt a State law. Movements looking to a voluntary observation of daylight saving time made rapid headway in nearby Jersey cities in compliance with the appeal of Governor Edwards to the Jerseyites to set their clocks and watches ahead in spite of what the Legislature failed to do.

Impetus to the daylight saving movement in New Jersey was given by announcements from additional railroads that they had decided to fall into line in the matter of saving the extra hour of daylight. The Erie joined the ranks of the transportation systems intending to conform in one way or another to the new time of day, and announced that it would set its clocks ahead instead of operating on Eastern standard time. The Long Island Railroad also posted notices advising its patrons that its timepieces would be set ahead. Altogether the railroads that will operate on the new time include these two and the Central Railroad of New Jersey. Representing the traction companies, the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company and Brooklyn City Railroad Company, which yesterday announced their intention of turning the hands of the clock forward one hour; the New York Railways Company, Third Avenue Railway, and municipal ferries.

For the convenience of its patrons traveling to and from New York City, the Pennsylvania Railroad announced last night the re-arrangement of local schedules to conform with the daylight saving plan in New York City. The schedules affected will be those covering train service between New York City and Point Pleasant, N. J., and intermediate stations in both directions, in addition to local trains originating or terminating in the territory between New York, Newark, Elizabeth, Rahway, Perth Amboy, New Brunswick and East Millstone, N. J. These trains will be operated on Eastern standard time, but will be advanced an hour on the present schedules.

The trains of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad between Newark and New York City stopping at Manhattan Transfer for passengers for downtown New York, will also be advanced one hour. Pennsylvania Railroad trains having connections at Manhattan Transfer will be protected wherever necessary by additional stops of the Hudson & Manhattan high speed electric trains.

Those railroads that will operate on Eastern standard time, but will put commutation trains ahead an hour for the convenience of travelers to New York City are the New York Central, New Haven, Lackawanna and probably the Pennsylvania.

Erie to Set Clocks Ahead.

The Erie Railroad Company, New York region; the New Jersey and New York Railroad Company and the New York Susquehanna and Western Railroad Company jointly issued the following announcement:

"To serve the convenience of the public and conform with New York City Ordinance No. 51, fixing the standard of time throughout the City of New York, the hands of the clock in Erie Railroad stations, Port Jervis and East, including all branches and New York, Susquehanna and Western Railroad stations, will be advanced at 2 A. M. to 3 A. M. Sunday, March 28, 1920.

"On and after that date all trains will be operated, Port Jervis and East, on daylight saving time, except Trains Nos. 3, 5, 7, 17, 27, 4, 6, 8, 30 and 48, which will be run one hour later than the time shown in the current tables until time tables are reissued. Signed, J. J. Mantell, Manager."

The New York, Ontario and Western Railroad will likewise conform to the daylight saving plan in New York State and city, although its trains will be operated on Eastern Standard time. Trains departing from New York will be started an hour earlier in order to avoid confusion among New Yorkers using its service. For instance, a train due to leave here at 12 o'clock noon will be advanced to 1 P. M.

The Brooklyn Supreme Court will operate under daylight saving hours, it was announced yesterday by the Board of Justices, including Justices Isaac Kapper, Russell Benedict and Charles Kelby. The Federal Courts in Manhattan will also conform to the new schedule of time, according to an announcement of the Federal District Judges.

New Jersey Faces Confusion.

A committee of the New York Board called upon Mayor Gillen yesterday and urged him to issue a proclamation requesting the people to observe the new time schedule of New York City. The Prudential Insurance Company of Newark will go on a daylight saving basis Monday, and instructed its hundreds of employes yesterday to set their clocks and watches ahead. Many large business concerns of Newark will do likewise. Paterson went on record during the day as in favor of daylight saving, in compliance with the appeal of the Governor, and Mayor Frank J. Sullivan issued a proclamation calling on all citizens to observe the new time tomorrow. East Orange also went over to the daylight saving forces yesterday when Mayor Charles H. Martens issued a proclamation.

FOR LIGHT SAVING OPTION.

Attorney General Newton Would Not Alter Farm Time.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, March 25.—Enactment of a daylight saving bill that would permit the cities of the State to adopt daylight saving and allow the rural communities to operate under normal time would solve the conflict over daylight saving, Attorney General Charles D. Newton declared today.

"There is no question but daylight saving is decidedly disadvantageous to the farmers," he said, "and because of this the farmers should not be embarassed by enforced compliance with such a law. On the other hand residents of the cities, especially those who work indoors, are greatly benefited by this extra hour of fresh air and sunlight and they should be granted this benefit."

Unless some action is taken by the Legislature serious complications in business are bound to arise from misunderstandings of Federal and State time, the Attorney General pointed out.

Lieut. Regan Heads Honor Legion.

FAKIRS GIVE BALL IN 'SAHARA DESERT'

John Barleycorn and Water Lead the Grand March at the Hotel Biltmore.

SYMBOLIC TRAIN FOLLOWS

Throng of Dancers in Costumes Representing Drinks of the Past, Present and Future.

The Society of American Fakirs staged their annual ball last night in the ballroom of the Hotel Biltmore, with a large turnout of New York's artists and illustrators in Oriental and mystic costumes.

The ballroom was transformed into a representation of the Great Sahara Desert, and John Barleycorn and Water led the grand march, followed by a train, whose costumes were symbolic of drinks, past, present and future.

The Fakirs is an organization of artists and illustrators who helped to win the war by their poster art. Their ball last season was a success, but the impression was noised about that owing to prohibition the ball would not be held this year. But the jolllification seemed to go just the same with an elaborate program of entertainment. Some dressed as babies and carried big nursing bottles of milk, not milk punch.

SCORES BONUS STAND OF LEGION LEADERS

Compton Includes Roosevelt, Hamilton Fish, Jr., and W. H. Hayes in Attack.

Leaders in the American Legion, including Theodore Roosevelt, Hamilton Fish, Jr., and Wade H. Hayes, State Commander, were attacked yesterday for their "ear-to-the-ground" attitude on the bonus question by George Brokaw Compton, Chairman of the New York County Committee. In a letter mailed to the Presidents of all the posts in the county, Mr. Compton, who is leading a fight against bonuses within the county organization, "declared that their leadership is responsible for the stain of self-seeking that has been put upon the legion."

Mr. Compton, in his letter, asks a full attendance from the 138 posts in the county at a meeting on Monday at the Hotel Astor, when the fight to place the legion on record as opposed to flat bonuses will be renewed. He suggests a national referendum on the bonus question and asks that, in the meantime, "the legion lobby be withdrawn from its 'friendly attacks' upon Congress." The letter, he says, expresses his "personal views."

MRS. ELBRIDGE T. GERRY DIES

Senator's Mother Was Member of Two of America's Oldest Families.

Mrs. Louisa M. Gerry, wife of Elbridge T. Gerry, Commodore of the New York Yacht Club from 1886 to 1893, died yesterday morning at her residence in this city, 2 East Sixty-first Street, following an illness of several weeks. She was born at Staatsburg, the eldest daughter of the late Robert J. Livingston, thus being by birth and alliance a member of two of the oldest families in American history. Her great grandfather, Robert R. Livingston, Chancellor of this State, administered the oath of office to George Washington on the steps of the old City Hall on Wall Street.

She was married to Mr. Gerry in 1867. Four of their eight children are living: United States Senator Peter G. Gerry of Rhode Island, who married Miss Mathilde S. Townsend; Robert L. Gerry, whose wife was Miss Cornelia Harriman, daughter of the late E. H. Harriman, and the Misses Angelica and Mabel Gerry. The latter is now in England. The other members of the immediate family were at the bedside yesterday morning.

The social gatherings at the Gerry mansion, at the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Sixty-first Street, were long noted for their distinction and exclusiveness. During the last ten years, however, Mrs. Gerry had done little entertaining, appearing rarely in her opera box and living chiefly at her Newport home.

Funeral services will be held Monday at the Church of the Transfiguration.

William T. Smedley, Painter.

William T. Smedley, the artist, died yesterday morning, his sixty-second birthday, at his home of twenty-one years in Lawrence Park, Bronxville, following an illness of two months. Until the approach of his sickness he had been painting as usual at his studio at 58 West Seventy-seventh Street.

Smedley as a youth worked at various jobs around a local newspaper office. Thence to an engraver's shop and to the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts. Later studies took him to New York and to Paris, where he labored under the guidance of Jean Paul Laurens.

Gen. Bernhard Koerner Dies.

BERLIN, March 26.—The death of General Bernhard Emil Koerner, the noted German officer who directed the reorganization of the Chilean army after the civil war of 1891 in that country, was announced today by the Vossische Zeitung.

General Koerner went to Chile in 1885, and after his work in reorganizing the army there served as Chief of the General Staff. He was born in 1846.

J. Seaver Page Dies at 75.

J. Seaver Page, who was Secretary of the Union League Club in 1890 and 1891, died last night after a long illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur W. Francis, 119 East Fifty-sixth Street, where he had resided for several years. He was born in this city 75 years ago, and early entered the employ of F. W. Devoe & Co., paint manufacturers. He became a member of the firm and on the consolidation with the C. T. Raynolds Co., remained as a director of the new corporation.

Julius Hauser Dead.

Julius Hauser, who served one term as Treasurer of New York State following his election on the Democratic ticket in 1906, died yesterday at his home on Green Avenue, Sayville, L. I., after two years' illness of cancer of the stomach. He was born in Baden, Germany, in 1854, and came here as a boy of 15 and learned the baker's trade in this city, opening his own shop in Sayville in 1878.

Dr. Helene S. Lassen.

Dr. Helene S. Lassen, for forty years a practicing physician in Brooklyn and one of the organizers of the Memorial Dispensary for Women and Children, died on Thursday at her residence, 152 Henry Street, Brooklyn. Dr. Lassen was graduated from the New York Medical College Hospital for Women and was an ardent suffragist. She was for two terms Treasurer of the Kings County Homeopathic Medical Society. For the last thirty-five years she had made her home with Dr. Adele Culnet.

LAGUARDIA DEFIED BY WOMAN TEACHER

"Sewers of Europe" Phrase Stirs Angry Outbreak, but Rebuke Is Swift.

PAY BILL NOT APPROVED

Estimate Board, by Vote of 11 to 5, Files Resolution of Indorsement.

After President F. H. LaGuardia of the Board of Aldermen and Miss Isabelle Ennis, a school teacher and head of the Bureau of Continuation Classes of the Board of Education had had an argument which resulted in Miss Ennis appealing to the Mayor for protection, the Board of Estimate yesterday voted down a proposal of Borough President Henry H. Curran to indorse the Lockwood-Donohue bill providing for increased salaries for teachers. The Mayor flatly declared that he was opposed to the bill.

A group of school teachers were present to help along the board's approval of the bill and Miss Ennis made a plea for better pay for school principals.

"The sewers of Europe are being dumped on our shores—" Miss Ennis began, when President LaGuardia interrupted by angrily exclaiming:

"What do you mean by the sewers of Europe? How dare you refer to the little children as sewers of Europe? It's a shame, it's an outrage and I shall report you to the Board of Education. You will have to apologize within twenty-four hours for applying that ugly term to innocent little children."

"I claim the protection of the Mayor," continued Miss Ennis. "I do not intend to apologize to Mr. LaGuardia or to the children. Mr. LaGuardia did not allow me to finish what I was going to say. I have gone to Italy ten times to study the children there so as to be prepared to do the best I could for them."

"Do you teach?" asked the Aldermanic President.

"I do," replied Miss Ennis, "and I teach your children."

"What do you mean, my children?" demanded Mr. LaGuardia. Before Miss Ennis could answer, he continued:

"You should be ashamed of yourself. Don't you ever come here again and use such language. How do you know what I am?"

"I have been told," replied the school teacher.

"I was born in America," declared the Aldermanic President.

"I want Mr. LaGuardia to understand that I, also, was born here," said Miss Ennis. "I am an American citizen and a citizen of this city and I shall come before this board every time I have any business to do or anything to say."

Mayor Hylan suggested that the agitation for higher salaries was mere propaganda.

"Propaganda!" exclaimed Miss Ennis. "Is it propaganda to send 70,000 children in our schools out in the streets for want of teachers? I think you used a very unfortunate word when you said propaganda."

RAID SCHUMM'S CAFE.

Proprietor and Two Bartenders and Sundry Bottles Seized.

Prohibition agents descended on Fred Schumm's Chop House, at 395 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, late yesterday afternoon, confiscated several bottles with their contents and arrested Schumm and his two bartenders, charging the former with maintaining a nuisance and the latter two with having liquor in violation of the prohibition law. Later all three pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner Edmund D. Hennessey and were held in $500 bail each.

Wednesday night burglars entered the cellar of Phillip F. Timpson at 23 Fairview Avenue, Orange, N. J., and stole four bottles of gin, valued at $20; three bottles of Scotch whisky, valued at $30, and a bottle of cordial, valued at $10.

GOVERNOR DEFENDS HIS WELFARE BILLS

SAYS IT BREEDS DISCONTENT

Warns Against Defeating Laws Indirectly and Throwing Out Assemblymen.

Governor Alfred E. Smith defended his program of welfare legislation and urged the necessity of the reorganization of the State Government on a business basis in a speech at a dinner of the Democratic Women of the Seventeenth Senatorial District at the Hotel Commodore last evening. The Governor stated that there were two theories of government in this State.

"One group believes that the Constitution and the statute law is intended only for the protection of property and money," he said. "The other group believes that law in a democracy is not a divine principle but exists for the greatest good to the greatest number and for the purpose of meeting the needs of present day society without injury to money or property. That is the theory I hold and the theory of the Democratic Party."

Governor Smith declared that he would abide by the decision of the majority of both houses of the Legislature, if the minimum wage bill, the health insurance bill and the other bills on his program could be brought to a vote, but he asserted that it was unfair and a breeder of discontent to have it known that interested persons were able to throttle progressive measures in committee.

"When I see organized effort outside the Legislature trying to prevent even a discussion of these bills on the floor of the Assembly and an offshoot of the Associated Manufacturers taking the name of the League for Americanism, it is a different matter," he said. "Whether the bills pass or fall, the State should not tolerate that.

"The League for Equal Opportunity, the Minimum Wage bill, is not calculated to injure anybody's opportunity. It is a step taken by the State for the preservation of the greatest asset of the State, the future mother. The covenant of the League of Nations has an article binding every signatory to forbid the employment of women in industry at night. I stand behind the minimum wage law because I believe it is in the interest of the health and welfare of the women and children of the State."

Governor Smith said that there should be no partisan politics in the proposal to reorganize the State Government by the consolidation of the present 187 commissions and boards into eighteen great departments.

The Governor criticised the Republican majority in the Assembly for opposing all efforts to go forward by legislation.

"You cannot stop disorder and discontent," he said, "you cannot stop the man from shouting for the overthrow of the Government on the street corner by defeating legislation in an indirect way and by throwing four or five men out of the Assembly."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, said he did not wish to claim credit for the Democratic Party in having won the war, as that was the achievement of the American people.

"But I will say," he continued, "that in spite of ninety-seven investigations, costing more than $2,000,000, they still have to unearth an enbalmed beef or paper shoe scandal."

Miss Harriett May Mills, delegate at large to the Democratic National Convention, said she had joined the Democratic Party because she believed it had the ideals and the men necessary to carry them out. Joseph A. Kellogg, Public Service Commissioner, requested the women to work for the election of Democratic Assemblymen at the next election, pointing out that the Assembly was the stronghold of the Republican reactionaries in this State.

About 600 persons were present. Mrs. Alice Duer Miller presided. At the table with Governor Smith were Mrs. John Blair, President of the organization; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and Mrs. Montgomery Hare.

Others present included Mrs. Gordon Auchincloss, Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, Mrs. Nicholas Biddle, Mrs. Newbold Le Roy Edgar, Mrs. E. P. Morgan, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, Miss Ethel Stebbins, Mrs. Arthur O. Choate, Mrs. W. T. Emmet, Mrs. Edith Parsons Morgan, Mrs. M. Morgenthau, Mrs. Grenville Barker, Miss Virginia Potter, Mrs. James Roosevelt, Mrs. C. L. Tiffany, Mrs. Schuyler N. Warren, Mrs. Vanderbilt Webb and Miss Rose Young.

HARRY M. WINITSKY GUILTY OF ANARCHY

Executive Secretary of New York Communist Party Will Be Sentenced Monday.

Harry M. Winitsky, Executive Secretary of the New York Communist Party, was convicted of criminal anarchy yesterday by the jury in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court. The verdict was reached in one hour and ten minutes, less than half the time taken by a jury in February to convict ex-Assemblyman Benjamin Gitlow on a similar charge. Justice Weeks said Winitsky's sentence would be announced on Monday. William J. Fallon, his attorney, notified the Court that he would move for a new trial.

This is the second conviction obtained by Assistant District Attorney Alexander I. Rorke on information and evidence based on the investigations and raids made by the Lusk Committee. Twenty others are to be tried. The most prominent of the defendants waiting trial are J. E. Ferguson, an attorney, of Chicago; C. E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland, and James Larkin, the strike agitator.

What to Do when You "Can't Sleep"

WHEN anyone fails to get good sound sleep every night something ought to be done about it. It will not do much good to call in the doctor unless you are sure your bed is not at fault.

Sleeplessness is often caused by the slight swaying or creaking of a poorly constructed bed —a wooden bed, or ordinary metal bed, or a spring that lets you down into a hollow.

Many an "insomniac" has found sound, dreamless sleep again by using a Simmons Metal Bed.

The Simmons Metal Bed is noiseless. A Simmons Spring is always resilient and restful—never sags or humps.

That is why people sleep so much better in a Simmons Bed and Spring than in a wooden bed or ordinary metal bed.

And that is why Simmons Company is specializing in Twin Beds. One sleeper does not disturb the other, or communicate colds and other infections.

With the addition of Mattresses to their well-known Metal Beds and Springs, the Simmons line is the most popular complete sleeping equipment in America today—built for sleep.

Sold in the stores of leading merchants all over the country.

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

Sleep is a big subject! Write us for the brochure, "What Leading Medical Journals and Health Magazines Say about Separate Beds and Sound Sleep." Free of charge.

DECLARE WILSON WON'T RUN AGAIN

Intimates Assert That He Is Opposed to Any Third-Term Idea.

BUT WOULD CONTROL PARTY

His Purpose Said to be to Dictate the Issues of the Coming Campaign.

LETTER TO PALMER QUOTED

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—According to a person who is in a position to know President Wilson stands with former Presidents of the United States who were opposed to a third term. It was said today that those closest to the President knew that he did not intend to seek a third term or use the power of his office to dictate the nomination of his successor.

It was declared that a leading member of the Democratic National Committee had stated that President Wilson, who is now in control of the party machinery, would not relinquish it by announcing his intention to retire at the end of his term. To do so, it was pointed out, would plunge the party into bitter factional warfare at the San Francisco convention and prevent the President's friends from dictating the party platform. While it is not the purpose of the President to seek the nomination it is his purpose, it is said, to largely mold a platform and write into it the issues which he thinks the Democratic candidate must support.

In support of the assertion that Mr. Wilson intends to retire at the end of his term it is declared that Vance McCormick of Pennsylvania, former Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, satisfied himself on that before he consented to become associated with the campaign of Attorney General Palmer for the Presidential nomination. Mr. McCormick is regarded as being as close to the President on political matters as any man in the party. The President selected him as manager of the last Presidential campaign, and the friendship that grew up then has continued. Men familiar with the situation believe Mr. Wilson informed Mr. McCormick of his attitude on a third term before Attorney General Palmer entered the race.

Wilson's Letter to Palmer.

Mr. Palmer also is credited with being familiar with the President's views. In a letter written on Feb. 5, 1913, twenty-seven days before Mr. Wilson was inaugurated, the latter wrote Mr. Palmer, then a member of the House, his views on the proposed Constitutional amendment limiting the President's tenure to a single term of six years. It was the President's opinion which caused defeat of the amendment in the House. It was adopted by the Senate.

In February, 1916, when Mr. Wilson was about to seek renomination despite the single term plank in the 1912 platform, the letter was made public by Mr. Palmer with the consent of the White House. Several sentences in it show that the President approved of the American tradition against a third term.

"Put the present customary limitation of two terms into the Constitution, if you do not trust the people to take care of themselves, but make it two terms (not one, because four years is often too long), and give the President a chance to win the full service by proving himself fit for it," said the President.

"As things now stand, the people might more likely be cheated than served by further limitations of the President's eligibility," said the President. "His fighting power in their behalf would be immensely weakened. No one will fear a President except those whom he can make fear the elections. We singularly bely our own principles, by seeking to determine, by fixing Constitutional provision, what the people shall determine for themselves and are perfectly competent to determine for themselves. We cast a doubt upon the whole theory of popular government.

Can't Go Two Ways.

"I believe that we should fatally embarrass ourselves if we made the Constitutional changes. If we want our Presidents to fight our battles for us we should give them the means, the legitimate means, the means their opponent will always have. Strip them of everything else but the right to appeal to the people, but leave them that; suffer them to be leaders; absolutely prevent them from being bosses. We would otherwise appear to be going in two opposite directions. We are seeking in every way to extend the power of the people, but in the matter of the Presidency we fear and distrust the people and seek to bind them hand and foot by rigid Constitutional provision. My own mind is not agile enough to go both ways."

As indicating that the President is opposed to using the power of his office to determine the nominee at San Francisco, those who say the President will remain neutral in the race point to this paragraph in his letter.

"It is intolerable that any President should be permitted to determine who should succeed him—himself or another—by patronage or coercion, or by any sort of control of the machinery by which delegates to the nominating conventions are chosen. There ought never to be another Presidential nominating convention, and there need never be another. Several of the States have successfully solved that difficulty in the regard to the choice of their Governors, and Federal law can solve it the same way with regard to the choice of Presidents.

"The nominations should be made directly by the people at the polls. Conventions should determine nothing but party platforms, and should be made up of men who would be expected, if elected, to carry those platforms into effect. It is not necessary to attend to the people's business by constitutional amendment if you will only actually put the business into the people's own hands."

Must Be Party Leader.

That Mr. Wilson, twenty-seven days before he became President, foresaw that the President's office was to become more powerful than in the past is seen in another reference in which he says:

"I must speak with absolute freedom and candor in this matter or not speak at all; and it seems to me that the present position of the Presidency in our actual system, as we use it, is quite abnormal and must eventually lead to something very different. He is expected by the nation to be the leader of his party as well as the chief officer of the Government, and the country will take no evcuses from him. He must play the part, and play it successfully, or lose the country's confidence.

"He must be Prime Minister, as much concerned with the guidance of legislation as with the just and orderly execution of law, and he is the spokesman of the nation in everything, even the most momentous and delicate dealings of the Government with foreign nations. Why in such circumstances should he be responsible to no one for four long years?"

Friends of the Administration charge that the anti-third term speech of Representative Humphreys of Mississippi in the House yesterday was much desired by the Bryan followers. In certain circles it is believed that Mr. Bryan will do what he can to spread the demand for a statement from the President regarding a third term. Administration advisers say the President will have nothing to say about a third term, and will not permit his administration to be used to promote the candidacy of any Presidential aspirant.

Doubts He Will Take Part in Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 26.—A dispatch to The Sun from its Washington correspondent says:

"Those who have had the opportunity to see President Wilson since his physicians have permitted him to go motoring receive the impression that his physical improvement in recent weeks has been pronounced and that he is slowly but steadily regaining his health. He has lost weight, it is true, but he is not as thin as some of the photographs published in the newspapers would indicate. He is possibly ten to fifteen pounds under weight, but there is no haggardness about his face.

"Notwithstanding the President's continued improvement, it is extremely doubtful if he will again appear before Congress or take an active part in the coming campaign. His physicians feel that it would be inadvisable to subject him to the strain involved in public speaking. This, moreover, would probably remove him from a third term campaign, even if there were no other considerations. And there are other considerations, the most important being, it is said, Mr. Wilson's firm conviction that two terms is enough for any President."

Report Catholic Missionaries Slain by Turks in Armenia

ROME, March 26.—The Vatican has received reports of new massacres of Christians in Armenia. In addition to large numbers of native victims several Catholic missionaries are declared to have been killed.

The Pope, in order to relieve the great suffering in Armenia, has sent 50,000 lire to be distributed among the needy.

FIND KIDNAPPED BOY IN LEXINGTON HOTEL

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 26.—With Paul Little, twelve-year-old son of E. R. Little, Lexington capitalist, safe at home, authorities tonight were searching for two men who kidnapped the lad Wednesday afternoon and held him for thirty-eight hours in a room at a local hotel.

The boy, after being kidnapped, was taken to the hotel and locked in the bathroom. During his long imprisonment he was given only a little fruit and a piece of cake to eat. Every few hours during the period his captors terrorized him by threats against his life. A revolver was often thrust into his face by the two men. Shortly after 7 o'clock this morning the boy's captors left the hotel, leaving the door of the bathroom unlocked. The boy entered the room and cautiously telephoned to the Little home.

His sister answered the telephone, and Paul screamed with relief as he told her of his whereabouts. The father of the boy went immediately to the hotel. The door of the room was broken down, and Paul rushed into his father's arms.

Describing his abduction, the boy said he had been lured to the hotel by one of the kidnappers, who offered him a dollar to deliver a box of candy. He was told repeatedly by the men that he would be killed if he made any outcry, he said.

The kidnappers feared arrest if they appeared on the street to obtain the $25,000 ransom money placed in a public garbage can and a half hour after it had been deposited Mr. Little removed it.

SWANN TO TRY McMULLIN.

Will Contest Order Transferring Case to Federal Court.

District Attorney Swann announced yesterday afternoon that he was preparing papers for submission to the Federal Court in relation to the order of Judge Learned Hand and transferring the trial of Stewart N. McMullin, a prohibition enforcement agent, on an indictment charging him with the murder of Henry Carlton, from the State to the Federal Court. He said the papers probably would be filed with the Federal Court some time today, and that the indictment returned by the County Grand Jury, in addition to evidence gathered against McMullin by John E. Joyce, Assistant District Attorney in charge of the Homicide Bureau of Mr. Swann's office, would be surrendered to the Federal Court under protest.

TEA FOR HOOVER WOMEN.

Mrs. Oscar S. Straus Entertains Republican Candidates for Delegate.

Mrs. Oscar S. Straus gave a tea yesterday afternoon at her home, 3 West Seventy-sixth Street, in the interest of Miss Mabel Choate and Julian S. Myrick, who are running in the Seventeenth Congressional District for delegates to the Republican National Convention on a pledge to support Herbert Hoover for the nomination for President. About 100 persons, all enrolled Republicans, were present.

The gathering was enthusiastic. A number of informal speeches were made, one by a traveling man telling of the widespread Hoover sentiment he encountered on a trip through the West.

TOY BALLOON KILLS BOY.

Youngster, 5, Celebrating Mother's Recovery, Chokes to Death.

A two-cent balloon caused the death of Papsy Doysi, a five-year-old boy, in his backyard at 360 Rockaway Avenue, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon. The youngster put the small airbag into his mouth before inflating it, and it was sucked into his threat, choking him.

Papsy's mother had just returned from the hospital, and gave the boy 2 cents to celebrate her recovery. He ran out and bought the toy balloon, and in a few minutes the fatal accident happened.

NO LAVISH OUTLAY, WOOD MEN DECLARE

THOMPSON DENIES GIFTS

National Committeeman Working Only for Party at Large, He Explains.

Charges from various sources that large sums of money are being raised to finance the campaign of Major Gen. Leonard Wood for the Republican Presidential nomination brought emphatic denials yesterday from his Eastern campaign managers that any unusual amount of money was being disbursed or that illegal methods of any kind were being used. The managers were aroused especially over the charge of Senator Borah of Idaho in the United States Senate that a combination of interests was being formed to control the Republican National Convention.

"The Wood managers are perfectly willing to go to the mat on Senator Borah's statement," declared Congressman Norman J. Gould. "The charge that the Wood managers are trying to dominate the Chicago convention is ridiculous. We are only trying to bring General Wood's character, personality and achievements befittingly before the public so as to crystallize the great popular sentiment for him."

Thinks Victory Invites Attack.

"There are six candidates seriously contending for the Republican nomination," said Mr. Gould, "and it is rather peculiar that only one of them should be singled out for such an attack, based only upon hearsay and not facts. Perhaps this antagonism has been aroused following another victory for General Wood in the South Dakota primaries, which, while it might arouse fear in the hearts of our opponents, should not make it necessary for them to go to such lengths to discredit a candidacy that springs directly from the people, and one which wins the popular choice whenever and wherever the people have an opportunity to express their choice in the party primaries.

"The further statement made in the Senate that E. C. Doheny, head of the Mexican Petroleum Company, had contributed to the Wood campaign committee was denied over Mr. Doheny's signature in a statement to the press. While it is not our practice to reply to assertions of individuals, even though it be a Senator, regarding an individual case like this, in view of Mr. Doheny's denial we can further say that until his name was brought out in the Senate no one at these headquarters knew him or had heard of him. This speaks for itself."

The charge that the Wood campaign managers were paying $2.50 each for testimonials in Indiana was hotly denied by Mr. Gould, who characterized it as an insult to prominent persons who gladly volunteered their appreciation of General Wood. In a statement Mr. Gould said:

"We have given to the press indorsements from Robert W. Chambers, the novelist; Booth Tarkington, Mary Roberts Rinehart, David Jayne Hill, former Ambassador to Germany; Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War; Franklin McVeagh, former Secretary of the Treasury; Charles M. Schwab, Frederic Coudert, John Grier Hibben, and many other distinguished men and women. To intimate that such men and women could be induced by $2.50 to write a letter in praise of General Wood is utterly absurd, and I am surprised that a newspaper of the standing of The Sun, having behind it the illustrious traditions of Dana and Bennett, should print as first-page news a statement so obviously incorrect and petty.

"As a matter of fact we have thousands of letters of indorsements voluntarily written and sent to us, and we are not reduced to the necessity of buying them at $2.50 each. We have more letters of indorsement of General Wood than The Sun and The New York Herald or any other paper could print in a day's issue, even if all the pages of the paper were devoted exclusively to their publication."

W. B. Thompson Replies.

William Boyce Thompson, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Republican National Committee, in a letter yesterday emphatically denied that he had directly or indirectly contributed to General Wood's campaign fund or to the campaign fund of any other candidate. The letter, addressed to the editor of the New York World, in part follows:

"Returning to the city, I have just seen the article in last Monday's World concerning alleged contributions to the expenses of General Wood's campaign, and have noted the statement that I have so contributed.

"Feeling sure, as I do, that it is your desire that The World shall report the truth, I am constrained to advise you that the assertion as to my connection with the matter is absolutely false. I have not directly nor indirectly contributed to General Wood's fund nor to the campaign fund of any other candidate. I have the very highest regard for all of those men who are candidates for the Republican nomination, and shall do all that I can consistently and honestly do to elect the nominee, all to the end that we may conclude the bankruptcy of the Democratic leadership in Washington. I have not, however, participated in, nor shall I participate in any way in, the pre-convention activities in the selecting of the candidate."

At the Wood headquarters a telegram was received from Charles B. Carter, Chairman of the Wood League of Maine, which read: "Maine's twelve delegates were indorsed by the Leonard Wood League of Maine. The Wood slate was selected without opposition. This vote of the Maine Republican convention reflects the overwhelming Wood sentiment throughout the State."

SANTA FE, N. M., March 26.—New Mexico's six delegates at large to the national Republican convention were instructed for Major Gen. Leonard Wood for the Presidential nomination by the State Republican Convention in session here tonight.

The action came after a motion to indorse General Wood without instructions was voted down, 160 to 80. The vote to instruct for General Wood was unanimous.

READY FOR A FORD INQUIRY.

Michigan Democratic Committee Offers to Join in Investigation.

DETROIT, Mich., March 26.—The Democratic State Central Committee of Michigan will gladly join Governor Sleeper in the prosecution of any person connected with the Democratic campaign of 1918 who may have transgressed the law, Thad B. Preston, Chairman of the committee, informed the Governor today in a letter replying to an interview quoting the Executive as suggesting a Federal investigation of the expenditures in Henry Ford's behalf in the Senatorial campaign.

The letter asserts the sworn statement of receipts and expenditures by the committee shows a total of $53,284 expended in the campaign for all State and Congressional candidates and Mr. Ford's candidacy. Besides this there was expended $1,875 by the "Ford-for-Senator Committee," Mr. Preston adds.

The letter concludes with the assertion that if the Governor believes any laws were violated it is his duty to initiate an investigation.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, March 25.—Queen Helena today received Miss Winifred Holt of New York, founder and Secretary of the New York Association for the Blind. Miss Holt, after her splendid work among the blind in France, in the course of which five "lighthouses" were established, came to Italy about a year ago with the intention of founding Lighthouse 8 in Rome.

On Miss Holt's committee are Premier Nitti, Baron Romano Avezzana, the Italian Ambassador to Washington, and many American friends of Italy, such as Robert Underwood Johnson, the American Ambassador; ex-Ambassador Page and Mrs. Page, Colonel Robert Perkins, formerly head of the American Red Cross in Italy, and Major Chester Aldrich, also of that organization.

The Queen was deeply interested in Miss Holt's recital of what the committee hoped to accomplish for blind men, women and children. Its chief aim is to teach them such callings as typewriting, switchboard operating, basket weaving, sewing, &c. Her Majesty showed particular interest in the efforts of the committee to have laws passed for the prevention of blindness in the case of the newly born.

It is estimated that there are 45,500 blind persons in Italy outside of those blinded in the war.

Queen Helena was greatly touched when Miss Holt presented to her a little pig modeled by a blind soldier who was formerly cared for in the hospital in the Quirinal Palace and was a favorite of the Queen. "How nice of Giuseppe! I remember him well—a dear boy!" said the Queen.

Her Majesty expressed her thanks through Miss Holt to the Blind Men's Improvement Club of New York for the adoption of a blind Italian boy and to the Blind Women's Club of New York for the adoption of a hunchback blind girl.

Miss Holt showed the Queen some lace made by a blind woman, the aged daughter of a former Italian Ambassador, who had been reduced to poverty and had been placed in an almshouse. Later, through a friend interested in the "Lighthouse" work, a substantial sum was given for her relief.

The "Lighthouse" in Italy has so far given instruction at its work centres in houses, hospitals and almshouses, teaching the blind to read and write by the Braille system and giving instructions in music, typewriting, languages and handicrafts. It has distributed money, clothes, canes, artificial limbs, glass eyes and all sorts of articles for work. It has founded a depository of typographical material, including machines and tools.

GOV. LOWDEN OFFERS TO OPEN HIS BOOKS

WOOD MEN QUICKLY REPLY

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Governor Lowden, in a telegram to Senator Borah at Washington, tonight, challenged all candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination to a show-down of all campaign receipts and expenditures, "together with names of contributors and amounts contributed, and all books, records and vouchers, for the purpose of the widest possible publicity."

General Wood is campaigning in Michigan. Colonel William Cooper Procter, chairman of his Campaign Committee, issued a statement saying: "We resent any statement or imputation of illegal or corrupt expenditure, and shall hold the guilty person responsible therefor."

Governor Lowden's telegram follows:

"The statement made by you in the Senate today, as reported by The Associated Press, with reference to the expenditures of the various candidates in the Presidential campaign to date, so far as it applies to me, is in no way warranted by the facts.

"I will gladly join with all other candidates for the Republican nomination for President in submitting to yourself, or to a committee to be appointed by you, all expenditures made in the campaign, together with names of contributors and amounts contributed, and all books, records and vouchers, for the purpose of the widest publicity. I sincerely hope this may be done and at once. FRANK O. LOWDEN."

The statement given out at General Wood's headquarters as coming from Colonel Procter was as follows:

"Any money used in furtherance of Wood's campaign has been expended openly for perfectly legitimate publicity in the presentation of the merits of our candidate to the rank and file of the Republican Party in the primary States and not one cent for any indirect or corrupt purpose.

"The people approve campaign methods of the open and straightforward sort that we have adopted. We resent any statement or imputation of illegal or corrupt expenditure and shall hold the guilty person responsible therefor. This attack at this time, just before the Michigan primary, looks like the last stand of the 'Old Guard.'"

BAY CITY, Mich., March 26.—In response to an inquiry from Chicago as to his attitude on Governor Lowden's proposal, General Wood replied as follows:

"Replying to your telegram of this date concerning campaign expenses. This matter, so far as my campaign is concerned, has been entirely covered by a public statement made several days ago by Colonel William Cooper Procter, Chairman of the Wood Campaign Committee. LEONARD WOOD."

DENY BUYING TESTIMONIALS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 26.—Statements by The Indiana Daily Times yesterday that the managers of the Wood campaign in this State were buying testimonials of indorsement of the General at $2.50 each were denied tonight by Harry G. Hogan of Fort Wayne, Wood's manager in Indiana.

"Not one cent has been spent in purchasing interviews indorsing the candidacy of Leonard Wood," said Mr. Hogan. "Reputable reporters employed on the local papers in Indianapolis were given assignments to interview men of prominence in the city, who had telephoned in that they wanted to give expression to their esteem of the General. At that time there was no one in the office who could be used for this character of work, and the sum actually spent in this manner was but $22.50."

PLOT TO GIVE UP DENIKIN RUMORED

General Declares He Will Stay with His Troops to the End—Asks Ships for 40,000.

EVACUATING NOVOROSSISK

NOVOROSSISK, Russia, March 24 (Associated Press).—General Denikin, commander of the anti-Bolshevist forces in South Russia, told the correspondent of The Associated Press today that he would remain with his troops until the last. He has asked the British to furnish boats to transport 40,000 soldiers. Fifty per cent. of his supplies will be moved to the Crimea, 25 per cent. to Batum and the remainder will be left here.

The Bolsheviki are reported within thirty miles of Novorossisk. Green Guards are all around the city. Denikin's troops and supplies already are being moved away as fast as ships are available.

The volunteer army has completely collapsed. Civil war in Southern Russia seems virtually ended. The battlefront is nonexistent, 30,000 officers and soldiers having left the fighting lines and gathered here in an endeavor to leave the country.

The British have about 2,000 troops, which are being evacuated. Warships of Great Britain, France, Italy, the United States and Greece are standing by, and when the British are out of the city it will easily fall into the hands of the Bolsheviki, or Green Guards, as the warships are merely standing in the harbor to protect the evacuation. The American Red Cross Mission left today for Theodosia, on the southeast coast of the Crimea, carrying with it all supplies.

Baron Wrangel Reaches Prinkipo.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 26 (Associated Press).—General Baron Wrangel, commander of the volunteer army in South Russia, has come across the Black Sea from the Novorossisk region and is now on Prinkipo Island in the Sea of Marmora. He visited Constantinople before proceeding to Prinkipo. The Russian volunteer army has virtually disappeared.

General Denikin, the anti-Bolshevist leaderin Southern Russia, and his General Staff, have been at Novorossisk since March 14. The Cossack forces still number about six thousand.

The anti-Bolshevist army operating in the vicinity of Novorossisk and moving southward in the Black Sea province toward Batum has established its capital at Sochi (Lakhovski, on the Black Sea about midway between Novorossisk and Batum), where a general committee is directing a so-called Government. General Keith of the British forces is reported to have visited Sochi recently, where he discussed the situation with M. Filipposki, Chairman of the Committee for the Liberation of the Black Sea Province.

GEN. WOOD EXPECTS TO CARRY MICHIGAN

Special to The New York Times.

BAY CITY, Mich., March 26.—With the Michigan primaries only a little more than one week away, Major Gen. Leonard Wood appealed tonight for the support of the Republicans of Bay County. He was speaking to an audience that crowded the Bay City Armory to its doors and received an enthusiastic welcome. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the Michigan fight will be close, with General Wood first and Senator Johnson probably second.

Johnson concluded his tour of the State yesterday, but may return next week. Senator Poindexter, who ran fourth in South Dakota, is also in Michigan, and is making a hard fight for position. Governor Lowden is also strong.

In his speech tonight General Wood asserted again his conviction that the treaty of peace should have been ratified with reservations that thoroughly Americanize it. On the question of the treaty the fight is a clean-cut issue between Wood and Johnson. Senator Johnson is making his plea for support principally on the fact that he was one of the irreconcilables who killed the treaty. Poindexter is following the same tactics as Johnson and in every speech glorifies the group of Senators who fought for the death of the treaty.

Colonel Frederick Alger of Detroit, who is General Wood's manager in Michigan, is accompanying the General through the State and says that Wood is gaining strength steadily and that he will carry the State by a safe plurality on April 5. The victory of Wood in South Dakota, Colonel Alger asserts, has greatly increased his prestige.

General Wood for the last two weeks has been making anywhere from two to six speeches daily and his schedule, which is filled up to May 2, calls for nearly 100 speeches in a little more than thirty speaking days. He has faced all kinds of weather and in his efforts to keep his engagements has traveled by every kind of a conveyance except airship. Despite the strain he appears as strong and fresh tonight as when he started. During the last four days of his tour in South Dakota he averaged less than five hours' sleep a day. He starts again at 5 o'clock tomorrow morning for the western part of the peninsula. Monday he makes five speeches in the copper country and closes his campaign with four more speeches in the Menominee section of the State Tuesday.

Thursday he begins a three days' tour of Ohio and after that starts on a week's campaign of Illinois. He reenters Ohio for another week's campaign the latter part of April, just before the primaries in that State, and intends to contest every district with Senator Harding. General Wood and his friends are confident he will win the Ohio delegation.

JOHNSON CLAIMS MINNESOTA

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, March 26.—Senator Johnson asserted that he, and not General Leonard Wood, had carried the Presidential preference primary in Minnesota, in speeches here today, which opened his campaign in New York State.

"I went into Minneapolis and St. Paul and called on the people to repudiate the machine, and they did," said Senator Johnson. "I have with me the figures of the primary vote there, and they show I won. But The Associated Press has not sent out these figures, and has allowed the impression to prevail that Wood carried Minnesota. I beat them. I beat their own trick primary.

"And now I have come into New York. It is considered something daring, but I am not afraid of the people of New York any more than of the people of any other State, and will go to the people here the same as in the others.

"The issue is made, and it is the League of Nations. It is the overshadowing issue, no more to be avoided than is the election itself. It doesn't make any difference what a few international bankers want. The American people will have a chance to decide this issue."

Declares Germany Can Put Army of 3,400,000 in Field

PARIS, March 26.—Germany, in the event of mobilization, can place an army of 3,400,000 men in the field, says Henri Bidou, the well-known French war correspondent, in a dispatch to Le Journal from Mayence.

He adds that Germany has secretly re-enforced her once famous war machine, which in 1918 was virtually shattered. Officers, he says, are available to command an army of 4,000,000 men.

SAYS GERMAN NAVY OUTSHOT BRITISH

OUR FLEET LACKED MEN

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Germans, by their superior gunnery, "turned the British on their heads," at the battle of Jutland, Rear Admiral Plunkett declared today before the Senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war. Admiral Plunkett was testifying as to the need for keeping the navy personnel at full strength and said that for two years prior to the entrance of the United States into the war Secretary Daniels had steadfastly refused to approve an increase in personnel.

He told the committee the navy was without sufficient men when the war began.

"If we had been up against Germany at the outbreak of the war," he said, "we would have been paying indemnity today, and all because we did not have the trained men.

"We didn't have the men because Mr. Daniels wouldn't let us have them and wouldn't let us do anything to get them. I argued with Mr. Daniels for two years without making an impression on him."

Admiral Plunkett said Admiral W. S. Benson, Chief of Naval Operations during the war, had told him to take up directly with the Secretary matters relating to personnel.

"Admiral Benson said he had exhausted all the talk in his system," asserted the officer, "and told me if I though I could do anything to go ahead and try."

Captain Joseph K. Taussig of the Naval War College, Newport, R. I., said that before the entry of the United States into the war the Navy Department took steps to prevent reports reaching the public regarding shortage of man-power in the navy. Captain Taussig testified that Secretary Daniels in his annual report in 1914 stated that the numerical strength of the navy was adequate and in 1915 said that only an additional 10,000 men were needed, while the Navy General Board in its 1914 report had stated that 19,600 men were necessary.

The committee will not meet tomorrow but Monday it will hear Rear Admiral H. T. Mayo, who commanded the fleet during the war, and Rear Admiral A. W. Grant, former commander of a battleship unit of the Atlantic Fleet.

FLETCHER TESTIFIES ON LOSS OF ANTILLES

Admiral Says That Convoy Commander Disobeyed His Orders When Transport Was Sunk.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Rear Admiral William B. Fletcher told a naval board of inquiry today that his orders directing the escorting of the convoy which included the transport Antilles, sunk off the French coast on October, 1917, were not obeyed by Lieut. Commander F. N. Freeman, commanding the escort. The board is investigating the action of Rear Admiral Sims in removing Admiral Fletcher from command of the naval station at Brest after the Antilles was sunk.

Fletcher told the board that he had no knowledge that Commander Freeman had put to sea with part of the convoy until Freeman's report of the sinking of the transport came in.

First evidences of friction at the Brest headquarters came with the arrival there of Captain Thomas P. Magruder, commanding the third flight of American craft sent to that port, Admiral Fletcher testified. Captain Magruder, he said, had insisted that the Brest organization should be completely revised in line with the organization of naval districts at home. Fletcher said he could see no need of this and offered to send Magruder to London to report his views to Admiral Sims, but that the officer did not wish to go.

On his arrival Captain Magruder showed great disinclination to shore service, Fletcher testified. Subsequently a letter from Sims said that Magruder was to be retained at sea, but Fletcher said no command suitable for an officer of his rank was available.

"Did Captain Magruder support you loyally and carry out your orders?" Admiral Fletcher was asked.

"I cannot testify as to his having carried out my orders," Admiral Fletcher said. "I do not think he supported me loyally."

His examination is scheduled for Monday. O'Brien has been employed for some time as an adjuster of claims for the American Druggist Syndicate of Long Island City. His arrest followed statements to the police of the Hunters Point precinct by Arthur L. Bailey, Secretary of the syndicate, and Miss E. McHugh, counsel for the company, that after O'Brien had succeeded former State Senator Peter M. Daly as adjuster several checks made out to Senator Daly had been cashed by O'Brien.

POLES OFFER STERN PEACE TO RUSSIA

MORE THAN TREATY GAVE

WANT WEALTH OF 150 YEARS

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Polish Legation today issued a summary of the peace conditions offered to Soviet Russia by Poland. The foremost condition is that Russia must renounce sovereignty to all territory obtained by Russia through the partition of Poland by the Governments of Prussia, Austria and Russia more than a century ago. Poland calls upon Russia for the surrender of all territory east of the "line of 1772," which would give them more territory than was awarded under the Versailles Treaty.

At the Peace Conference France was favorable to the Polish claims, but President Wilson resisted their ambition to annex everything up to the 1772 line.

Following is the summary of Poland's terms to the Bolsheviki:

1. Russia must renounce sovereignty to all territories obtained through the partitioning of Poland, the western Russian frontier to revert to that of 1772, before the first partitioning of Poland. The territories and peoples in the regions between the Eastern frontier of Poland, as decided by negotiations, and the old frontier of 1772, are to fall under a Polish protectorate, to assure such peoples of the right of free decision as to their future fate and national connections by general vote.
2. Russia must recognize the independence of all the States which on the western frontier of Russia, have established de facto Governments.
3. Russia must agree to refrain from any propaganda whatever on territories forming part of the Polish States.
4. Russia must indemnify Poland for the devastation of lands and industries caused by the over-running of Poland by Russian armies since 1914.
5. Russia must return to Poland all locomotives and rolling stock, including the thousands of railway carriages taken from Poland by Russia since the beginning of the war in 1914, this rolling stock to be returned in good condition, or the value of such rolling stock in cash.
6. Russia must indemnity in cash all Poles inhabiting Russian territory whose properties have been destroyed.
7. The exchange of war prisoners must be undertaken and the free return to Poland of all emigrants is to take place from the moment of the signing of the armistice.
8. Russia will supply trains so that the Polish Army in Siberia may return to Poland, and this with the honors of war, with ammunition, arms and food.
9. Russia must return to Poland all the archives, the works of art, libraries and collections taken from Poland, from the first invasion of Poland during the first partitioning of the Polish State up to the present time, this applying equally to both public and private collections.
10. As a guarantee that Russia will keep these conditions, the Polish Army will occupy the Government of Smolensk, together with the town of Smolensk, from which territory it will withdraw as soon as Russia has fulfilled the last condition of peace with Poland.
11. The peace treaty must be ratified by a duly elected Russian representative Diet.

The American Red Cross, at the request of the National Polish Committee, according to announcement made today, will aid in the return to their homes here of 12,000 Poles who enlisted in this country to fight in France, but were later transferred to Poland. It is expected that the work will be completed by June.

HARDING "CONFIDENT," HE TELLS INDIANA

Special to The New York Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26.—Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, candidate for the Republican nomination for President, made his first Indiana primary campaign address today at a luncheon at the Columbia Club, at which he was a special guest.

"I stand before you as a candidate for the party nomination for the Presidency," said the Senator. "A rather unwilling one, let it be said, but a very confident one."

In times of anxiety and peril the country had turned to the Republican Party, Mr. Harding said, and it would do so this year. It was no time for factionalism in the party, he said. He spoke highly of Vice President Marshall as worthy of higher honors and complimented Governor Goodrich and United States Senators New and Watson, making a special reference to Senator Watson.

Senator Harding assailed President Wilson for his policy of "my will or none," which, he declared, was responsible for the fact that the United States and Germany still were technically at war.

"Everybody wanted formal peace and a new understanding," Senator Harding said. "Europe was ready and America was eager, but a President, unmindful of the Senate and the sentiment of our country, insisted on a battle of rhetorical pens, for the glory of a personal victory, and defiantly bartered our nationality, which the Senate was sworn to preserve and has preserved.

"A President who told us he kept us out of war has literally kept us out of peace—formal peace duly covenated—and the American people and the world may charge it to Presidential usurpation of power and attempted dictation where party counsel and co-ordinated Government would have led to instant understanding."

The Senator opposed Government ownership, urged the need of greater production and more work, stood for collective bargaining, and said unionism had liberated, but it must not enslave.

Special to The New York Times.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 26.—Shufflin' Phil Douglas and Rube Benton collaborated today in blanking the Reds, the Giants winning by a score of 1 to 0. The game early developed into a pitchers' battle and Waite Hoyt and Herb Pennock, who divided the box work for the Sox, held their own with the Giant batters most of the way. In fact, the Giants made but three hits to five registered by Boston. But they were aided in the scoring of the run that decided the contest by an error on the part of Hoyt. As in yesterday's game at San Antonio the fielding of Arthur Fletcher was a feature. The series between the two teams now stands 3 to 3.

Both Giants and Red Sox had excellent opportunities to score, but each fell short, strangely enough, because of Ross Young. Walters opened the third with a single to centre and moved up on a sacrifice by Hoyt, Hooper then popped to Doyle, McNally rammed a single to right, but when Walters attempted to score he was cut down at the plate by Young's perfect throw to Hoyt.

Two men were out in the Giants' half of the inning when Burns singled to left. Walters's throw to nail Burns stealing went through Scott and the Giants' left fielder raced to third. However, Burns was left stranded when Young struck out.

The Red Sox blew another chance to score in the fourth. With two out McInnis singled to centre and Foster followed with a double, McInnis pulling up at third. Scott was an easy victim to Kelly, closing the Sox half of the frame.

The Giants finally broke the ice in the fifth. Kelly walked and stole second, Snyder dumped a bunt down the third-base line, and Hoyt, in an attempt to nail Kelly at third, heaved the ball over Foster's head, Kelly scoring and Snyder going to second. Bowen ran for Snyder and Smith batted for Douglas. Smith pushed Bowen along to third with a sacrifice, but Burns hit to McInnis and Bowen was run down between third and the plate, Burns taking second on the play, Young singled to left, putting Burns on third, but Fletcher was called out on strikes.

GIANT ROOKIES ON MOVE.

Special to The New York Times.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 26.—The entire squad of Giant rookies will make the trip from this city to New Orleans tonight, but most of them will be sent to Rockymount, N. C., tomorrow, where they will work out with the Rochester players under Arthur Irwin.

Chick Bowen is among those slated to go to Rockymount, but it is known that the Red Sox have made an offer for him and he may wind up with the Boston club. However, it is understood that John McGraw asks a goodly sum for him and the deal is quite likely to fall through.

ROBINS DODGE RAINDROPS.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26.—Manager Robbie has reduced his training stunts to an afternoon workout, and is going to hold the afternoon session as often as possible. It rained here shortly after midday, but about an hour later it cleared off, and Uncle Robbie assembled his squad and journeyed to Barr's Field for a couple of hours. The field was in no condition for a game, so the leader of the victorious Flatbush team limbered up the players for their tilt with the Yankees scheduled for tomorrow.

Brooklyn is eager to score its sixth consecutive victory over the American Leaguers, and this afternoon's practice put the players on edge for the game. Uncle Robbie ordered Burleigh Grimes to pitch to the batters, and when he grew tired George Mohart was sent to the slab. The players each cracked out six or seven bingles.

With the batting practice over, the rotund leader sent his infield through a long session of fielding stunts. Hot grounders were belted to the guardians of the inner works, and but few errors were recorded.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Three veteran members of the Chicago White Sox, last year's American League pennant winners, may be dropped from baseball this season if they fail to report, according to a statement issued today by Charles A. Comiskey, President of the club.

The three players named in the statement are George (Buck) Weaver, third baseman; Charles Risberg, shortstop, and "Chick" Gandil, first baseman.

Mr. Comiskey, who returned from the Pacific coast, declared that he had not seen any of the trio while there and had no reason to see them. Weaver and Risberg are under contract to play with his club this season. Gandil has not signed his contract.

The players have threatened to go into business if their demands for higher salaries are not granted, while President Comiskey is determined on his stand that the players live up to the contracts which were given them at their own request.

Buck Weaver was said to be on his way to Chicago today to demand from Charles A. Comiskey, a new contract calling for a pay increase.

Weaver left the club's training camp at Waco, Texas, yesterday, according to word received at the White Sox headquarters here. He was quoted as saying he would insist on a transfer to the New York Americans unless the White Sox owner granted a substantial increase.

Yale Swimmers Decline to Meet Northwestern in Tank

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 26.—Yale University's swimming team tonight declined the invitation to meet Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., on April 3 on the ground that the team had broken training. The Yale men sent a counter proposal to Northwestern, inviting the conference champions to come to New Haven on any date after April 14.

FIND FEWSTER WAS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26.—Chick Fewster, the young Yankee infielder, who was felled by one of Pfeffer's wild pitches in last Thursday's game here, is much more dangerously hurt than at first believed. Fewster has day and night nurses here, and no one is permitted in his room but officers of the club. The blow he got on the temple has interfered with his speech, and he talks with difficulty.

Dr. J. B. Black, who has charge of Fewster, said tonight that it would be ten days at least before Fewster could leave his room, and it may be necessary to leave him here when the club leaves, on Easter Sunday.

Late tonight Dr. Black said the condition of Fewster was unchanged. The club admitted the player had entirely lost his speech. This, however, is a temporary condition and will go away when the brain lesion heals, according to Dr. Black. The club has engaged Dr. Carey Rodgers, a leading specialist of this city, to examine Fewster tomorrow morning.

While the first examination of Fewster's head showed there was no fracture, the bruise extends much deeper than the early examination showed, and some blood vessels right close to the brain have been crushed. Fewster did not show much improvement during the day, but it is not believed that an operation on his brain will be necessary. Dr. Black told Secretary Sparrow today that if he desired it he would call a specialist here from New York, and he would be glad to turn the case over to him. Sparrow, however, is satisfied to let the local man attend to Fewster's case. Dr. Frederick Bowen, a local specialist, who was called in Thursday night, rather favored an operation. Dr. Black, however, has advised against it.

Yankees Do Little Work.

With his team pretty well shot to pieces, Huggins did not put on any practice game today. The players had the batting and fielding practice of their early stay here. It was another sunless day, and it rained at intervals, but it was warm and the players had a good workout.

The accident to Fewster puts Pratt back in the regular lineup at second base. Pipp was back in uniform today, but his head still pains a little where a thrown ball hit him. Peck also took his place at short in fieldnig practice, but he made no hard throws. He arched the ball over to first base.

Both Ward and Meusel appeared at third base in the infield practice. Huggins will keep Meusel at third base, at least until Baker joins the club.

"He is a player that I have to get into my club somewhere," said Huggins today. "Meusel is the kind of player who will hit much better later on. He is a long-distance slugger, and by the time we get back North he will murder speed. Meusel has been striking out a lot, but he is one of those hitters who will drive the ball far when he does connect."

Lewis and O'Doul were in left field, Ruth in centre and Vick in right field. Lewis has been coming fast the last few days. When he first arrived he scarcely moved his arm, and there appeared little chance of his appearing in the lineup by opening day. But he likely will play left field from now on. Lewis started to speed up in his training as soon as he signed his contract.

Huggins Still Optimistic.

Huggins said today he still is an optimist on the subject of his ball team, and still thinks it is one of the best in the country. Instead of being annoyed at the five straight defeats at the hands of Brooklyn, he says he is glad that his team is seeing much good pitching.

"There is a tendency to take these games too seriously," said Huggins. "Last year we ran rings around the Dodgers in the Spring, because they played bad baseball. We beat them ten out of thirteen games. Yet I would rather lose and have the men hit good pitching than win because the other team played poor baseball. Batting against those Brooklyn pitchers is giving the Yankees all kinds of practice. By the time we start the season we will be ready for any kind of pitching, speed, curve-ball pitching, and everything, as we are.

"Our pitchers are as well advanced now as Robinson's, and I have a club that sooner or later will start to hit. I know what the men on the club can do and what they will do after we once get under way."

HUSTON DIAGNOSES YANKS.

Colonel T. L. Huston, part owner of the Yankees, returned from Jacksonville yesterday where he has been watching the club undergo several defeats at the hands of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Colonel Huston says that the principal trouble with the Yankee players is that they have not had enough work. The system inaugurated by Manager Huggins of having one practice each afternoon has not given the players enough to do and as a result their development has been seriously retarded.

"Manager Huggins has been handicapped," said Colonel Huston, "because he has not been able to muster his strongest playing strength in any one game. He has had to use a make-shift lineup in each game and at no time has the club presented its strongest front.

"Aside from the slow development," continued Colonel Huston, "there is every reason to believe that we have a strong club. Just as soon as Huggins is able to present an outfield made up of Lewis, Ruth and Vick and an infield composed of Pipp, Pratt or Fewster, Peckingpaugh and Baker, it will be an entirely different story. I think the players would now be in much better shape if they had worked morning and afternoon instead of having only one practice session a day."

CARPENTIER SEES SIGHTS.

Georges Carpentier, European heavyweight champion, employed yesterday afternoon and part of the evening on a sight-seeing tour through the city and surrounding suburbs. Late in getting to bed, after his early morning exhibition with Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, President of the International Sporting Club, Carpentier was up and refreshed early in the morning and was "captured" by friends for a tour of the metropolis. Carpentier inspected the various points of interest and then the party journeyed out to the city suburbs to drink in the sights in the surrounding country. In the evening Carpentier had tea at the Ritz with a party of friends.

Manager Francois Descamps radiated delight last night at the continued welcoming ceremonies of which Carpentier is daily made the recipient. The French manager, however, is preparing to get down to pugilistic business and will today cable to France for Charles Ledoux, French bantamweight champion, and George Papin, lightweight champion, to board ship immediately for this country. These two boxers were expected to arrive with Carpentier, but their sailing date was changed. It is expected they will arrive here within a fortnight. Manager Descamps plans to seek a match for Ledoux against Champion Pete Herman, and to make an effort to sign Papin with one of the leading American lightweights.

Tex Rickard, who is understood to have a working arrangement with Carpentier, contingent on the outcome of the Government's slackerism charges against Dempsey, left this city yesterday for Texas. Rickard will be gone for at least a week.

Ashford of Cleveland, Ohio, tied as high scratch gunners at 89.

N. Y. U. NINE ON OHIO FIELD.

Gets Its First Workout of Season on Regular Diamond.

New York University's baseball team had the first opportunity of the year to get into action on Ohio Field, the Violet college's athletic field, yesterday afternoon. Coach Raymond Kellogg, the Violet mentor, brought the squad up from Berkeley Oval, where the daily practice sessions have been held for the last week, and put them through a long drill which ended in a five-inning contest with a team composed of second string men.

The stellar performers of the afternoon were the twirlers. Delaney, Golden and Sulzer proved effective throughout the game, allowing only scattered hits. Indications are that Coach Kellogg will have a dependable staff of battery men this season. Only three men passed first base on both teams, and these were killed off before they reached the plate.

ONLY ONE FAVORITE WINS.

HAVANA, Cuba, March 26.—The track at Oriental Park today was still slow and the racegoers had another difficult task in trying to pick the winners. Lucie May, in the first race, was the only favorite to win. Her victory was largely due to the strong ride of Pickens. TO RUN PREAKNESS MAY 18.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Preakness, the big three-year-old fixture of the Maryland Jockey Club, would be decided over the Pimlico course Tuesday, May 18, the closing day of the Pimlico meeting. The choice of this day will be particularly popular with the trainers, who contemplate starting both in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, for it allows ample time for the shipment of horses from Louisville to the Maryland course. Last year Sir Barton won both the Derby and the Preakness and it is inevitable that the winner of the big Western stake this year will try to duplicate the performance of the sterling son of Star Shoot.

The Pimlico Oaks, which will have its second running this year, has been set for May 15 and the dates for the other stakes of the meeting are: Pimlico Nursery, Saturday, May 1, the opening day; Pimlico Spring Handicap, Wednesday, May 5; Green Spring Valley Steeplechase, Saturday, May 8, and the Spring Juvenile, Wednesday, May 12.

Troytown Captures Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase

LIVERPOOL, March 26.—The Liverpool Grand National Steeplechase, run over the Aintree course near here today, was won by Major Gerrard's Troytown. The distance was a little under four and a half miles. Troytown carried 163 pounds. The Turk II., owned by C. Wilcox, finished second, and The Bore, belonging to H. Brown, was third. The prices on the first three horses were: Troytown, 6 to 1; The Turk II., 66 to 1, and The Bore, 28 to 1. Of the twenty-four horses which started in the race only five completed the course. The value of the race this year was $25,000, the greatest in the history of the event.

PENN STATE LEADS IN TOURNEY ON MAT

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 26.—Penn State emerged from the intercollegiate wrestling semi-finals tonight, held at University of Pennsylvania, practically assured of the team championship for the third successive year.

Five grapplers of the seven brought down to Philadelphia by Coach Lewis worked their way through the preliminaries and semi-finals to the final bouts which will be held tomorrow afternoon.

Cornell showed unusual strength in the preliminary matches, every one of the Ithacan grapplers qualifying for the semi-finals. But the superior skill and strength of the Penn State collegians were too much for the Cornellians.

The opening bouts were staged in the rowing room of Weightman Hall in the afternoon. The heat interfered greatly with the matmen, and most of them were exhausted at the finish of their matches. The semi-finals at night were transferred to the main floor of the Penn gym, where the atmosphere was better.

Seven Cornell men, the entire team, qualified for the semi-finals, but only two reached the finals. Pennsylvania had five men to win their opening bouts, but only two will sport the Red and Blue in competition tomorrow.

A big upset in the preliminary matches was the victory of McBride, Cornell's middleweight, over Mowrer, Penn. State. The latter was the intercollegiate 145-pound champion last season. He succumbed easily before the skill and strength of the Cornell man.

Columbia made a poor showing in the matches. Only one of the New Yorkers qualified for the semi-finals. He was Wolfe, 135 pounds, and he didn't have to exert himself as he drew a bye, which automatically entitled him to compete in the semi-finals.

CONWAY SHOWS HIS SPEED.

Wins Quarter-Mile Run Easily at Telephone Society Games.

Frank W. Conway, Metropolitan A. A. U. 300-yard champion, gave a demonstration of his sprinting ability last night to more than 4,000 fellow workers of the Telephone Society, at the society's annual indoor athletic meet in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory. Conway, starting against a field of five rivals in a quarter-mile run, literally walked away with the victory, winning as he pleased in 54 4-5 seconds. A short time later the local title-holder returned to the track to run the third leg for the Commercial Department, Manhattan-Bronx, in the inter-department handicap relay at a mile. Conway, starting at a disadvantage of thirty-five yards, quickly made up this distance on the first lap of his relay, and on the second lap dashed off to an advantage of about fifty yards. This margin in their favor gave the Commercial representatives a victory over the Plant Department, in 3:39 3-5.

This relay race, originally scheduled for one competition, was divided into two races because of the large number of teams entered. The second installment of the race went to the Plant Department of the New Jersey team of five runners, who won in 3:38 2-5. The team had a handicap allowance of 50 yards.

W. Walker of the Manhattan-Bronx Plant Department, and W. F. Lynch, New Jersey Plant Department, each carried off two prizes. Walker captured the one-lap obstacle race, in which the runners had to crawl through barrels, scale a ten-foot wall, pass a barrel over their heads and scramble through a netting on the armory floor. In this difficult competition Walker proved best, winning easily in fifty seconds. He also placed third in the 600-yard handicap run, which went to W. R. Keefe, New Jersey Plant Department.

Lynch captured the 65-yard handicap dash in convincing fashion, sprinting the distance from the three-yard mark in 7 1-5 seconds. Later he annexed third place in the sack race. The latter competition resulted in a victory for E. W. Sigler, who breasted the tape in twenty-one seconds.

The entire program was devoted to sports for employes of the telephone company and, in the absence of A. A. U. stars, what was lacking in scintillating competition was made up for in the amusing events which transpired in the course of the evening. The obstacle race, sack race and a centipede race, in which teams of eight men raced up and down the drill floor for 100 yards, caused the greatest merriment. The centipede race went to the octet representing the Development Research Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

IS STILL AN AMATEUR.

Letters received yesterday by L. C. Danielson, Graduate Manager of Athletics at Columbia, from Eddie Quigley, quarter back on the Blue and White football team last season, and from one of the officials of the company where Quigley is employed deny recent reports that the gridiron star had nullified his amateur standing by taking a position as physical director. Quigley's letter informs the graduate manager that he is working in the employment department of the American Writing Paper Company, at Holyoke, Mass., and will return to Columbia next Fall.

A communication from the treasurer of the company substantiates Quigley's statement and adds: "It appears that statements have been published in sporting circles that Mr. Quigley has forfeited his amateur standing, and this letter is to correct that impression, as there is nothing in connection with his duties that will in any way affect his amateur rating."

J. Howard Shoemaker, the champion, won two matches in the pocket billiard tournament for the national championship of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players at the New York Athletic Club yesterday. In the afternoon he defeated Schuyler B. Burdett, 125 to 46, and in the evening he defeated J. Moriarity, the Illinois State champion, by a score of 125 to 82. Shoemaker now has only one more game to play. He will meet Gus Gardner, the New York State champion, in the final game this afternoon. If Shoemaker wins, he will have clinched the national title for the eighth time. If he is defeated, Gardner will tie him for first place, and the tie will be played off in an extra match tonight.

The champion scored a decisive and easy victory over Burdett in the first of his matches yesterday. Shoemaker won by 79 points, and at no time after the third frame was he really in danger.

After Shoemaker had won from Burdett, increased interest was attached to the evening match between Shoemaker and Moriarity. The latter is a very capable player and there were some in the big gallery attending the game who cherished the belief that the Chicagoan might prove equal to the task of checking the onward rush of Shoemaker toward the championship.

For a time it seemed that Moriarity might turn the trick. For four frames the rivals battled along on even terms, but in the fifth, sixth and seventh the Westerner forged into a fairly comfortable lead. At the end of the seventh frame Moriarity was stepping along in front, with the score standing 60 to 38. The champion of Illinois was in excellent stroke, and his execution and position play were impressive. In the next six frames, however, things began to happen. Shoemaker turned loose a brand of pocket billiards that was simply irresistible. He knocked off a total of 74 balls in those frames while Moriarity was collecting 10. That made the score 112 to 70, and from that time to the finish it was simply a question of by how much the champion would win.

The scores by frames:

WINS MATCH BY ONE POINT.

Steinbugler Defeats Spear in Balkline Tourney, 115 to 114.

The closest match that has yet been played in the annual 18.2 balkline billiard handicap tournament was won by Robert Steinbugler at the National Recreation Academy in Brooklyn yesterday afternoon by one point. He defeated George Spear by a score of 115 to 114. In the evening match, Frank W. Boyd won from J. M. Shea by a score of 115 to 77. All of the players are Class C entrants and played on even terms.

The match between Steinbugler and Spear was extremely interesting and well played. A peculiar feature was the fact that the loser made a better average than the winner. Steinbugler averaged 4 7-27, while Spear averaged 4 10-26. This was due to Spear's having played one less inning than Steinbugler.

Frank Boyd experienced little difficulty winning from Shea. The latter was not in stroke and could accomplish little with the ivories. While Boyd's playing was far from being brilliant, he was steadier than his opponent. Both players made high runs of 13.

MAXWELL DEFEATS OWLES.

Wins Match in Title Three-Cushion Tourney by 50 to 42.

In defeating Fred G. Owles in the three-cushion tournament for the national championship of the American Amateur Billiard Association at Joe Thum's Academy last night Chris Maxwell played some very good carom billiards. He won by a score of 50 to 42 in 102 innings and the playing was just as close as the score indicates.

Both players performed in acceptable fashion. While there was a liberal sprinkling of "oil" throughout the play and the men were extremely cautious, they both contributed several very pretty shots. Maxwell's short angles were almost perfection, while Owles made quite a few difficult shots that required very delicate execution. The winner's high run was 5 and the loser's 3.

SUTTON WINS TWO MATCHES

George Sutton won two exhibition 18.2 balkline billiard matches at Maurice Daly's Academy yesterday afternoon and last evening. In the afternoon the Chicago veteran professional defeated Francis S. Appleby by a score of 300 to 264, and in the evening he took the measure of Albert Cutler, 300 to 151. In both of these games Sutton was in excellent stroke. Particularly was this true in his match against Cutler, in which he averaged 42 6-7 and started the game with a high run of 149. Against Appleby he averaged 20 and clinched the game with an unfinished run of 57. His high run in this game was 115.

The scores by innings of both matches follow:

G. Sutton—20 2 115 2 0 0 1 13 18 52 7 0 1 1 57. Total, 300; average, 20; high run, 115.

Leo Giebel of the New York A. C., national 500-yard swimming champion, last night annexed the Metropolitan A. A. U. title at this distance in the pool of the Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn. Giebel, without really being extended, swam to the title in 6 minutes 28 seconds, a matter of four and one-fifth seconds slower than the time he recorded in winning the national 500-yard title last year. As he reached the finish of his journey, the Mercury Foot natator was a length of the pool, twenty-five yards, in front of Fred Kahele of the Central Y. M. C. A. Five yards back of Kahele came Clarence Ross, New York A. C., the only other swimmer to complete the distance. John Newnon, New York A. C., and Arthur Soper, People's Palace, Jersey City, completed a field of five starters, but retired early in the race.

From the outset Giebel's heavy crawl stroke kept him in the lead. For the first 100 yards Ross swam close to his clubmate's side, but at this stage he was forced to relinquish his position to Kahele. The latter sought to overtake Giebel with a spurt, but the Mercury Foot swimmer only increased his pace as the emergency demanded and continued in front. Kahele continued his plucky attempt to overhaul his rival until the 300-yard mark had been turned, where the Central Y. M. C. A. entrant began gradually to weaken and fall behind. Giebel hit up his stroke and splashed through the pool with increasing advantage until at the finish he was in front by a length.

Cyril Carroll, another wearer of the Mercury foot, successfully defended his Metropolitan A. A. U. plunging title, despite determined opposition from Niel Stillwell of the Central Y. M. C. A. Carroll, plunging the length of the pool on his first attempt, was clocked in 52 4-5 seconds. Stillwell twice plunged the length of the pool, but his best time was 57 3-5 seconds, bringing him second laurels. Brison Wood, Yale, was third, with an effort of 72 feet 4 inches.

Stillwell's display of ability was a revelation. He is not 19 years old and was making his début in A. A. U titular competition. He formerly attended Phillips-Andover Academy. On his first plunge for the length of the pool Stillwell's time was 58 2-5 seconds. The second time he dove into the water the Brooklyn swimmer improved this effort by four-fifths of a second, but, though he tried again to surpass Carroll's plunge, he was unequal to the task.

Plunge for Distance; Metropolitan A. A. U. Championship—Won by Cyril Carroll, New York A. C., with 75 feet in 0:52 4-5; Niel Stillwell, Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, 75 feet in 0:57 3-5, second; Brison Wood, Yale University, 72 feet 4 inches, third.

100-Yard Swim, Handicap—Won by Victor Kiffe, Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, (10 seconds); L. P. Hansen, Central Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, (27 seconds), second; John Sherman, Flushing H. S., (8 seconds), third. Time—1:01 1-5.

Fancy Diving Contest, Handicap—Won by Frank Fowler, Central Y. M. C. A., (16 points), with 87.33 points; Rudolph Saacke, New York A. C., (6 points), 86.91 points, second; R. Galbraith, New York A. C., (3 points), 85.41 points, third.

TO PLAY MRS. HURD TODAY

Special to The New York Times.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 26.—Mrs. J. Raymond Price of the Oakmont Country Club, near Pittsburgh, will oppose Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, winner of many championships, in the final of the women's North and South tournament here tomorrow. Mrs. Price played against Miss Elaine Rosenthal of Chicago in today's semi-final round, and won by 3 and 1, to the utter consternation of the prophets.

Nobody can be found now who is willing to stake his reputation as a guesser upon the result of tomorrow's title match between Mrs. Price and Mrs. Hurd. The latter disposed of Mrs. Myra Helmer Pritchard by 4 and 3 today. Mrs. Pritchard went out in 44, to her opponent's 42, and was only one down at the turn. After that Mrs. Hurd played six holes in 28 and ran away with the match.

Miss Rosenthal developed a habit of slicing her drives in the match with Mrs. Price, and showed an excess of caution on her approach shots, but these were the sum total of her imperfections, and her opponent deserves full credit for a well-earned victory over one of the best players in the country.

Mrs. Price a Steady Player.

Mrs. Price played the best golf that has been seen in this tournament. She had no sensational twos and no holes played under par, but, on the other hand, she did not have a poor hole from start to finish. She went out in 40, allowing Miss Rosenthal not a single hole, and winning the second, fifth and ninth herself. She won the last two with a fine pair of threes. Miss Rosenthal was 44 at the turn and 3 down at that stage of the game.

Coming in, she reduced her disadvantage to 2 down at the eleventh and to 1 down at the thirteenth, but Mrs. Price took the sixteenth with a long putt, and was then dormie 2. Playing the seventeenth, Miss Rosenthal was on the edge of the green and Mrs. Price a good fifteen feet away from the cup in 2. Miss Rosenthal underplayed the long putt for what looked like a half, whereupon Mrs. Price sank her own long putt for a winning 3 and a 3 and 1 victory.

Mrs. Gavin Wins in Beaten Eight.

In the consolation semi-finals Mrs. E. E. Harwood of Olympic Fields, Chicago, defeated Mrs. J. D. Armstrong of Buffalo at the nineteenth hole, and Mrs. W. A. Gavin of New York disposed of Miss Kate Bomann of Plainfield by 5 and 3. Mrs. Gavin went out in 45, to a 48 for Miss Bomann, and was 3 up at the turn.

The summary:

Semi-Final Round—Mrs. J. V. Hurd, Westmoreland, defeated Mrs. Stuart Pritchard, Midlothian, 4 and 3; Mrs. J. R. Price, Oakmont, defeated Miss Elaine Rosenthal, Ravisloe, 3 and 1.

Beaten Eight—Mrs. E. E. Harwood, Olympia Field, defeated Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, Buffalo, 1 up (19 holes); Mrs. W. A. Gavin, South Shore, defeated Miss Kate Bomann, Plainfield, 5 and 3.

Second Division.

Third Division.

WILL SEEK BRITISH TITLE.

Three American Women to Contest for Golf Honors Abroad.

Official action on the part of the United States Golf Association yesterday insured the participation of at least three American women in the great British title tournament, known as the British Ladies' Championship. Wynant D. Vanderpool of Newark, Secretary of the U. S. G. A., cabled to Henry Gullen, Secretary of the Championship Committee at St. Andrews, Scotland, the nominations of Miss Marion Hollins of New York and two Philadelphia women, Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck and Miss Mildred Caverley. Their passage was originally booked for April 24 on the Adriatic, but because of the shift in the British date they will sail April 17 on the Baltic.

Although no announcement was forthcoming regarding the other three women from this country who originally planned to invade England, the action of the U. S. G. A. can be taken to mean that only the three named at this time will compete. Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, the national champion, had intended to go abroad, and Mrs. William A. Gavin of New York and Mrs. Ronald H. Barlow of Philadelphia were also announced as going. Before leaving for the South three weeks ago, however, Mrs. Gavin indicated that she might be forced to alter her plans.

The British ladies' event will begin on May 10, the date having been advanced from May 20. If Miss Stirling should ultimately decide to go across, it would be necessary to forward the entry within the next few days. The tournament is to be held at the Newcastle Club, County Down, in the North of Ireland, and promises to bring together the greatest group of international women golfers which have been assembled since the memorable matches of 1913 at Wilmington, Del., when a British woman carried off the United States title. Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, who is now Mrs. Dobell, won the title, and the runner-up was Miss Hollins, the margin being 2 up.

MORSE WINS AT EXTRA HOLE

Special to The New York Times.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 26.—In the semi-finals of the Winter golf championship played here today, George W. Morse of Rutland and C. F. Skehens of Boston had to play an extra hole, Morse winning with a 4 to Skehens's 5. At the turn Skehens was one up but at the next Morse holed out with a full mashie shot for a three. At the fourteenth, Skehens was two up. His putting was poor from here on and he lost the next three holes but he came back with a four on the eighteenth and squared the match.

Both had good drives on the extra hole out. Skehens was short with his mashie while Morse was twenty feet to the right of the hole. Skehens's chip shot nearly holed out, while the approach putt of Morse hung on the edge of the cup, laying Skehens a stymie which cost him the hole and match.

Hugh Willoughby, Jr., of Philadelphia, had an easy time with W. P. Hunt of Boston in the other semi-final match, winning 3 and 1. In the second sixteen, S. W. Doubleday of Rye, N. Y., and Cyril C. Spades of Chicago, won from N. T. Gubiner of New York and W. E. Taylor of Laporte, Ind.

Airplane Ride Will Turn Good Golfers Into Poor Ones

PINEHURST, N. C., March 26.—Four good golfers are expected to play some mighty poor golf at Pinehurst on Sunday, when Parker W. Wittemore of Brookline and Lou Hamilton of Garden City will oppose F. C. Newton, the Staten Island champion, and Allan Lard of Chevy Chase with a compulsory ride in an airplane as the prize to the winners. Allan Lard is offering 50 to 1 that the match ends all even.

GOULD AND WEAR IN FINAL MATCH TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—The favorites came through easily in the second round of the annual tournament for the court tennis championship of the United States, played at the Philadelphia Racquet Club today. Jay Gould and Joseph W. Wear, picked to win the title in the final round tomorrow, defeated Danny Hutchinson, former Penn. athletic star, and S. Andrews in handy fashion, while Joshua Crane, a former singles champion, and his partner, C. T. Russell, both of Boston, took a fairly well-contested struggle from Fulton Cutting and Stewart Cutting of New York.

It was practically a foregone conclusion when the limited list of entries was announced that Gould and Wear would battle with the Bostonians in the deciding grapple, as these two teams outclassed the field. Hutchinson and Andrews, however, give promise of being a dangerous combination next year, when they have gained a bit more experience.

Though forced to bow to Gould and Wear today in straight sets, by 6—2, 6—1, 6—3, Hutchinson and Andrews put up stronger opposition than the score indicates, and there were many long and hard-fought rallies.

Crane, who is a very crafty exponent of the court tennis game, was responsible for the victory of the Boston pair over the Cuttings. The New Yorkers never relaxed, and maintained a fast pace right to the finish, but Crane's generalship proved the deciding factor.

The first set went to the Hub clan by 6—3, but the New Yorkers turned the tables in the second frame, winning by 6—4, and came within a single point of grabbing the third set. This was the most exciting frame of the day and had the gallery on edge throughout. Better judgment in the pinches would have given the victory to the Gotham pair.

That was the crest of their drive, however, for they fell off in the fourth and final set, being trimmed by six games to three and really never having much of a chance to land on top.

Gould and Wear are odds-on favorites to defeat Crane and Russell in the final tomorrow, but Crane is a wily veteran and if Russell holds up his end the Bostonians may give the local contenders an unpleasant surprise. Gould, by the way, is the present co-holder of the national doubles title, he and W. H. T. Huhn having won the honor in 1916, the last time the championship tournament was staged. Gould and Wear recently won the court tennis doubles championship of the Philadelphia Racquet Club.

WALKER AND HARVEY WIN.

George A. Walker, Jr., and Harold D. Harvey yesterday joined Dr. H. R. Mixsell in the semi-final round of the squash tennis tournament for the championship of the Princeton Club, while Harold Tobey moved into the third round as the result of his victory over the former baseball catcher, L. J. Doyle. Walker defeated A. M. Kidder in a well-played match, taking the opening game at 18—15 after a bitter struggle, and winning the second more handily by a score of 15—10.

Third Round—George A. Walker, Jr., defeated A. M. Kidder, 18—15, 15—10; Harold D. Harvey defeated Robert Piel, 15—12, 17—14.

PRINCETON, N. J., March 26.—Pat Page and his University of Chicago quintet came to Tigertown today to put on the finishing touches for the third and deciding basket ball game with Pennsylvania in the Princeton gymnasium tomorrow evening.

Pat looked over the Tiger court and expressed satisfaction. While offering no alibis for the loss of last night's contest, he said that unfamiliarity with conditions at Weightman Hall had hampered his players considerably. The great size of the Princeton gymnasium and the height of the ceiling will aid his players, he thinks.

PEDDIE FIVE IS VICTOR.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., March 26.—In the semi-finals of the New Jersey interscholastic basket ball championships in the prep school division, St. Benedict's Prep of Newark was defeated by Peddie Institute here on the Ballantine Gymnasium Court of Rutgers College this afternoon by a score of 46 to 25. In the first game Bordentown Military Institute defeated Pennington by 51 to 47.

St. Benedict's suffered its first defeat in two years this afternoon. The Newarkers played with their regular five absent from the lineup, as they had been removed on account of playing with outside teams. Last season they were State Prep School champions.

The Bordentown-Pennington game was a hotter contest. At one time the victors had only a 26 to 25 lead. Tietje's shooting from the field was sensational and accounted for thirteen goals.

Tomorrow afternoon Peddie and Bordentown will meet in the final.

TO ADOPT TENNIS SCHEDULE

Executive Committee of U. S. L. T. A. Will Meet Today.

Plans for the coming tennis season will be discussed at the Spring meeting of the Executive Committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association at the Vanderbilt Hotel today. The most important business to claim attention is the ratification of the schedule, which will include all the sanctioned tournaments for 1920. From the number of applications already received, it is apparent that tournament players face an active season. All the fixtures of other years are included and some new events will be listed.

In addition to the reports of officers and other routine matters, the committee will have to consider several proposals that affect the season materially. The report of the Davis Cup Committee will recommend that the preliminary match between the United States and South Africa be played in England early in July if possible. There will also be a decision on invitations from the Boldklubben of Copenhagen and from the Union des Societés Françaises de Sports Athlétiques. The latter is to send a team to the hard court championship of the world, to be played at Paris May 22-30.

It is expected that twelve members of the committee will be present. The session begins at 10 A. M.

OXFORD WILL ROW CAMBRIDGE TODAY

Today there will take place on the Thames River in England that classic of British collegiate rowing, the Oxford-Cambridge boat race. The last renewal of this fixture was six years ago this month, when the Cambridge eight flashed its pennant of light blue over the finish line well in advance of the dark blue of Oxford. A few months later war's black curtain blotted lightness of spirit from English hearts and drove sports into oblivion for a prolonged stay. The armistice period last year found conditions at Britain's two leading universities unfavorable for the resumption of the great athletic contests and most of them, including the stellar test on the bosom of the Thames, went unrevived. This season, however, the interuniversity boat race is not only to be rowed, but it is to be rowed, according to reports reaching these shores, by two very good crews.

America's interest in the event and in its outcome, always keen, is greatly enhanced by the existence of a probability that one and perhaps more of the best crews developed this year in the United States will meet either the Oxonians or the Cantabs, maybe both, in the course of the English Henley regatta next July or in the Olympic Games regatta at Antwerp later on.

Course Covers 4¼ Miles.

The Oxford-Cambridge race will be rowed this afternoon over the course between Putney and Mortlake, a distance of 4¼ miles. The scene will be as in the past, a remarkable and colorful one, with many thousands of persons lining both banks of the Thames to witness the test of muscle, stamina and watermanship.

This great rowing fixture, which was first decided in 1841, has been won thirty-nine times by the Oxford oarsmen. The Cambridge crew has finished in front in thirty-one races. Once, on March 24, 1877, the result was a dead heat. On one other occasion neither crew scored a victory. This was on March 20, 1912, when both boats were swamped in the rough water and the race was declared void.

President Swann of the Cambridge University Boat Club thinks well of the chances of his crew against Oxford. He says:

"It must not be forgotten that we have had a year of rowing at Cambridge since the armistice, and it has been exceedingly useful. Still we are nothing like in the position we used to be in before the war when commencing practice for the race. There has been a tremendous gap. Nearly all the members of the crew have had to learn their rowing in a year, instead of the two or three years prospective members of the boat were formerly able to give it.

"Still, this circumstance is an advantage as well as a disadvantage. We have no preconceptions to combat. The rowing will not be up to the best before the war, but the crew will be better than many of the moderate ones. It will be a heavy one.

"Our 'style' comes straight from Captain Bruce, who coached the winning crew of 1914, and we are as near to it as possible. We have not adopted any new methods of training, except that we are not so strict about food as in other days."

President E. A. Berrisford of the Oxford University Rowing Club, who had been diligently coaching the dark blues for weeks before he was relieved by E. D. Horsfall, the ex-President, believes his crew will outrow the Cantabs. He, as well as the others interested in the coaching and training of the Oxford eight, are well satisfied with the work of the men and the progress made in their preparatory spins.

Following are the names and weights of the two crews as they were seated, according to the most recent advices:

COLUMBIA OARSMEN GET OUT ON RIVER

Two Crews Paddle Through Broken Ice for Short Spin on the Harlem.

Two Columbia crews, the first 'Varsity and the freshmen eight, battled their way against the floating ice in the Harlem River in the first outdoor work of the Spring yesterday afternoon. After watching the flow of the miniature icebergs in the stream for several days, Coach Jim Rice decided yesterday to try his luck, although he limited the practice to the 'Varsity and the first Freshman eight. The latter made its way up stream first, and was followed later by the 'Varsity, both using heavy barges instead of the shells.

The boating of the first crew was as follows: Stroke, Captain Leys; No. 7, Herman; No. 6, Forsyth; No. 5, Helwig; No. 4, Gallicoe; No. 3, Van Houten; No. 2, Curry; bow, Swinburne; coxswain, Brush.

The Freshmen lined up as follows: stroke, Brodil; No. 7, Orselli; No. 6, Willett; No. 5, Tufts; No. 4, Cooper; No. 3, Medigovitch; No. 2, Lovell; bow, Nordholm; coxswain, Brush, of the 'Varsity.

Rice followed both crews in his old coaching launch, the "1907," which he dragged out of its Winter quarters. The rowing was by fours, alternating between bow and stern, with Rice correcting elementary defects by advice shouted through his megaphone. After one trip to High Bridge and a return voyage down stream, the crews were sent ashore. The practices will be resumed on Monday, when additional 'Varsity and Freshman boats will be sent out.

HARVARD IN HOME WATERS.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 26.—The Harvard 'Varsity second and freshman crews returned to their home waters this afternoon, rowing on the Charles for the first time this year. The crews deserted their quarters at Lynn after yesterday's practice, having rowed daily there for the last nine days. Harvard's first day on the Charles last year was Feb. 12.

Coach Haines concentrated his attention today on the first 'Varsity, having in mind a race with the second crew tomorrow afternoon, for the purpose of determining whether the feat of the latter in defeating the regulars at Lynn was a fluke or not. The coach had as his guests on the launch which followed the crew Dr. Paul Withington, Assistant Graduate Treasurer, and Edward Brown, coach of the class crews.

The race tomorrow will probably be for a mile, and not on a straightaway course. The 'Varsity may use one of the new navy shells for this event. The rowing order today was:

COLUMBIA BEATEN BY FENCERS' CLUB

College Champions Lose Three-Weapon Competition by a Score of 8 to 6.

The championship Columbia fencing team, minus the services of its Captain, Millard J. Bloomer, Jr., lost a dual three-weapon competition with the Fencers' Club in the latter's club rooms last night. The absence of Bloomer, who was prevented by illness from competing, was a serious handicap to the college fencers, and they came out on the short end of an 8 to 6 score, winning a majority of bouts in the épée matches only.

Leon Schoonmaker's individual work aided materially in the home team's triumph. He won bouts in each of the three weapons, defeating T. F. Farley, 6 to 0, in the foils; G. W. Reaves, in the épée, and E. T. Stelle, in the sabre. A clubmate, Van Nardorss, also captured three victories, but they were all in the foils matches, in which he proved himself the master of Farles Stelle and Bencoe.

Columbia's two triumphs in the three épée bouts put the collegians dangerously close to the club contestants, who were leading at the time, 6 bouts to 3. When the sabre competition, the last of the evening, began the lead had been shaved down to 7 to 5 in favor of the Fencers' Club. The Columbians had a chance to deadlock the result by winning both of the sabre matches.

Schoonmaker, however, squelched their ambitions by his display of agility and light-footedness in the first clash with Stelle. The veteran fencer thrust and parried with his usual skill, and drove home several touches that soon had Stelle on the defensive. The collegian rallied, however, and nearly tied up the bout with a cluster of lightning thrusts. The remainder of the bout was all in Schoonmaker's favor and he finished with seven touches to Stelle's five.

E. T. Stelle was the bright star for Columbia, carrying off three of his team's six bouts. He won a single match in the foils and two in the épée competition. Bencoe was a close second, with two bouts.

FOILS.

Bencoe defeated Schoonmaker, 6 to 5, and Colver, 6 to 5; Stelle defeated Schoonmaker, 11 to 10; Van Nardorss defeated Farley, 6 to 0; Stelle, 7 to 6; Bencoe, 6 to 3; Colver defeated Stelle, 9 to 6, and Farley, 6 to 1; Schoonmaker defeated Farley, 6 to 0. Bout score—Fencers' Club, 6; Columbia, 3.

EPEE.

SABRES.

Schoonmaker defeated Stelle, 7 to 5; Reaves defeated Schoonmaker, 9 to 7. Final bout score—Fencers' Club, 8; Columbia, 6.

Who Discovered RICORO?

Told by a Professor

"A Ouija Board discovered Ricoro", replied the professor, as he moved the ash-tray nearer. "It happened at a clairvoyant investigation we conducted at the University.

"A famous European clairvoyant was at the seance, and after he'd made a few passes over the Ouija Board, the little three-legged planchette spelled the word 'R-i-c-o-r-o.'

" 'I can tell you that!' interrupted the Dean, 'Ricoro is the name of these delightful cigars'. He passed around some fine, slim panetelas, and everyone, including the medium, lighted up.

" 'Now', said the medium, 'with the aid of the Ouija Board, I will endeavor to divine the price of these marvelous smokes'.

Sooner or later, you'll discover Ricoro. It's mildness and balmy tropic richness will please you as much as its price will astonish you. Ricoro is imported from Porto Rico duty free, so it costs no more than domestic cigars. A dozen shapes and sizes —8c to 3 for 50c. Sold only in United Cigar Stores. "Thank You!"

GOVERNOR URGES QUICK RENT RELIEF

FEARS GREED FOR GAIN

He Asks Legislature to Enact Reconstruction Commission Program for State Housing Policy.

ALBANY, March 25.—Governor Smith today joined tenants in their fight against rent profiteering landlords and urged the Legislature to enact laws as speedily as possible to give not only temporary relief but afford a permanent housing policy for the State.

"I am ready to go with you as far as the State Constitution permits," the Governor said in a special emergency message in which he termed rent "gougers" men greedy in their desire to make money illegitimately. He transmitted with his message the report of the Reconstruction Commission on housing conditions in the State and urged enacting the program outlined by the commission.

"There are two distinct and fundamental divisions to the housing problem," said the message. "There is the immediate, pressing shortage of dwellings. This is the primary cause of high rents and affords opportunities to the sharks that always stand ready to prey upon the people and to profiteer by their necessities. And there is the permanent housing problem of the State, complicated and requiring a constructive program of years of effort and study to make progress, and even these two divisions of the problem differ in their solution in the large city of New York and in the cities and towns outside."

The Governor maintains that if there was a more earnest effort on the part of those associated with the building trades to eliminate trade obstacles, money and other interests needed to build houses would be forthcoming.

He further suggestes that all parties in the building industry should stretch a point. Banks should become reconciled to the higher costs of building and recognize this in computing loans, and labor and employers in the building trades should "lay aside their quarrels and wait a time when strikes would not affect so many of their own people before forcing issues that well might be laid aside in the public interest."

Attention was called to that part of the Reconstruction Commission's report which shows that there are nearly 400 less apartments in New York City today than a year ago because of the demolition of old buildings.

"The conditions become apparent when we realize the figures," said the message. "In 1916 there were over fifty thousand vacancies in the old law-tenements in New York—meaning houses which were built more than twenty years ago and which were not subject to the improvements called for by the Tenement House law. Over thirty thousand of these have since been occupied. Such vacancies as existed and those that still exist are in houses that are not habitable by human beings, but, due to the fearful shortage, people are being driven down and down and packed tighter and tighter at the bottom.

"This must eventually have a most evil effect upon our population. Since this class of housing can, under no circumstances, be considered profitable, no private investor will ever build it again, and it is for the relief of these conditions more than any other that a permanent housing program is necessary."

"We have been afflicted since the war period with all kinds of profiteers, those who have taken advantage of our necessities in food, in clothing, in almost every essential in life, and particularly now in the matter of rents. We can find protection for ourselves from the clothing profiteer by doing without and making our old clothes go a little further. We have found some measure of protection from the food profiteer by seeking out the large markets in which to bargain for food, but the dweller in another man's house is helpless when it comes to profiteering. Nothing is more certain in life than rent day, and when it comes around we must pay. Profiteering landlords are unpatriotic. They are displaying the same spirit of greed and selfishness that has been an underlying cause of the difficulties through which we have been passing in the last five years. They are a class which desires to make money illegitimately, rather than to earn it.

"Greed for power convulsed the world. Following in the wake of war, greed for money is rocking the foundation stones upon which democratic government rests. If it continues we might as well say that we have returned to the law of the caveman—the law of the sharpest tooth, the angriest growl and the greediest maw."

In ending his message the Governor said:

"We have been proceeding for years on an ostrich policy for the future. We have hidden our heads in the sand and refused to look the situation in the face and now it has become such that it is forcing itself on our attention in no uncertain terms, and I fear great suffering if we do not take action."

The Reconstruction Commission's recommendation that local housing boards be appointed would apply to communities having a population of more than 10,000. The function of the boards would be to aid in meeting pressing needs for sufficient homes, the collection and distribution of information relating to housing planning, assisting in the preparation of housing laws, zoning ordinances, State-wide regulatory or restrictive housing and building codes and the study of means of lowering the cost of housing through better planning in the construction of homes and through their proper location and the development of means of using State credits to apply to housing at low rates of interest without loss to the State.

The report also recommends the enactment of a constitutional amendment to permit extension of State credit on a large scale and at low rates to aid in the construction of moderate priced homes.

"The crux of the general building situation is the loan or mortgage market," says the commission's report. "With adequate loans obtainable on reasonable terms the general housing situation would tend rapidly to adjust itself, as the law of demand and supply would be in free operation."

FRAZEE BUYS THE HARRIS.

Harry H. Frazee yesterday bought the Harris Theatre in West Forty-second Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, from Mrs. Henry B. Harris. The price was not announced. The Harris covers a site with a frontage of 67.2 feet and a depth of 98.9 feet, and was built at a cost of $500,000 in 1900 by William B. Harris, father of Henry B. Harris, who was lost on the Titanic.

The theatre is now occupied by Selwyn & Co. under a lease which expires on July 1, when Mr. Frazee will take possession. At his offices yesterday it was said that extensive alterations would be made to the property, which will be used for the staging of one of his own productions. The transaction marks the second advent of Mr. Frazee in this city as the owner of theatrical realty, he having formerly owned the Longacre Theatre. Mr. Frazee, who is the owner of the Boston American League Baseball Club, also controls the Cort Theatre in Chicago and several other Western theatres.

This is the second purchase of amusement properties in this block in the last two weeks. E. E. Smathers recently bought the Lyric Theatre in Forty-second Street near Seventh Avenue from the heirs of Reginald de Koven for a reported price of $650,000.

WHISTLER ETCHING GETS HIGHEST BID

There was a good attendance with spirited bidding at the sale of the etchings and engravings of the Walter Thomas Wallace collection at the American Art Galleries last evening. Rembrandt and Whistler almost tied for the top price, which was given to the modern artist for "The Kitchen," which went to James F. Drake for $1,250. The top Rembrandt price was given for the rare "Christ Healing the Sick," No. 87, second of four states, brilliant impression with good margins, in fine condition, the Hundred Guilder Print, from the Townsend collection, which went to F. Meder for $1,075. The Whistler, No. 112, was the artist's signed proof with the butterfly, first state, a brilliant impression in brown ink on white china paper, before the extra shading in the lower left base, exceedingly rare.

First of the interesting prints to bring prices in three figures were the Buhots, the popular "Country Neighbors," No. 15, early proof, of exceptional quality, which went to Nordorman Keck for $175. "Westminster Palace," by Buhot, No. 22, went to Mrs. W. M. Cunningham for $200, and No. 23, "Westminster Bridge," to James F. Drake for $220. David Young Cameron's "St. Mark's," No. 2, "The Rose Window," No. 32 in the catalogue, went to Mr. Drake for $480. Of the Durers, the engraving, No. 36, "The Virgin Sitting by a Wall," brought the highest price, going to F. Meder for $140.

Seymour Haden's "Mytton Hall," No. 44, trial proof "A," started at $200, and was knocked down to Kennedy & Co. for $440. Radena's "Shore Mill Pond," No. 49, the larger plate, second state, went to Mrs. W. M. Cunningham for $325; Haden's "Breaking Up of the Agememnon," No. 60, trial proof "C," went to E. N. Loomis for $200, and a mezzotint of the same subject, second plate, No. 69, brought $55. There were three Millet etchings in the collection, and of these "The Gleaners," No. 78, second state, brought $105, and "The Wool Carder," No. 79, only state, brought $125. The very rare "Suzanna Rose," No. 82, by the French etcher, Paul Rajon, trial proof, very beautiful impression, went to A. Roullier for $390. Two of the more important Rembrandts, "The Mill," No. 93, only state, in perfect condition, brought $520, and No. 95, "Jan Lutma," second state, $270, both going to James F. Drake.

Whistler's "La Vielle aux Loques," No. 111, second state, went to the Brick Row Book Shop for $240, and the same buyers paid $460 for No. 116, Whistler's "Becquet, the Fiddler," third state, superb impression. The same artist's lovely Venetian etching, "The Doorway," No. 124, signed artist's proof, with the penciled butterfly, second state of seven, went to Max Williams for $525; "The Mast," No. 126, artist's signed proof, went to F. Medea for $560, and "The Limehouse," No. 127, to Knoedler & Co. for $250.

There was only one Zorn in the collection, No. 128, "At the Piano. Portrait of Miss Anna Burnett," signed artist's proof, second state, on Dutch paper, beautiful impression, and this went to Knoedler & Co. for $340.

Returns for the evening's sale of 153 numbers were $13,965, making a grand total to date, including the sale of books, of $167,732. The sale of the antiquities of the Wallace collection takes place this afternoon, opening with prehistoric Egyptian pottery.

The Weather.

Low pressure continues generally, although there has been a considerable rise during the last twenty-four hours in the upper lake and western lower lake regions and the South, the Southwestern disturbance having reached extreme western Ontario with decreased energy. There is, however, another disturbance of well defined character over eastern Colorado and still another over Alberta.

There were general rains east of the Mississippi River, although very light in New England and the Middle Atlantic States and the lower lake region, and there were also quite general snows and rains in the Northwest and extreme West, with quite heavy snowfall in Utah. Over the Central West the weather was fair.

High temperatures continue east of the Rocky Mountains, except in the lake region and New England, while west of the mountains temperatures are low for the season, decidedly so in Utah and Nevada, Arizona and southern California.

With the exception of rain Saturday in New England and northern New York, fair weather will prevail Saturday and Sunday in the lake region, the Ohio Valley, the East and South, although probably with increasing cloudiness Sunday in the upper lake region and the lower Ohio Valley.

It will be somewhat warmer Sunday in the lake region, but there will be no other temperature changes of consequence.

FORECAST.

Eastern New York—Clearing in south, showers in north Saturday; Sunday fair.
Southern New England—Local rains Saturday; Sunday fair.
Northern New England—Rains Saturday; Sunday fair, except probably local rains in east Maine.
Texas—Fair Saturday and Sunday.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at 11 P. M., taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

12 M.	51	58	11 P. M.	50	47

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 51; for the corresponding date last year it was 49; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 40.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 51; at 8 P. M. it was 49. Maximum temperature, 55 degrees at 2 P. M.; minimum, 47 degrees at 7 A. M. Humidity, 84 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 92 per cent. at 8 P. M.

What Germany's Week-End Revolution May Lead To

The outbreaks and disorders in Germany, some for monarchy and some for Bolshevism, bring up sharply the question whether it is to the best interests of the Allies to enforce upon Germany the terms of the Treaty. A Washington dispatch says a fear is felt in official circles that Russian and German Bolshevism may join hands and drag Europe down into red ruin unless aid is extended. "Simple sagacity, apart from any more generous consideration, sanctions a liberal enforcement of the peace terms," avers the Atlanta Journal, which remarks that "it would be a strange sort of equity that would end the play by plunging the rescued heroine back into calamity rather than spare the villain a pang or two of his sentence."

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, March 27th, presents a study of American editorial opinion upon the enforcement of the Versailles Treaty, and by reading it the average reader will get an unclouded idea of many problems that confront the Allied nations at the present time.

ASK ALLOCATION OF EX-GERMAN SHIPS

FOREIGNERS ARE COMPETING

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Propositions are being made to the Shipping Board by American companies to allocate to them twenty-eight former German liners which would be operated under the American flag on former German trade routes. Under this plan the American company which obtained the ships would use docks of the Hamburg-American Line in Germany and in other countries in which that concern still owns terminals.

Admiral Benson indicated that if the United States did not take this step foreign interests would. Information has been received here that foreign shipping interests have made offers to the Hamburg-American Line to obtain the facilities that had been offered to the United States.

It is understood that General George W. Goethals, President of the American Ship and Commerce Corporation, has discussed the subject, and asked that some of the ships be allocated to him. The Munson Line and the International Mercantile Marine are also requesting that the ships be allocated to them. At present, due to an injunction, the vessels cannot be sold, but there is nothing to prevent their allocation pending the Court's final decision on the injunction.

Shipping Board officials made it plain today that if the plan was consummated, the company operating the ships must be an American concern, and that the arrangement with the Hamburg-American line would be as with any other private ownership. No suggestion of German control or participation would be allowed, it was said, the arrangement with the German line being purely in the form of a lease.

GOETHALS WOULD GET GERMAN SEA ROUTES

Following the resolutions adopted by the American Steamship Owners Association on Wednesday and the statements given out on Thursday by its President, H. H. Raymond, and J. Farquhar Kerr, head of the Kerr Line, on the subject of the United States Shipping Board vessels being used to reopen the Hamburg-American trade routes closed by the war since 1914, General George W. Goethals, President of the American Shipping and Commerce Corporation, gave out a statement yesterday in which he pointed out that only the surplus tonnage would be used for the purpose, and that it would not injure the American manufacturer. He also pointed out that if the Shipping Board freighters were not used for this purpose the British steamship companies would get all the German trade routes into their own hands, and the American mercantile marine would suffer by it in the end.

INDUSTRY PLANS WORK WITH COLLEGE

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—Representatives of leading American industries representing capital of $5,000,000,000, agreed today to furnish 620 American technical colleges with definite specifications of the training requirements desired for those industries. In return, leaders from those colleges agreed to co-operate to meet those specifications. First steps were taken to make this close co-operation between industry and colleges a reality as soon as possible.

These were outcomes of the annual national meeting of the Technology Clubs, Associated, at the Drexel Institute. Representatives of more than 100 colleges and industrial organizations were present. At the opening meeting today tentative specifications for college training were presented for ten industries. Those industries each agreed to contribute $2,500 for further investigations in their particular lines.

Among the industries represented are paper making, rubber manufacturing, public utilities, manufacturers of shoes and leathers, textiles, paints and varnishes, metals and machinery, cotton finishing and railroading and coal mining.

At the morning session, after the opening address by Mayor Moore, explanatory talks were given by Dr. Hollis Godfrey, President of Drexel Institute; Louis F. Musil, Treasurer of the H. L. Doherty Corporation; Dr. Samuel P. Capen, Chairman of the American Council of Education, and Colonel B. A. Franklin, Vice President of the Strathmore Paper Company.

In the afternoon representatives of the ten industries had separate conferences with the college leaders, and there were discussions of the requirements and arrangements for the completion of the "orders" which the industries wish the colleges to fill. In attendance were officers of seventy of the great corporations of the United States and 100 college executives. The Pennsylvania Railroad announced that it would contribute financially to make possible the outlining of college courses in railroad affairs, which would meet the needs of the railroads for trained men.

Dr. Godfrey explained how the need of closer relations between industries and technical schools became apparent to officers of the Council of National Defense. That was the origin of the plan developed today.

Colonel Franklin and Mr. Musil spoke from the point of view of large employers of men, emphasizing the serious shortage of executives and the importance of the technical institutions filling the demand for them to a greater extent than at present. Dr. Capen, speaking for the colleges, told of their willingness to fill the "order" of industry.

Among the corporations represented are the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Standard Oil Company, the Victor Talking Machine Company, the United Gas Improvement Company, the Goodyear Rubber Company, the du Pont and Hercules Powder Company, the Eastman Kodak Company and the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

Ask Wilson to Oust Sultan.

A resolution signed by 200 clergymen and urging President Wilson "in the name of justice and civilization" to do all in his power to remove the Sultan of Turkey forever from any governmental control of any part of Europe and to deliver Christian peoples from Turkish rule was forwarded to the White House yesterday.

FOE OF BUSES A RAIL MAN.

Author of Restraining Action Is Interborough Stockholder.

An affidavit, stating that Schafer Brothers, one member of which is Edward Schafer, who brought the taxpayers suit to restrain the city from buying and operating buses in the city streets, are stockholders of the Interborough Consolidated Corporation, was made yesterday by Henry H. Klein, Deputy Commissioner of Accounts, and turned over to Corporation Counsel Burr. It will be made part of the papers filed with Justice Gavegan of the Supreme Court, who heard arguments on Thursday in the injunction proceedings.

Mr. Klein said he consulted the lists of stockholders of the Interborough Consolidated Corporation, the holding concern of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, which were submitted by representatives of the company to the Board of Estimate in the investigation the board is making in the traction situation, and found "that Schafer Brothers are the holders of record of 900 shares of Interborough Consolidated Corporation common stock and 1,750 preferred; also that L. and E. Schafer hold 100 shares preferred." Mr. Klein also swore the record disclosed that Schafer Brothers were holders of 2,100 shares of the Consolidated Corporation common stock on Jan. 3, 1918. Mr. Schafer is a banker and broker with offices at 120 Broadway.

WEINSTEIN WINS DELAY.

Decision Reserved on Motion in Deportation Proceedings.

Judge Learned Hand, in the United States District Court, reserved decision yesterday on a motion by Francis C. Caffey, United States District Attorney, to vacate an order to return books and papers taken from Gregory Weinstein, former editor of the Novy Mir, who is the defendant in deportation proceedings before immigration officials on Ellis Island.

Charles S. Recht, attorney for Weinstein, said one of the books seized as a suspected seditious publication was a volume of Edgar Allan Poe's works, and that a letter which was used as evidence against Weinstein was merely a letter of introduction. Mr. Caffey said part of the papers already had been returned. He raised a question as to the legality of service of the complaint, and Judge Hand said he would pass upon this point before going into the merits of the controversy.

COMMODITIES PRICES.

The advances shown in Dun's list of wholesale commodities prices this week again exceeded the declines, but this time by a very small margin. Forty-two of the current week's revisions were upward, out of a total of 80, while last week 39 advances were recorded in 72 changes. Despite the trend of the general list, foodstuffs prices showed a surplus of declines.

The following list gives the minimum wholesale prices quoted on selected standard commodities this week. They are corrected to yesterday, and with them are given comparative prices for last week and the corresponding week a year ago:

Thirteen of the 22 changes in foodstuffs this week were declines. In the local market for provisions there was a break of 25 cents a barrel in the price of Spring patent flour, but Winter "straights" did not change. Bacon also was lower here. Mess pork was the only item in the Chicago provisions list that did not change. The declines were contributed this week by live hogs and Middle Western lard; the advances were shown in live beef and sheep and in short ribs.

Price changes in the local dairy products market were confined to a narrow range. The best butter declined half a cent a pound, while the State dairy grade, common to fair, went up a cent. The best cheese went up half a cent a pound, but the under grades did not change. Nearby fancy eggs did not change, either, but at their present price they are 13 cents a dozen higher than the corresponding 1919 level. The best Western eggs dropped off a cent a dozen, but are still 6½ cents above last year's comparative figure.

In the fresh fruits common apples recovered all of last week's decline, and fancy ones made up two-thirds of the sharp break in them that occurred at the same time. The dried fruits showed only declines in apricots and muscatel raisins. Three of the four revisions shown in the vegetables were declines. Onions led with a break of $1 a bag. Choice medium and choice pea beans went down also. The only rise was a 50-cent increase in potatoes, which now stand at the unusual figure of $10.50 a barrel. At this time last year they were quoted at $4.20.

The basic coffees were nominally unchanged, and no revisions were shown in teas. Spices also were bare of changes either way. The rise in the best raw sugar continued, but it has not yet been followed by fine granulated. Fall Irish salt mackerel declined. There was a rise in No. 1 domestic salt, in 300-pound barrels, for the first time in a long while, but coarse salt did not change.

The grains list had only one decline, which was registered by corn. All of the other things went up. The price sentiment in the hides was more varied than for some time. In the ten listed grades there were five that advanced, three which declined and two that did not change. Among the advances were calfskins, which went up 10 cents a pound during the week. The increase represents the difference between their current price and the price at the same time a year ago. No advances were seen in the leathers, while declines were shown in hemlock sole and tannery run union backs. A rise in pig iron was a feature of the metals list during the week, although other advances were shown by heavy Bessemer rails, lake copper and spelter. The declines came in antimony, lead and tin.

Eleven advances were seen in the drugs, chemicals, dyestuffs and oils, against eight declines. Unusual steadiness in oils and a further rise in bleaching powder and caustic soda were among the features. News print paper was nominally cheaper, and M. F. book stock duplicated this condition. In the raw silks, Japanese stock went up some, while Shanghai silk was reported weaker. The miscellaneous changes included advances in lump lime and tallow and declines in first latex plantation crude rubber, hemp and platinum.

Further unsteadiness in prices and very little demand again were the keynotes of the local burlaps trade during the week. While prices in certain gray cottons closed the week higher than they opened it, there was quite a noticeable slowing up in demand for the goods toward the end.

MILK CONCESSIONS MYTHICAL, HE SAYS

FOR STATE-FIXED PRICES

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, declared yesterday that if the people of the city obtained any reduction in the price of milk for April it would be found that the milk distributing companies would not have diminished their receipts through the cut in the price.

"I assume there will be the same reduction in the price of milk to the consumer in this city as there has been in the cut the distributers have forced on the farmers," said Dr. Copeland. "It probably will be about 2 cents, but we won't receive any benefits from the distributers in that respect. They will take the same profits they have been taking right along.

"How ridiculous it is for the farmers to collect $300,000 to have a set of officials of the Dairyman's League sit in their office with the representatives of the distributers to fix the price of milk to the farmers! That is a function that ought to be under State control. Under the Thompson-Pellett bill, now before the State Legislature, the fixing of the price of milk to the consumer becomes a matter of State control. If the Legislature passes that bill the commission provided for in the bill will regulate the sale and distribution of milk."

Dr. Copeland said employes of six or seven milk distributing firms in many instances deliver milk to one house. He added:

"This duplication of effort would be avoided under the Thompson-Pellett bill through the establishing of zones in the city whereby one milkman could deliver all the milk for the one house. The bill also provides for the commission to use none but reasonable methods in fixing the price of milk."

Patrick D. Fox, President of the Borden's Farm Products Company, one of the two largest milk distributing companies in the city, declared that while the officials of his company had not decided what the price of milk for April would be to the consumer, Grade B milk, which contains 3 per cent. of butter fats, will not be higher than 15 cents a quart, the price last year, when, he asserted, the general living cost was about 20 per cent. lower.

"It is true," said Mr. Fox, "that we will be paying the farmer slightly less for a quart of milk this year, but our other operating expenses have greatly increased. We gave labor an increase, justified by the general advance in the living cost. Our drivers now are receiving $35 a week and 2 per cent. commission for a six-day week, compared with $33 and 2 per cent. commission for a seven-day week a year ago."

Mr. Fox called attention to the fact that two months ago his company reduced the price of Grade B milk to 16 cents, while other milk distributers in the city, he said, were charging 17 cents for the same grade of milk. He said the cut in the price of that grade of milk was decided on in an effort to make the price of milk to the consumer more uniform throughout the year.

Word was received that Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is facing a milk famine through the threat of retail milk dealers to retire from business in the event an ordinance is passed by the local health department requiring the pasteurizing of all milk sold in that city.

Dry Goods Week Betters Year Ago.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade say:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods has been considerably ahead of the corresponding week a year ago. Orders from salesmen on the road are also larger. The number of customers in the house was about the same as during the same period a year ago. Collections continue very satisfactory."

Lace Helped by Short Sleeves.

Another style feature that will help bring business to the lace trade is the fashion of shorter sleeves. It is believed that women will want something with which to trim the new type of sleeve, and laces will provide the necessary material. The demand for flouncings has been very active as a result of the vogue established for lingerie dresses. With the call for finer laces encouraged as a result of short sleeves, manufacturers and importers see a very prosperous season ahead.

Anxious Over Corset Prices.

The sharp rises in the cost of corset findings have many corset manufacturers worried. They do not wish to make further advances in the values of their own products, but they say further increases may be necessary. Rubber supporters are offering one of the chief difficulties. They have increased 60 per cent. The suggestion has been made that supporters be no longer included as a part of the corset, but the manufacturers frown on this. Owing to the construction of a corset, they say, the supporter must continue to be a part of the device.

The State, Treasury and Commerce Departments are working on regulations to govern the exportation of morphine and other narcotics. These new regulations will be issued on April 30. The present procedure calls for an application to be made to the Internal Revenue Bureau. This plan was to have been changed on Feb. 20 last, and regulations drawn up by the three Federal departments substituted. The date for the appearance of the new regulations, however, was postponed to April 30.

Gray Goods Sales Small.

Gray goods sales in this market yesterday were the smallest of the week, but prices continued steady at recent levels. The bulk of the trading was confined to printcloths, the feature of which was the selling of April-June deliveries of 39-inch 80 squares at 32 cents. Eastern 39-inch 68-72s, spot, again brought 26½ cents, while Southern spots of the same construction sold at 26 cents. Spot business in 38½-inch 64-60s was done at 24½ cents. For April-May shipments the same goods sold for 24 cents. Sheetings, fine yarn cloths and the clothing numbers showed little life yesterday.

Two-Trousers Suits.

If the plans of one of the large local clothing manufacturing firms turn out as expected, the suit with an extra pair of trousers furnished will regain its old-time popularity. In the active business being done by the separate trousers houses, the opportunity was seen of providing two trousers with a suit and thus making an economical purchase for the thrifty-minded men who are endeavoring to make their clothes last longer. In the trade there is a feeling that the idea of the two-trousers suit will be adopted by other houses which are not now using this selling plan.

Better Values Desired.

In the ribbon trade it has been the experience lately of one of the leading houses that the better grade and higher priced lines are getting the bulk of the business. The manager of the department of this house stated that in the orders now being received the large majority of the purchases are for ribbons selling at $2 and upward a yard at retail. Under this figure the demand seems to be rather weak. Even at $15 a yard ribbons appear to be selling quite freely. He suggested that what women are saving in the purchase of cotton frocks is quite possibly being put into buying better ribbons.

Diamond Prices Not Softening.

Very little credence is placed in the local gem and jewelry trades in reports to the effect that certain speculative purchasers of diamonds have been quietly reducing their stocks at sub-market prices, due to their inability to hold them in the face of tighter money. If any holders have been doing this, it was asserted, they are very few in number and of little importance from a trade viewpoint. Contrasted with reports of this kind, it was further said, is the fact that the diamond syndicate has advanced the price of rough stones 40 per cent. in the recent past. As a general proposition it appears that lower prices for diamonds are out of the question.

Hard Coal Trading Slow.

Trading in anthracite coal has been at a low ebb this week, Saward's Journal will say today, as producers have little to offer for March shipment and were reluctant to accept April orders on an open-price basis as long as there was the possibility of a wage agreement being reached in time to permit of the new circular being issued by April 1. That possibility has now virtually disappeared, and it is announced that tonnage produced between April 1 and the signing of a new scale will be shipped subject to later price determination. Elation among the operators over the order ending bituminous price fixing on April 1 has been tempered by the fear that the freedom from restrictions may be short lived if the market gets too flighty or the miners go on strike again.

Will His Collars Be Copied?

While not carried out to such extremes, perhaps, it is asserted here that the ideas embodied in the now-famous fancy soft collars of Georges Carpentier, the European fistic champion, are to be found to some extent in some of the models now being offered to the domestic consumer for Summer wear. The real question appears to be whether the French pugilist's neck coverings will be reproduced in their full glory of design and long points, or whether, as with some American adaptations of Parisian models in women's clothes, these features will have to be tempered a bit to sell even to the more extreme male "dressers" on this side of the Atlantic. That some kind of a collar will be named after M. Carpentier seems a foregone conclusion.

The Crucial Time Has Come.

With manufacturers in many lines turning their attention to the Fall wholesale season, and with others looking ahead to the Spring season of 1921, it is generally recognized in local business circles that the crucial time in regard to prices has come. If consumers show by their buying activities that they are willing to accept the present scale of prices, the tendency on the part of the manufacturers to establish still higher levels for the coming seasons will be more pronounced than it is now. If, on the other hand, sales at retail are so sharply curtailed during the next few weeks that there can be no question of consumer rebellion against prevailing prices, the manufacturers will be forced to proceed very cautiously and to reduce even necessary increases to the lowest possible point.

CHURCH DEAL PENDING.

St. Luke's Lutheran Church Will Sell Old Home.

Negotiations are pending for the sale of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, on the north side of Forty-second Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues. The structure occupies a plot about 80 by 100 feet and is held at about $500,000.

At the recent sale of the Henry Astor Estate, held by Joseph P. Day and J. Clarence Davies, a syndicate of members of St. Luke's Church, headed by Bernard Karsch, purchased as a site for the Church when it disposes of its Forty-second Street property the five private dwellings at 308 to 316 West Forty-sixth Street. The structures occupy a plot 92 by 100 feet and are occupied under leases which have a year to run.

The stock market took its cue for a late advance yesterday from the great strength displayed by sterling exchange throughout the business session. The upturn of stocks, extending from 2 to 7 points and more, was also furthered by a sudden easement of the call money rate, from 10 to 6 per cent., the drop being practically perpendicular after the bulk of the day's borrowing for the week-end had been completed. A feature of dealings in shares was an advance of metal issues, notably copper stocks, whose speculative possibilities had been emphasized the day before through a discussion by a leading producer of the statistical position of the international copper market.

Events in the sterling exchange market supplied more features of interest than those elsewhere. From Thursday's final quotation of 3.86⅝ for checks, the rate was lifted by active buying to 3.96, at the maximum level a recovery of 77 cents to the pound from the year's minimum figure was recorded, and the rate stood higher than at any time since the first week of December last year. The most prominent influence in the day's rise was expectation of gold imports on a substantial scale, which before the close of trading was converted into fact. A steamer due today has aboard a round amount of the metal, according to local advices, and London dispatches told of a movement under way which was thought to comprise $20,000,000 at the par of the sovereign. In addition, a consignment of $1,200,000 was received by a local banking house, part of a purchase at auction on the London market recently. News of the outward flow from London explained the $12,000,000 decrease of gold holdings reported by the Bank of England in this week's statement.

The supposition is that the incoming gold, exclusive of auction proceeds, represents preparations by the British Treasury for meeting the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan next October. As transfers of the metal for the purpose had been suggested early in the month by a spokesman for the British Government, the reported movement does not bring surprise to financial circles. The subject of interest secondary to the shipments and their effect on exchange is the disposition to be made of the metal when it gets into the Federal Reserve Bank's reserve, provided it finds lodgement there. Evidently speculators in stocks lean toward the supposition that it will be made the basis for additional credit. That this attitude is not the banking idea, with particular reference to Reserve Board officials, has been disclosed in comment from time to time on the general method of handling the credit situation. Accumulations of the metal from whatever sources will more soundly be considered as an offset to gold exports from the United States, and will act as a prop to existing reserve. It will take a lot of gold to counterbalance our exports this year to date. Argentina alone having taken $52,000,000.

French, Italian and Belgian exchange was easy at the same time that sterling was forging ahead. An explanation for this seemed to lie in the fact that sterling was rising faster on the European markets than at New York. Other quotations were steady.

$300,000,000 RAIL FUND REPORT NEAR

Views of Roads on Revolving Account May Reach Commerce Board Next Week.

MANY PREFER EQUIPMENT

Anxiety in Some Quarters Is Expressed Over Wage Demand, Totaling $1,110,000,000.

It is expected that early next week a report will be forwarded to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Association of Railway Executives containing recommendations in line with the views of the individual member roads of the association on the expenditure of the $300,000,000 revolving fund provided in the Transportation act. While no information could be obtained at the offices of the association yesterday regarding the number or nature of replies to the inquiry which was sent out some time ago at the request of the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was learned in the financial district that many favor the use of the fund for the purchase of new equipment.

The car shortage is considered by many railroad men to be the most pressing problem confronting them. The public has welcomed the return of the carriers to private control in the belief that it would mean an immediate improvement in service, and railroad executives are fully aware of the fact that some improvement must be shown within a reasonable time or the attitude of the public may undergo a decided change. The roads are away behind in equipment, and many of them have themselves to blame for this situation. This is admitted, and while there are some operators who are holding back the majority are doing what they can to ease the car shortage. Substantial orders for new cars and locomotives have been placed already by some of the more prosperous companies, and repair programs have been mapped out which are expected to bring about a better car service within a short time.

In some quarters there has been a considerable expression of anxiety over the wage demands of the railroad workers, which aggregate about $1,100,000,000 a year. The present payroll of the railroads is in round figures some $2,800,000,000, and freight revenues total about $3,500,000,000. A freight rate increase of 25 per cent., would increase freight revenue to $4,375,000,000, but if the full demands of railroad labor were granted the total payroll would advance $3,900,000,000, which would leave only $475,000,000, or less than half of the $1,100,000,000 5½ per cent. return on the $20,000,000,000 aggregate value railroad property in the United States.

Of course it is not expected that the full demands of the Brotherhoods will be met, but it is believed that some increases will be allowed. An increase of 1 per cent. in the freight rates of the carriers is equal to about $35,000,000, so that an allowance of $400,000,000 additional wages would eat up more than 11 per cent. of any freight rate increase which the Interstate Commerce Commission may initiate. It is not predicted that the increases which will be allowed to railroad labor will amount to $400,000,000, but that figure was offered as an example of just how expensive are additions to the payroll.

When the wage questions will be settled is still uncertain, as the Permanent Labor Board provided for in the Transportation act has not been announced as yet by the President. Word received from Washington in the financial district yesterday, however, indicates that the personnel of the Board may be announced from the White House early in the week.

WASHINGTON, March 26. — An amendment to the Constitution of the United States making stock dividends subject to the income tax was proposed in the Senate today by Senator Nelson of Minnesota, a Republican.

The amendment would remove the exemption from such taxation which the Supreme Court recently decreed. The resolution, which was referred to the Judiciary Committee, follows:

"'Amendment Sixteen—The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived (including stock dividends, from whatever source obtained or in whatever manner issued), without apportionment among the several States and without regard to any census or enumeration.'"

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Money and Loans.

The way money rates eased off to 6 per cent. yesterday afternoon, after having renewed at 9 per cent. and touched 10 per cent. earlier in the day, led many to revise their estimates of what today's bank displays are likely to show. Some even went so far as to predict that there would be a further reduction in member banks' borrowings at the Reserve Bank, but this opinion was by no means general, and probably a majority look for an increase. The return of tax checks and the unusually large amount of new financing done this week would certainly seem to point to an increase, both in member banks' borrowings and in loans at the Clearing House banks.

A banker whose institution is a member of the Federal Reserve system brings up the point that legitimate borrowings at the Reserve Bank should at least be equal to the amount of war paper the individual bank is carrying. Thus, he reasons, if a member bank has, say, $50,000,000 in war paper, it is entitled to that much accommodation at the Reserve Bank and then is entitled to something more for its ordinary commercial needs. But, he says, apropos of the idea to establish individual credit lines and scale rates of rediscount for member banks, there should be no scale which would give any member bank a less amount of credit than it is extending to the Government.

The Italian Loan.

Reports from Rome state that the Italian internal loan, just closed, has brought in to the national treasury upward of 20,000,000,000 lire, equal at normal rates of exchange to $3,860,000,000, and that of this sum 15,000,000,000 lire are to be used to fund the Italian floating debt and the remaining 5,000,000,000 lire for retiring currency notes, some 18,000,000,000 lire of which are at present outstanding. This proposed reduction of outstanding currency is regarded here as one of the most salutary steps the Italians could possibly take. The French Government, too, it is understood, intends doing something of this sort with a part of the proceeds of the big internal loan which it has just floated.

French Notes.

Whether the French have already applied some of the receipts from the loan or not is not known here, but there are indications that something big has been going on at the Bank of France, for in the statement of a week ago there was a reduction of 304,814,000 francs in outstanding circulating notes, and in the report cabled over yesterday there was a further contraction of 592,051,000 francs, making a total reduction in the past fortnight of 896,865,000 francs, which is equal to $173,095,000. The amount received by the French Treasury on this latest loan was announced as approximately 18,000,000,000 francs, and if the French follow the example of the Italians Bank of France circulating notes should be brought down to the neighborhood of 33,000,000,000 francs within the next few weeks.

Railroad men who have returned from Washington recently say it is expected in that city that President Wilson will announce the personnel of the Tripartisan or Permanent Labor Board and the three new Interstate Commerce Commissioners early next week. These appointments are considered as imperative to meet the problems facing the railroads and sentiment in local railroad quarters yesterday favored as quick action as possible. The representatives chosen by the railway executives and railroad labor to represent their individual interests were picked some time ago and forwarded to the President, and it is not expected that many days will elapse before the new men are in office.

Rail Mergers to Wait.

It has been suggested insistently in the financial district that some of the important mergers of railroad companies might be expected this month as the result of the enactment of the new railroad legislation. In some instances such combinations have already been announced, but they have all been inter-company affairs. That large and independent concerns will merge in the next few months is not believed in conservative quarters. Points against such action are the settlements which must be made between the carriers and the Government, which are expected to be subject to delay over a period of months, if not years. It is considered as doubtful if the single question of deferred maintenance will be settled before the end of 1921.

The Federal Railroad Investment.

According to figures prepared by the Director General of Railroads the total of the Government's investment, when all of the settlements have been made, in the railroads of the country will be in the neighborhood of $1,200,000,000, if not more. So far the Government's investment in the carriers is estimated to be approximately $900,000,000. So far Congress has appropriated for the use of the Railroad Administration some $1,450,000,000. It now appears that in order to make necessary adjustments with the carriers there must be an additional appropriation of $400,000,000.

Equipment Offerings Expected.

While it is expected in some investment quarters that many of the railroads which made equipment trust agreements with the Government covering the $380,000,000 worth of freight cars and locomotives purchased by the Railroad Administration in 1918 will feel out the market for these notes, it is said in conservative quarters that the amount will not be great. It will be limited, according to the conservative element, by the number of carriers with credit sufficient to attract the average investor. That the roads which showed big operating deficits to the Railroad Administration in 1919 will attempt to do any of this kind of financing is not generally anticipated.

Prices, after following an irregular course on the Stock Exchange yesterday, became decidedly strong in the final hour of trading and some big advances were recorded. Several factors contributed to the improved sentiment and the bears were run in quickly in several issues. For one thing, there was a report that a large amount of gold was coming in on the Lapland, and the further rise in sterling was a constructive influence. Furthermore, there was a sharp drop in money rates to 6 per cent., as compared with a high of 10 per cent for call funds, and this was taken by some to indicate that the money flurry of the last few days had come to an end. At all events, the shorts were not inclined to question, but proceeded to cover at a rate that sent prices up many points in some of the highly speculative issues, even Steel common gathering sufficient speed to cross 105.

The Baldwin Meeting.

Baldwin still holds its place in the class of mystery stocks. It had been anticipated that this week's meeting of the Directors would bring forth the long expected statement regarding a melon cutting. If anything of this sort is planned it will remain for another meeting of the Directors to tell the story. The meeting just passed took into consideration only routine business. Such an announcement is scant comfort to the speculative holders of the shares who have been clinging to the issue in the expectation of a substantial cash or stock dividend. However, holders of Baldwin are not easily discouraged and rumors of impending events will probably be as plentiful as ever before.

Corn Products Dividend.

A declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of $1 a share on Corn Products common stock, together with an extra dividend of 50 cents a share, was made yesterday. This corresponds to the dividend that was declared three months ago. It did not, however, quite measure up to Wall Street expectations. Some had believed that the shares would be placed on a flat 6 per cent. annual basis. At the time of the initial dividend President Bedford announced that it was the hope of the Directors to make extra distributions from time to time, and yesterday's declaration was in line with this policy.

URGES FIXED POLICY ON GERMAN TRADE

SEES GREAT OPPORTUNITIES

Declares in a Chicago Address That There Are Signs of German Recovery.

CHICAGO, March 26.—Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, told the Industrial Club in an address this evening on "The Foreign Trade Outlook" that "this is America's hour" of opportunity, realization and service to the world. He urged that the United States adopt a permanent policy on foreign trade and that the leading political parties should declare themselves on the subject.

"The actual loans granted by the War Finance Corporation thus far have not been large," said Mr. Meyer. "The total is about $30,000,000. It was extended to various manufacturers and bankers that sent railroad equipment to Poland, electrical and agricultural machinery to England, France, Italy, Belgium and Australia; food to Belgium and machinery for steel plants to France. But the work of the corporation is not to be judged by the figures in the balance sheet. Most of our work during the war consisted in helping others to help themselves.

"We are encouraging the formation of Edge law corporations under the Federal Reserve Board and we are equally ready to help wherever bankers propose to organize under State laws for the financing of foreign trade. During the war many of the names of the industries which we helped never appeared on the books of the War Finance Corporation. I recall one loan of $20,000,000 and one of $15,000,000, which our corporation agreed to make, if funds could not be obtained through other channels; but this assurance made it possible to obtain the money elsewhere.

"General interest was greatly stimulated by the unprecendented action of the Congress in authorizing the use of $1,000,000,000 by a Government institution to assist foreign trade—a sum equal to the nation's entire debt before the war—a step that indicated to the country, the importance attached to the problem by the Treasury and the Congress.

"The resumption by European countries of trade with Germany, Poland, and Czechoslovakia is under way, and the economic necessity of resuming trade with Russia at the earliest possible moment is now thoroughly understood. The recent news from Germany is disturbing, but it would appear more remarkable that such disturbance has not come sooner, and the ability of Germany to maintain a reasonable degree of order under the difficult conditions prevailing during the last sixteen months argues in favor of a prompt restoration of order, provided steps are taken to determine the indemnities in a definite way and to make the German people feel that they have a stake in the future.

Framing Plans to Spur Trade.

"The War Finance Corporation and other organizations have under consideration numerous and important plans which will result in a continuation of the export of supplies for Europe, and I believe that they will be effective in bringing about within the next few months a great improvement of commercial and industrial conditions in Europe. More co-operation from our merchants and bankers is needed, but the work is well on its way, and if Chicago and other interior points will co-operate the results will be more satisfactory and more speedily obtained.

"If we are successful in our plans for the immediate problems, we shall make Europe, first, self-sustaining, and then our competitors in the markets of the world. We must, therefore, lose no time in studying and organizing for the trade of South America and the Far East, which must necessarily become the great markets for our manufactured goods in the future. Their demands and those of other prospective markets should be estimated in advance and a consistent portion of our producing capacity must be allotted to them.

"The present unlimited demand for American products, regardless of price, is due to abnormal and temporary conditions. And as Europe restores her disordered industrial situation there will be a substitution of new and different demands that we must begin to consider and be prepared to meet.

"Where do we stand? Have we a plan and a purpose? Our leaders must educate themselves and the people to the meaning, the methods and the importance of foreign trade. We must develop a policy to meet new situations. The policy must be one which the people can understand and support.

British and German Methods.

"Both Germany and England have advanced further than we in relating business to Government in the conduct of foreign trade. The English Board of Trade is a highly centralized organization of business and Government whose President sits as a member of the Cabinet.

"Germany, through the system of officially controlled kartels, had likewise highly centralized its business organizations and compelled their collaboration with the Government. But this had been carried to such an irksome degree before the war that there was a great cry for freedom from bureaucratic control.

"These organizations were built up in England and Germany to suit their own conditions. We should study them and decide what they contain of value to us, but we should not copy them. They are suited to countries with geographical and political conditions quite different from those obtaining in this country. In such matters let us heed our war experience. Our industrial organization differed radically from the European forms, because it was built up to suit our own country.

"In the organization of our foreign trade the Webb-Pomerene Export Corporations act and the Edge Bank Corporations act constitute a nucleus from which with time and favoring circumstances we may build.

"Our foreign trade organizations must have a continuity of policy. Like our naval, military and diplomatic policies, a trade policy must be continuously sustained in order to be effective, and should not be subject to sudden changes with the advent of every new Administration. In this way our merchants would learn to value foreign trade from a long-range point of view, and would be able to plan for more remote as well as immediate returns.

"Both political parties should further the needs of the hour by declaring their policies and defining in their platforms their plans for the organization of foreign trade."

"Gift to France" Opens Drive.

The only surviving member of the Sons of the Revolution Committee which arranged for the pedestal of Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty, William Osborne McDowell, seventy-two years old, of 201 Grafton Avenue, Newark, contributed yesterday for "America's Gift to France." An effort is being made to raise $250,000 this week for the statue to be erected on the Marne in commemoration of the victory of Joffre's armies in 1914. Georges Carpentier has been invited to speak this afternoon from the platform at Times Square where the ten-foot container has been placed for contributions.

BRITISH SHIPPING US £4,000,000 IN GOLD

PART MAY ARRIVE TODAY

Reports That the Lapland Would Bring It Raised Sterling Exchange to $3.96 Yesterday.

LONDON, March 26.—It is reported in the bullion market that £4,000,000 in gold will be shipped to America at the end of the week—£2,500,000 from the Bank of England's stock and the remainder from other sources.

Officials of the Bank of England refused information on the subject today. The shipping companies say that a certain amount of gold is going out, but decline to give details as to the exact amount. It is known, however, that arrangements have been made with the Cunard and White Star lines for carrying bullion on steamers leaving at the end of the week, and it is possible that the amount going is the first instalment in preparation for repayment of the Anglo-French loan of £100,000,000.

Reports that the steamer Lapland, due to arrive here today or tomorrow, was bringing a substantial amount of gold served to put sterling exchange rates to the highest point they have touched since the collapse of last December, when after the defeat of the Peace Treaty by the Senate, the rate fell under $4 to the pound. At the high point yesterday the pound was worth $3.96, which is a recovery of 77 cents from the extreme low record, made on Feb. 4.

No official statement was forthcoming yesterday concerning the reported gold shipment on the Lapland. At the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents in America for the British Government, no comment was made, and members of the firm refused either to affirm or deny the reports. However, in most parts of the banking district it was believed that the Lapland would bring in some of the metal, estimates ranging all the way from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Circumstantially, it is entirely possible for as much as $12,500,000 to be aboard the steamer. The boat sailed from Southampton on Thursday, March 18. On the preceding day the Bank of England's statement showed an increase in the institution's gold holdings, but in the statement issued by the bank as of March 24, and published here on Thursday, there was a reported loss of approximately £2,500,000, the first to be reported since the first of the year. Thus, bankers who insisted they had no definite information yesterday pointed out the entire possibility of a large consignment being aboard the Lapland.

Reports from London, which spoke of immediate exports of £4,000,000, were received, but were somewhat mystifying, for they stated that the gold was to be forwarded, and not that it had already left a British port. If this gold, which was said in the dispatches to include the £2,500,000 lost by the Bank of England, is still in London, it is difficult to account for the sum said to be on the Lapland.

The arrival of $1,100,000 gold from London was announced yesterday, making the total received this week to date $2,450,000. This gold was purchased about two weeks ago by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in the London open market, and it was said to bear no relation to any shipments which the British or French Governments might be contemplating.

There has been a good deal of speculation here regarding probable gold imports from England ever since the Chancellor of the Exchequer stated definitely some weeks ago that the $500,000,000 Anglo-French loan would be paid off at maturity next October. That some gold will be forwarded to this country is generally believed, and estimates of the amount have been all the way from $50,000,000 to $250,000,000. Some bankers have been of the opinion that whatever gold England would send would be accumulated in Canada, where, under the custody of the Canadian Minister of Finance it could be counted as Bank of England reserves until late in the Fall, when whatever was found necessary could be shipped across the border in a few days.

CANADA

The Land of Tremendous Possibilities

AFTER her extraordinary accomplishments during the world war Canada faces a brilliant future. Her basic activity—agriculture—has been enlarged, her industrial resources advanced, and her future revealed through the intensive efforts of the last five years. Her people enter now into the realm of the future with the same enthusiasm that guided the nation over the perils of war and many foreign institutions are establishing branches in the country to take the fullest advantage of the anticipated progress.

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce is solving problems of finance by establishing branches in the sections where their services may be needed.

Since the armistice was signed this institution has opened 127 new branches in various parts of the country, making a total of 504 throughout the Dominion. Supplementing these branches are offices in New York, San Francisco, Seattle and Portland, (Oregon). Foreign facilities include branches in Newfoundland, St. Pierre et Miquelon, London, (England), Havana and Mexico City, in addition to correspondents in every part of the world.

THE Canadian Bank of Commerce is thus able to offer a banking equipment that keeps pace with the development of Canada and the rapidly increasing trade between the Dominion and the United States.

The Bank's New York Agency will be glad to answer inquiries regarding this exceptional service.

ALLIES DEFER ACTION ON RUSSIAN TRADE

FORMER INDIFFERENT TO IT

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 26.—The allied proposal to resume general commercial relations with Russia appears for the present lost in the maze of European politics. A month ago the three Premiers in London issued their proclamation saying that, while they could not recognize the Soviet Government at that time, trade with Russia should be encouraged by all possible means. Nothing tangible has so far been accomplished by the Allies, or, if anything tangible has been done, it is a carefully guarded secret.

In the meanwhile France suspects England of playing the Russian game for her own ends, and the English appear to feel that the French are not entering wholeheartedly into the realization of the plan adopted last month in London. The Russians announce that they are sending a committee to Copenhagen to make trade arrangements, but there has been no announcement of any allied commission to meet it.

Whatever are the real facts, it is not America that is delaying the resumption of trade with Russia. The United States is probably more ready to resume economic relations with Russia than the Allies are.

After the allied Premiers adopted their Russian program in London, they submitted it to President Wilson for his approval. Mr. Wilson told them that the American Government agreed that trade should be resumed with Russia, and that it was ready to lift all restrictions. He invited the Allies to unite with America in a declaration of common policy at an early date. The date suggested has come and gone, but nothing has been done. It is said here that the Allies replied to him that they regarded the date he had suggested as too early.

It is thus plain that the responsibility for the delay cannot be placed on Washington. The adoption by the Allies of the President's recommendation would have hastened rather than retarded developments. It is not suggested that the Allies have not the very best of reasons for their delay. They have their particular interests to look after; but it is suggested that they should assume the responsibility for the delay which they think the situation demands.

It might as well be said that the French are not enthusiastic about the resumption of trading with Russia. In addition to their dislike to enter into any sort of relations with the present Russian Government, they do not regard Russia as a promising source of supplies, and they have for the moment nothing worth while to sell to Russia. In the latter respect they do not occupy the same position as England or Italy, or the United States.

THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

The trade reviews of the past week note an improvement in general business, due to better weather, but conflict on the question of conservatism in some lines. Dun's says that the feeling of conservatism was more evident, but Bradstreet's takes the opposite viewpoint and asserts that the conservative feeling was less than in recent weeks.

Dun's Review says:

> The first quarter of 1920, which has been a period marked by unusual inconvenience to commerce through transportation delays and other handicaps, now nears its ending with an increase of activities in various quarters on the favorable turn in the weather, but with evidences of growing conservatism clearly apparent. With prices and wages continuing at exceptionally high levels, and with the enhanced costs of transacting business, the prevailing situation is one which induces caution in operations, and some hesitation is prompted by uncertainty regarding international political developments, labor conditions, and the outcome of the year's crops. More than any other single element, however, the price factor governs mercantile and industrial undertakings, and expectations of price readjustments to follow, although as yet unsupported by any general market yielding, tend toward reduction in engagements for the future.

Bradstreet's says:

> Distinct improvement in general business is reflected in the week's dispatches. Trade among wholesalers and jobbers is moving in even better volume than a week ago, and while the conservative feeling on the part of buyers noted in the advices for recent weeks is still present, it is perhaps less emphasized than hitherto. The most marked improvement, however, is noted in retail trade, which has reacted strongly to the stimulus of Easter shopping and the first really Springlike weather of the season.

DEMANDS NATIONAL BUDGET.

John T. Pratt Says Consequences Otherwise May Be Unfavorable.

John Pratt of the firm of Fosburgh, Pratt & Osborn, speaking before the members of the Bond Club at its regular monthly meeting yesterday, said that unless the United States adopts some form of national budget, the consequences within the next few years are likely to be extremely unfavorable. With the nation confronted with potential appropriations for the coming year of upward of $4,000,000,000, Mr. Pratt thought that only through the medium of a scientifically prepared budget system could extravagance and waste be avoided.

The speaker reviewed the history of budget agitation in this country and described two bills now before Congress. He was inclined to favor that which the Senate Committee is working on and gave his reasons for this choice, chief of which was that the Senate bill is designed to make the Secretary of the Treasury the active advocate of economy and efficiency, while the House bill tends to spread responsibility among all of the Cabinet officers.

COTTON'S ONE SHIFT IS MAY PRICE RISE

Season's Record Expected to Cross 5,000,000-Bale Mark Sunday or Monday.

Devoid of any sensational "near" position, with all the upsetting influences which attach to such an option, the cotton market yesterday presented a more natural appearance than it had enjoyed in some time. Movements were more in accord with news developments and there was less of the "technical" to inspire sensational rises or falls. At the start of business there was selling, mainly for profit-taking, by the South and some of the Wall Street houses, and this put prices down 15 to 20 points throughout the list, but in the afternoon there was a sharp recovery and some of the net gains went to as much as the early losses had been. There was another fall at the close and, aside from May, which has now become the near month, the market finished virtually unchanged. Of the four active options beyond May, two of them, July and October, finished up 1 point each in the bid, while December and January closed at the same bid prices which had obtained on Thursday night.

The May contract, which now moves forward to occupy the position surrendered by March on Thursday, was the strongest on the list, advancing at the extreme 43 points and closing up 30 points on the day. So long as the contract supply of cotton remains around its present abnormally low total there is every reason to believe that May will be strong.

The influences which rallied the market yesterday afternoon were the strength of sterling exchange, the reports of impending arrivals of gold imports and the day's rather large total of exports, which amounted to 55,116 bales and brought the full week's total up to 181,255 bales. For the season to date the exports, as reported by the Exchange, amount to 4,981,431 bales. This, probably, is somewhat less than the Census Bureau's figures, but at all events it is pretty certain that the 5,00,000-bale mark will be crossed by Sunday or Monday.

B. Miller and F. B. Polson on August 7th, 1894, on the South by the new windmill line, and on the west by the easterly limit of lands patented to the City of Toronto on December 18th, 1893, which said lands are further described by By-Law No. 5734 of the City of Toronto.

And the interest, if any, of the Company in that certain tract of land covered by water and being water Lot No. 15, according to plan filed as No. 5 A in the Registry Office for the Registry Division of East Toronto, excepting thereout such part as has been expropriated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and

In the year 1906 negotiations were had between the Company and the City of Toronto with respect to purchase by the Company of the property mentioned above as Lot (G); subsequently and in or about the year 1911 negotiations were commenced with the City of Toronto looking to the closing of Frederick Street—being Lot (F) above mentioned—and to the leasing by the City to the Company of said lots (F) and (G) above mentioned; subsequently it is said the City of Toronto conveyed the said lots to the Toronto Harbor Commissioners subject to a lease to the Company, which lease, however, had not been executed by the City of Toronto—in pending litigation between the Toronto Harbor Commissioners as Plaintiffs and the Company as Defendants. The Company contends that it is entitled to a lease of lots (F) and (G) from the Toronto Harbor Commissioners upon the following terms:—the lease to run for the term of forty years from 1912 at an annual rental of $2,939.50 for the first twenty-one years and $3,919.33 for the last nineteen years of the said term, and taxes and said rent to be payable quarterly, and the Company alleges that the lease among other provisions provides for the closing of a portion of Frederick Street by the City of Toronto and the erection of a dry dock by the Company.

The business of the Polson Iron Works, Limited, was established in 1883, since which time it has been consistently carried on. Its plant is fully equipped for the manufacture of steel vessels, tugs, barges, dredges, scows, engines and boilers—marine and stationary—tanks, smokestacks and water flumes, and to carry on business as general machinists. Since the inception of the business the Company and its predecessors have built upwards of 150 vessels, steel and composite, including a steel car ferry of 5,400 tons, believed to be the largest vessel in operation on Lake Ontario. Within the last two years ocean-going vessels of an aggregate tonnage of about 28,000 tons have been completed and delivered by the works, the productive capacity of which is believed to be between 14,000 and 16,000 tons per annum. The Company has had a large share of the business in Canada relating to the construction of suction and dipper dredges for use by the Government of the Dominion of Canada and private contractors and it has also had an extended connection in the manufacture and sale of marine and stationary boilers.

The properties of the Company comprise about 13 acres, freehold and leasehold, very favorably situated at the eastern end of Toronto Bay, on Lake Ontario, with adequate railway switching facilities. The properties have a combined frontage of approximately 636 feet by a depth of approximately 1,000 feet, whereon are erected machine shop, boiler shop (constructed and equipped in 1917-1918 at a cost of about $200,000), storeroom, wood working plant, brass foundry, blacksmith shop and other and necessary shipyard buildings. In addition there are a hospital building and general offices. In the shipyard are four 260 foot berths so located that if desired two may, it is said, be used together for the construction of Lake Vessels of the largest size. There are also two gantrey cranes, with 75 feet between rails—one of about 8 tons capacity and the other of about 15 tons capacity. Dockage amounts to about 2,400 feet with an average depth of water of from 20 to 24 feet.

Further particulars and conditions of sale, and permits for the inspection of the property, may be had on application to G. T. Clarkson, Receiver and Liquidator, 15 Wellington Street West, Toronto, or to Messrs. Aylesworth, Wright, Moss & Thompson, Bank of Hamilton Building, Toronto, or Messrs. Johnston, McKay, Dods & Grant, Bank of Hamilton Building, Toronto, or Messrs. Starr, Spence, Cooper & Fraser, 120 Bay Street, Toronto.

OPERATORS ACQUIRE JOHNSTON BUILDING

HELD AT $5,000,000

Another downtown office building passed into the control of real estate operators when Emily de Forest and others sold to Mandelbaum & Lewine the seventeen-story Johnston Building, at 30 to 36 Broad Street, running through the black to 32 New Street, and the entirely southerly side of Exchange Place from Broad to New Street. The size of the property is 88 feet on Broad Street and 87.10 on New Street and 149.10 on Exchange Place. The Brown-Wheelock Company was the broker in the deal.

This property has been in the hands of the sellers since 1831, when the Broad Street end of the plot was purchased, and in 1845 the balance of the plot through to New Street was secured, and the present Johnston Building was erected by the sellers in 1900. It is a modern office building, some of the tenants being the International Paper Company, Atlas Portland Cement Company, de Forest Brothers, Halle & Steiglitz, Curtis, Mallet-Prevost & Colt and other large concerns.

The property is opposite the Mills Building site, just secured by J. P. Morgan & Co. for their new twenty-story office building, and also opposite the New York Trust Company Building and the Broad Exchange Building. The Exchange Court Building, at 52 Broadway, sold last month, occupies the balance of the block on Exchange Place.

About one year ago the same brokers leased to the Western Union Telegraph Company for twenty-one years, with renewals, the adjoining property on Broad Street, running through to New Street, where a five-story fireproof building has just been erected by the Western Union for its own occupancy, and this low building insures light on four sides for the Johnston Building.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have been very active this year in the purchase of large office buildings, having purchased 30 Pine Street at a price reputed to be $1,500,000; the Albemarle Building, held at $4,000,000, which they sold to Emery Beers & Co., tenants in the building; the Vanderbilt Building, at 132 Nassau Street, held at $1,500,000, and 399 Broadway, southwest corner of Walker Street, held at $1,500,000. It is reported that the Johnston Building was held at $5,000,000.

Jersey Waterfront Project.

The Lord Dry Dock Corporation, which was recently formed with a capital of $10,000,000, will erect five piers, dry docks, shops and a shipping repair plant on 2,000 feet of this property. The Brown-Wheelock Company negotiated the transactions.

Cohen, operator, to J. Kadour. Pease & Elliman negotiated the sale. Mr. Cohen also sold to Horn & Hardart Company the land at 68 Trinity Place, running through to 103-105 Greenwich Street, a plot containing about 7,000 square feet. It adjoins the skyscraper at 2 Rector Street and is restricted to a building of six stories, with a view to protecting the light of the taller building. It will be improved with a structure of this height and part of it used by the buyer for an "automat" restaurant. The property was held at $480,000. Samuel J. Tankoos was the broker. On the same block there is to be erected the new home of the Curb Exchange.

Last week, this parcel, which was valued at $225,000 by the former owners, Mrs. Ida E. Bliss and Justine A. Stafford, was sold to Henry Mandel through Rice & Hill. The property consists of a four-story building, on a lot 24 by 100.

DEAL FOR THE SYDENHAM.

The property has a frontage on Madison Avenue of 100 feet and on Fifty-eighth Street of 95 feet, and is at present occupied as a physicians' building, being fully tenanted. It is the intention of the purchaser, who is a prominent New York attorney, as the present leases expire to alter such portions of the building as become available for business uses.

The property was originally built for hotel purposes and was known as the Madison Avenue Hotel. About 1905 it was purchased by J. C. Lyons and associates, who rebuilt for a physicians' building. The recent activity along Madison Avenue north of Forty-second Street and the rapid development in this immediate neighborhood makes the sale of this parcel one of unusual interest. Among the most recent buyers are George Backer, who purchased the northwest corner of Madison Avenue and Fifty-second Street, to be improved for their own business; the Waitt Operating Company bought the southeast corner of Madison Avenue and Fifty-fourth Street, several old private residences, which plot they are now improving with a modern building; the New York Exchange for Women's Work, who purchased the two 25-foot private residences, 539 and 541 Madison Avenue, which are being demolished, to be replaced with a modern building to be completed this Fall. SULTAN MUST STAY, MILLERAND ASSERTS

NO CRISIS OF ALLIANCES

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, March 26.—Premier Millerand declared in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon that the Turk must be maintined in Constantinople. Tonight's papers say that President Wilson's note on Turkey is on its way and that it says that the Turk must be put out of Constantinople.

The Premier made his statement in the course of the debate on foreign policy now in progress. Following the attack on England yesterday by former Premier Barthou and an attack on the French and allied Russian policy this afternoon by Marcel Cachin, Radical Socialist, M. Millerand took the floor and defended his Government. Cachin had charged that the Allies were guilty of imperialistic dismemberment of Turkey which would destroy that nation.

M. Millerand replied that it was too early to make any such charge, as the terms of the treaty were still being negotiated. He said that the Allied Governments intended to maintain a Turkey which would be able to live and to allow the Turkish Government to function. In order to accomplish that, he asserted, the Sultan must be left in Constantinople.

Allies In Concert On Russia.

As for Russia, he said that none of the Allies would act independently in a manner which might injure the interests of another ally. He recalled that the Premiers had favored the resumption of commercial relations with Russia, but had not recognized the Soviet Government.

The Premier reviewed the plans for sending a League of Nations Committee to make a report upon political conditions in Russia. He said that the Allies had communicated their Russian decision to Washington and that the American Government had replied that it, too, favored commercial dealings with Russia, but was not ready to recognize the Soviet authority. In reply to Cachin's charge that the French Government was doing nothing to straighten out the Russian tangle M. Millerand said that France was doing as much as any one else.

Barthou's Speech Disapproved.

M. Barthou's effort yesterday was not well received by the Paris press. His attacks upon Lloyd George did not look well in columns parallel to those giving the British Premier's words of encouragement to France and pledging England's aid to make Germany pay. His advocacy of recognition of the Soviets ran up against a brick wall of opposition. While there is a great deal of discontent in France over the trend of allied affairs, Barthou appears to have gone further than most of his countrymen are ready to go.

The Journal des Débats comments:

"Barthou did not speak like a statesman, either in meaning or in form. His discourse was not that of a parliamentarian.

"As for Barthou's statement with regard to England's retaining the mastery of the seas, the Journal says:

"The suppression of that one of President Wilson's Fourteen Points relating to the freedom of the seas does not date from the voyage of Wilson to London, but from Nov. 1, 1918, before the signature of the armistice. From that moment Lloyd George was adamant upon the subject. He declared to Colonel House that he would rather continue the war without the United States than admit Wilson's point relative to the freedom of the seas. It is therefore unjust to accuse him of having snatched advantage from Mr. Wilson while he was in London."

The Temps says that Lloyd George has shown by his speech that the alliance remains the real thing; that England means to stand back of France over the payment of the indemnity and the disarmament of Germany, and that nothing is to be gained from attacking the British Premier.

Liberté devotes much attention to Lloyd George's speech, and hopes that he will quickly translate his words into actions.

Pertinax, in the Echo de Paris, says:

"The Entente cordiale is an institution the value of which cannot be exaggerated. It corresponds in France as in England to profound popular sentiment. If we withdraw from it we will face surprises and disappointments much more bitter than those to which Mr. Barthou referred. To follow Barthou would be to break the alliance. We cannot follow him."

The Figaro says that Barthou went too far and that there was too much oratory and passion and not enough common sense in his attack on England.

Victoire's editor says that Barthou gives him a headache. The Matin seems to think that if Barthou's attack was in any way responsible for Lloyd George's declaration, which in point of time was some two hours later than Barthou, he did France a good turn.

The most significant of the comment was that of M. Briand's paper, the Eclair, which at the head of its article notifies its readers that Barthou was speaking for himself alone. This is Briand's notice that Barthou did not speak for him. It was supposed that if an effort were to be made to upset the Millerand Government it would be directed by Briand.

PARIS, March 26 (Associated Press).—Premier Millerand, replying in the Chamber of Deputies today to the interpellation of former Premier Barthou on Thursday, said:

With regard to the Russian Soviet Government, the Premier declared that "the Allies can only recognize the Russian Government when that Government recognizes national sovereignty in acts as well as in words." The French Government, the Premier said, was prepared to act like the United States, entering upon commercial and industrial relations with Russia without having relations with the Soviet Government.

M. Millerand read a report on attacks against English, French and Belgian officers in Berlin and Bremen, saying that Marshal Foch had presented a scheme for moral and material reparations and punishhments, with fresh guarantees.

Dr. Kapp, and later the regular Government of Germany, had asked permission to introduce troops into the Neutral Ruhr zone, the Premier said, adding:

"If the Allies permitted such derogation of the treaty, what assurance could they have that the troops would quit the zone when order was restored?"

M. Millerand concluded with the following words, addressed to Germany:

"You say you want to work. I do not repel the idea of economic collaboration. I already see certain methods, but there is one condition dominating everything—that you give proof of your good faith by executing the treaty you have signed. France is magnanimous, but does not intend to be a dupe."

"A Quality Cigar In the Size You Want!"

"IT'S a shame to throw away a partly-smoked good cigar, because you haven't time to finish it. That's one reason so many New Yorkers smoke 'In-B-Tween'—the quality cigar just long enough for a satisfying smoke.

"And lots of smokers prefer 'In-B-Tweens' to any cigar of any size. Because they are made from sweet and tender baby leaves of choicest Havana tobacco, 'In-B-Tweens' possesses a delicate fragrance which other cigars simply can't have.
